DEATH OF ARTHUR MASON KNAPP.

The death of Mr. Arthur Mason Knapp, Custodian of Bates Hall, in the Boston Public Library, occurred on Tuesday, December 27, at his home, 52 Montgomery street.

Mr. Knapp was born in St. Johnsbury, Vt., August 3, 1839. He became identified with the Boston Public Library in 1875, and in 1878 was placed in charge of Bates Hall. In this position he remained up to the time of his death. The funeral services were held on Friday, December 30, 1898.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW SOUTHERN TERMINAL STATION.

At noon on Friday, December 30, 1898, the new Southern Terminal Station, at the foot of Summer street, was opened for inspection to a large number of invited guests. The building was open to the public throughout Saturday, and on Sunday, the first instant, it was put in service for purposes of traffic.

Formal dedicatory exercises were held at 1 P.M., on Friday, the thirtieth ultimo, in the spacious waiting-room of the station. Mr. Charles P. Clark, President of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, who is also President of the Boston Terminal Company, presided, and spoke as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: On the fourth of January, 1896, less than three years ago, I was invited to meet the Hon. Josiah Quincy for the first time. During the evening, Mr. Quincy, elected but not yet installed as Mayor, insisted that the interests of the city required the establishment of a single passenger station upon the south side of Boston, and announced that, if possible, he intended to bring it about during his official term.

Representing in some sense three of the four railroads entering Boston on the south, and appreciating the benefits to them if the stations could be consolidated, I replied to Mr. Quincy frankly that it seemed desirable, also, from the railroad standpoint, and suggested that he confer with the Boston and Albany Railroad officials, believing that they would acquiesce, provided a suitable site could be found and equitable arrangements made.

Within the next six months this site was selected, a large proportion of the land acquired, the approval of the directors of the five railroad companies secured, this location approved by the Mayor and his counsellors, an agreement made that while the railroads should construct the station at their sole expense, the city itself should widen and make such changes in its streets as the situation demanded, and upon this basis Chapter 516 of the Acts of 1896, chartering the Boston Terminal Company, was passed by the Legislature and approved by Governor Wolcott, the Terminal Company itself organized, and five Trustees appointed.

These Trustees—Samuel Hoar, representing the Boston and Albany Railroad; Royal C. Taft, the Boston and Providence; Charles L. Lovering, the Old Colony; Francis L. Higginson, the New England, and Charles P. Clark, the New York, New Haven and Hartford—present for your inspection and approval to-day this station as the result of their best judgment, formed after one hundred meetings.

The first of July, 1896, found us under the excitements and anxieties of the last national campaign, but during the remainder of that year much land was acquired, many buildings occupying the site were demolished, and our resident engineer, Mr. George B. Francis, and our architects, Messrs. Shepley, Rutan & Coolidge, were devising the plans of what you see to-day. To these plans, which were approved by Mayor Quincy December 22, 1896, and by the Railroad Commissioners January 4, 1897, the Trustees gave personal supervision, and were materially assisted by the chief engineers of the interested railroads, Messrs. Shepard, Curtis and Bidwell.

The provisions of the terminal charter are such that its bonds have commended themselves to trustees and guardians. In fact, the greater part of the cost of this building, and of this land has been furnished by the depositors of Massachusetts savings banks, and the structure, therefore, stands for the property of the wage-earners of this Commonwealth.

The necessary funds being thus provided, and the plans approved, the actual work of erection commenced early in January, 1897, a little less than two years ago. That it has been diligently prosecuted must be evident to you all; that the contractors have done their work well must be apparent. And now the Trustees, engineers, architects and contractors unite in the hope that this Southern Terminal Station, fashioned as best we know, may, in the years to come, commend itself in all its arrangements to the judgment and approval of those to whose use it is to-day dedicated.

President Clark concluded his remarks by introducing His Honor Mayor Quincy, who spoke as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: We meet here to-day at the formal opening and dedication of a great building, unique in many respects, not only by far the largest structure in this city, but one of the greatest in the area which it covers ever erected by the hand of man anywhere in the world. This building, although under corporate ownership, is essentially of a public character and dedicated to the service of the people; it is appropriate for this reason, as well as on account of her necessary connection with the undertaking from its very inception, and of her financial contribution to the street changes which made it possible, that the City of Boston should be represented at these brief exercises. It is no small satisfaction to me, both personally and officially, that I am able to see to-day the substantial completion of the project of a Southern Union Station, which I advocated on assuming office just three years ago—with small expectation, to tell the truth, that conditions would permit its accomplishment—and to show to the citizens of Boston the great tangible result of the somewhat unusual official responsibilities which I have had to bear, as their representative, in connection with the planning and carrying out of this work. This great terminal station, laid out upon such a comprehensive scale, so liberal in its accommodations and so complete in its equipments, will hereafter rank as one of the great public buildings of this city—a source of pride to its citizens, an object of admiration to strangers.

The progress of civilization itself has been based very largely upon improvements in transportation, and the stage of development which a community has reached can be very closely measured by the facilities which it possesses for the movement of passengers and goods. Within the century, just drawing to a close, Boston has developed from a small town, with a stage line ending at a tavern, to a great municipal community, the centre of one of the most populous districts of the world contained within a radius of fifty miles, with this magnificent station to serve as a terminus of travel. Public buildings afford the most concrete expression of the life and character of a community and of its degree of advancement. The opening of such a structure as this will raise to a distinctly higher level the impression which Boston will hereafter make upon the traveller who visits our city, to compare it with others, for he will here find one of the very finest examples of a great passenger terminal to be found anywhere in the world, and the impression will be created upon his mind from the moment of his arrival that it must be no mean city which receives the stranger in such ample and dignified surroundings. Surely also some stronger impression of the importance of the metropolitan district in which they live, and of the magnitude of its interests, will be made upon the minds of those who will make up the great tide of travel which will daily pass to and fro through this station.

If this undertaking, now largely completed for use, is not wholly a Boston, or even a Massachusetts, one, it at any rate belongs distinctively to New England; and to my mind it will stand as a conspicuous monument of many of the qualities characteristic of New Englanders, which have enabled them and their children to play such a large part in the wonderful development of this great country to its present point. This has not been an easy enterprise at any stage, and it has only been the clear conception of a great opportunity, and an unfailing determination to grasp it, joined with financial courage and engineering ability of the highest order, which have enabled us to dedicate this station to-day. Narrow-minded men would not have been able to comprehend the problem, timid men would not have dared to assume the necessary responsibilities, weak men would not have been strong enough to carry them, corrupt men would have abused their trust. It is because those connected with this enterprise, in so many different capacities, were types of New England character, of her enterprise and courage, of her solid strength and rugged honesty, that this station stands completed here to-day. The voice of the detractor and calumniator, of the small man who is unable to do any constructive work himself, and whose largest conception is that of obstructing the work of others, can indeed never be wholly silenced; but his feeble note will soon be drowned by the noise of the trains which will daily enter and leave this station, with their tens of thousands of passengers, and he cannot tear down what other hands have built.

This terminal station may well be regarded as a striking example of the great results which can be brought about through the force of co-operation. It represents, first, the co-operation of five distinct corporations, and then co-operation between them as an association, and the public, represented by the City and the State. Without the voluntary union of the railroads concerned, this enterprise would never have had its inception; without the support of the City, represented by its executive, and the State, through its Legislature, it could never have been carried to completion. In looking back, it seems extraordinary that all the conditions essential to success could be realized, that all these necessary interests and authorities could be induced to co-operate and work in harmony. Yet the visible result is before us, and tells us that this has been accomplished. The work is done, and with the beginning of the new year this building will begin to serve the public purposes for which it was conceived to which we now dedicate it.

In ancient and mediæval times the city was surrounded by a wall, to keep out enemies and unwelcome visitors, and strangers could only enter through a gate; from which it arose that the freedom of the city was bestowed with formality, and received as a privilege, or as a mark of honor. In this age the old spirit of exclusiveness has been largely broken down, and a modern city, instead of fortifying itself behind walls, throws open every avenue of approach, and invites everyone in the world to enter its limits. In place of the old city-gate, through which the stranger could pass only by permission, we open to-day in Boston this wide and spacious gateway of unrestricted travel, and we invite all the world to pass freely through it, and to enjoy the full freedom of the City of Boston.

MINORS' LICENSES.

"School Document No. 13, 1898," contains the annual report of the Committee on Truant Officers. The Committee deems it unnecessary to carry out its original intention of preparing a report containing a summary of the Acts of the Legislature of 1898, concerning the employment of children and their attendance at school, inasmuch as the State Board of Education has recently issued a circular, which substantially covers the ground. Therefore the present report is devoted to the consideration of minors' licenses.

Following is a summary of the report:

On May 2, 1898, the following order was passed by the Board of Aldermen:

Ordered, That until otherwise ordered by this Board, no license shall be required for the sale of newspapers by minors, and the provisions of Chapter 2 of the Revised Regulations of 1892 are hereby suspended, so far as they relate to the selling of newspapers.

On September 6 an order was passed, "providing that the suspension of said regulation (as above) shall apply only during active hostilities in the present war."

In reply to an inquiry as to the effect of such unrestricted opportunity upon school-boys engaged in the sale of newspapers, Mr. Webster, Master of the Eliot School in North Bennet street, reported that he was of the opinion "that the epidemic of juvenile crime prevailing for the past few months in this district is largely the outgrowth of the order passed last May by the Board of Aldermen, whereby minors were allowed, without restriction, to sell papers. During my experience for a period of twenty-eight years in this school, I have never known a time when so many cases of theft, burglary and pocket-picking by pupils of the school occurred as have come to my notice during the past few months."

The Revised Regulations of 1892, in respect to minors' licenses, provide that no minor shall, in any street or public place in the City of Boston, work as a bootblack, or sell or expose for sale any newspapers, etc., unless he has a minor's license, granted to him by the Mayor and Aldermen, and issued to him by the Clerk of Committees, nor unless he complies with the terms of said license.

If the minor is under fourteen years of age, his application shall be accompanied by the certificate of the principal of one of the public schools, or of some regularly established school in the City of Boston, approved by the Committee on Licenses of said city, that such minor is an attendant at such school.

Every such license granted to a minor shall be issued and accepted on the condition that the minor shall comply with the terms inserted in the license, and if any minor violates any of said terms his license and badge shall be taken away, and he shall be fined.

It is set forth in the minors' license that he shall, so long as he continues under the age of fourteen years, attend during every session thereof one of the public schools, or some regularly established school in the City of Boston, approved by the Committee on Licenses of said city; shall surrender his license and badge to the Clerk of Committees of said city, when notified that his license has been revoked; shall not transfer or lend his license or badge, nor furnish any unlicensed minor with newspapers or other articles to sell; shall not sell newspapers in or on a street car or any part of a street other than the sidewalk; shall not work as a bootblack, or sell newspapers unless he is over ten years of age; shall not allow any unlicensed minor to assist or accompany him, nor at any time while so working or selling fail to wear conspicuously in sight the badge furnished to him by the Clerk of Committees, nor fail to exhibit his license to any police or other officer of said city, if requested by him so to do.

In order to determine to what extent the law is complied with by pupils in the public schools, the Superintendent sent out a circular of inquiry to the principals of grammar schools where boys attend.

The replies received in response to this circular show that in forty-six grammar schools there were 1,489 holders of minors' licenses, of whom 967 were under fourteen years of age; that there were 212 under ten years of age engaged in selling newspapers, and that the number of bootblacks and newsboys without a license was 945.

If the question, "How many of these licenses are valid?" that is, issued within the year, had been added to the circular, it would have been found that many more than 945 boys are so engaged. The answer to this question, with regard to the number of valid licenses, by one school alone, swells the number of boys in school who are working as bootblacks and newsboys without a license from 945 to 1,023, as shown by the following reply from Mr. Webster, Master of the Eliot School:

"In addition to the foregoing, permit me to say that my canvass shows that of the boys now attending school, 375 are engaged in paper-selling and bootblackening, and of this number only 253 have a license. Further investigation shows that not more than seventy-five licenses are valid; that is, not more than that number have been issued during the past year; the balance were issued two, three or more years ago, and have not been called in or renewed."

Attention is called to the alarming increase of gambling by newsboys. It is not an infrequent sight to see groups of them in alleys and side streets engaged in "shooting craps." The money they make by selling papers or blacking boots furnishes the resources of the "bank."

A strong effort was made some years ago to have the regulations enforced, but with little or no result. True, the "police or other officers" of the city are authorized to enforce them; it is only fair to them that the difficulties of enforcement shall be reduced to a minimum.

It is provided that the badge, given with a license, shall be worn "conspicuously in sight." The same shape and style of badge has been given out for years, until there are, as variously estimated, from three to five thousand of them in circulation to-day, so that a badge has come to be but the flimsiest evidence that the owner of it has a license, and the police know it. When the badge becomes valid evidence that its possessor has a license behind it then there will be no trouble in enforcing the law.

The remedy is simple—change the style of badge every year. Let it bear some distinctive mark to identify the occupation, as "N" for newsboy, or "B" for bootblack, together with the year of issue and number of license.

So intimately is the work in the public school connected with the issuing of licenses that there seems to be no good reason why these licenses should not be under the control of the School Board, in order that they may keep a careful watch over the holders of them and safeguard them from any danger which these licenses may involve. The School Board issues "working certificates," why not minors' licenses, so far as they relate to children of school age?

The following statistics are appended to the report:

The Massachusetts Legislature for 1899 organized on January 4. Hon. George E. Smith was re-elected President of the Senate and Hon. John L. Bates was re-elected Speaker of the House. Mr. Henry D. Coolidge and Mr. James W. Kimball were re-elected Clerks of the Senate and House, respectively, as were also Rev. Edmund Dowse and Rev. D. W. Waldron re-elected Chaplains. Captain John G. B. Adams was chosen Sergeant-at-Arms of both bodies.

INVESTIGATION OF THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

The following letter was sent by His Honor the Mayor to the secretaries of the Boston Society of Architects, the Boston Real Estate Exchange, the Master Builders' Association, and the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters:

December 29, 1898.

DEAR SIR: I desire to invite your body to join in the organization of a Commission of four persons to examine into the organization, administration, system and methods of the Building Department, with the purpose of ascertaining whether deficiencies exist in it which should be remedied, and whether its service can be in any manner improved or perfected, whether by changes in the laws or ordinances or without such changes. I propose to form this Commission by inviting the Real Estate Exchange to recommend to me three lawyers, the Boston Society of Architects to recommend three architects, the Master Builders' Association to recommend three builders, and the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters to recommend three of its members, from each of which lists of three I will select one name, so that the Commission will consist of a lawyer, an architect, a builder and an underwriter. This method of forming the proposed Commission is similar to that now established by the law governing the appointment of the Art Commission, so far as the selection by the Mayor of one of three names submitted by an organization is concerned. Will you please inform me, when the matter can be conveniently acted upon, whether your body is willing to join in the formation of a Commission of this character in the manner proposed?

The members of the Commission probably could not be paid for their work, but the necessary expenses incurred in conducting their inquiry could doubtless be provided for by the city.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON PAYMENTS.

City Treasurer Turner made the following payments for the City of Boston on January 1, 1899, amounting in the total to $3,316,729.21:

On Mayor's Draft:
General expenses,	$309,692 11
City debt becoming due January 1, 1899	2,185,000 00
	$2,494,692 11
Interest on all classes of debt	673,098 15
County Draft:
General expenses,	$84,938 95
County debt becoming due January 1, 1899	64,000 00
	$148,938 95
	$3,316,729 21

There was remitted to London on the fifteenth instant the sum £28,200 to meet the payment of interest and sinking-fund requirements due there on January 1, 1899.

QUARTERLY INSTITUTIONS CONFERENCE.

The regular quarterly conference of the Institutions Departments was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, December 28, at 3 o'clock.

The following were present:

Mr. Horatio A. Lamb and Mr. John O'Hare, of the Trustees for Children; Dr. Henry C. Baldwin, of the Insane Hospital Trustees; Miss Frances R. Morse, of the Pauper Institutions Trustees; Mr. William P. Fowler, of the Overseers of the Poor; Mr. Ernest C. Marshall, of the Penal Institutions Department. Mayor Quincy was also present.

Mr. Fowler, for the Overseers of the Poor, reported that sixty-four more orders for groceries were given out last month than during the same month last year, which he considered a good showing for the Department; the increase being only normal.

Miss Morse, for the Pauper Institutions Trustees, submitted the following report:

The Pauper Institutions Trustees have no new subject to present to the current meeting, but only desire to report general progress and, on the whole, a satisfactory state of affairs in the institutions under their care. In particular the condition of the Charlestown Almshouse has been much improved of late. Repairs long needed have been made, especially in the laundry and the kitchen, new floors have been laid in some of the corridors and the men's meeting-room, and the Superintendent, physician and other officers seem to be efficient and successful in their administration of Charlestown as an almshouse for women and aged couples. The inmates appear cheerful and well cared for.

The soldiers have all gone from the hospital on Long Island, and the almshouse there is now receiving its usual autumn increment of population. By the employment of an executive agent it has been possible to scrutinize, more carefully than hitherto, the character of this increment which consists in part of "rounders," well deserving of careful investigation. Some of these cases have been studied in detail by Mr. Field, whose results are interesting and important, and when completed may be presented in detail at some future conference. Mr. Field has also done much to further the business part of the work of the Trustees, and his appointment has relieved them of much exacting detail, thus leaving them freer than before to attend to the larger problems of their Department. Extensive alterations and repairs have been made during the quarter in the office of the Board and also in and about the buildings at Long Island. The great storm of November 27-29 damaged the wharf on Long Island, blew down a number of trees—which will be missed—and injured somewhat roofs, chimneys and other parts of buildings. But on the whole the damages were relatively moderate.

Mr. Marshall, for the Penal Institutions Department, reported that everything was going along quietly—that the institutions sustained some damage from the storm of November 27—and that on last Saturday the lowest point in the year was reached in respect to population.

For the Institutions Registration Department he reported that that Department had been preparing a series of charts, showing the population of the institutions under the care of the city and county, and a comparison of their population with the mean temperature, and also with the condition of business as shown by the report of weekly failures, furnished by Bradstreet, which charts are placed on the walls of the Department. These charts it is proposed to photograph at the end of the year and have them printed in THE CITY RECORD for permanent preservation. It is proposed also to extend this work to the Overseers of the Poor Department in order that the number of people who have been aided by that Department may be shown weekly.

Mr. Lamb, for the Trustees for Children, reported that since the last meeting of the Conference Marcella-street Home had been closed and there were now no children there. The property is in charge of a former engineer, who lives in a cottage adjoining it. The number of applications has fallen off a great deal. The change from the placing out of the children in Marcella-street Home has worked remarkably well, and the Board is very much pleased with the condition of the children who have been taken out and placed in the country. Mr. John C. Anthony has been chosen as the new Superintendent at Rainsford Island, and he will begin his work on January 2. At the Parental School a number of changes in the teachers have been made. Six teachers are now employed; they are all of the public school grade, and the same salaries are paid as in the Boston public schools. The new Superintendent at the Parental School is doing well.

There are many families applying for children for whom board is to be paid, both Protestant and Catholic. More than half the children in the care of the Department are paid for at a regular rate of $2 a week. In the case of difficult children the sum of $2.50 a week is paid, and in one or two instances even more than that, where the children are extremely difficult to manage. The population has run down, and, on the whole, the placing out of children is actually an economy.

Dr. Baldwin, for the Insane Hospital Trustees, reported as follows:

For the three months just passed the Insane Hospital Department has had no history. There are to-day 561 patients at the Boston Insane Hospital, and about 165 patients with Boston settlements boarded in the State institutions.

At Austin Farm an old wooden building, originally the almshouse for female paupers, which has always been regarded by the Trustees as an unsafe and unsuitable structure, was absolutely condemned by the State Board of Insanity.

The City Council has granted permission to close the building, and about 100 patients will be transferred to State institutions as soon as the State Board of Insanity can arrange for their transfer. The Insane Hospital Trustees entirely concur in the statement of the State Board of Insanity that "the general conditions of the buildings, both at the Austin and Pierce Farms, were found to be below the standard of modern attainment in similar institutions." That such a criticism can justly be made of one of the most important city institutions is the strongest argument in favor of immediate and adequate provision for the proper development of that institution. With a view to this development, studies of the land available for hospital purposes have been made by a competent landscape gardener and the City Engineer, and plans prepared upon the basis of these studies for a hospital which can accommodate all the insane of the city.

An Advisory Committee, consisting of Drs. Edward Cowles of the McLean Hospital, Charles P. Bancroft of the New Hampshire Insane Hospital, W. A. Gorton of the Butler Hospital, Rhode Island, H. B. Howard of the Massachusetts General Hospital, and Owen Copp of the Hospital for Epileptics, Palmer, Mass., kindly visited the Boston Insane Hospital and inspected the plans. These gentlemen believe that there should be a metropolitan hospital in which all the insane of Boston can be cared for. They approve of the present location of the hospital and of the plans submitted for its further development.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

A regular meeting of the School Committee of Boston was held in the School Committee Chamber, Mason-street Building, at 7:30 P.M., Tuesday, December 27, 1898. President Huggan occupied the chair. All the members were present except Mr. Anderson.

The Chair stated that the question was on approving the appointments, confirmations and transfers presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting, with the exception of that of Augustine L. Rafter as Master of the Martin School, which appointment required approval by ballot.

It was ordered that the Board authorize the employment of additional teachers in excess of the number or rank allowed under the rules, as presented by the Superintendent at the last meeting.

Augustine L. Rafter was chosen Master of the Martin School, and F. A. Fernald was elected Master of the Evening High School, with rank of Head Master.

The following orders, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, were passed:

(1.) That the salary of the janitor of the Aberdeen District Primary School be fixed at the rate of $480 per annum, from January 1, 1899, until otherwise ordered.

(2.) That there be paid to Wallace C. Boyden the sum of $37.50 per month, from October 1, 1898, to September 1, 1899, in addition to his regular salary as Master of the Normal School for extra services occasioned by the absence of the Head Master.

(3.) That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with the Fuller & Warren Warming and Ventilating Company, in

(7.) That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with James Fagan, in the sum of $81,670, for erecting a grammar school-house on Quincy and Perth streets, Dorchester, said Fagan being the lowest bidder.

The Superintendent of Schools reported the resignation of one teacher, which was accepted; and the honorable discharges of two teachers from the Marcella-street Home, which were laid over under the rule.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Superintendent of Schools, the Board approved, under suspension of the rules, the appointments of two temporary teachers, the re-appointments of seven temporary teachers, the appointments of three teachers on probation, the transfer of one teacher, and confirmed the permanent appointments of four teachers. Seven teachers were granted leave of absence; the Superintendent recommended nine temporary teachers for re-appointment, and two teachers for appointment on probation,—his recommendation accompanied by a written statement of his request for suspension of the regulations. Under a suspension of the rules the employment of the teachers named was approved by the Board.

The Superintendent reported the following recommendations in relation to the Normal School.

1. That the number of pupils admitted to the Normal School in September, 1899, and thereafter, be limited to seventy-five, these to be selected from properly qualified applicants by means of a competitive examination.

2. That applicants, in order to be admitted to the competitive examination, must show—

(a) That they are residents of Boston.

(b) That they have completed a four years' course of study in a Boston High School or an equivalent course of study elsewhere.

(c) That their scholarship marks during the last year of their High School course have not averaged below the standard of "good" as recognized by the Board of Supervisors.

(d) That they are physically well and strong.

3. That all these seventy-five pupils, or as many of them as satisfactorily complete the two years' course of the Normal School in June, be placed the following September in the grammar, primary or kindergarten schools of the city, there to serve three months; then, all changing districts, three months longer; and then, all again changing districts, for the remainder of the year.

4. That for this first year's service a moderate salary, say $300, be paid.

5. That Supervisors and Principals be required to observe and report upon this first year's service; these reports together with the records made in the Normal School, to be the basis for forming a merit list from which permanent appointments shall be made during the second year and thereafter.

On motion of Mr. Strange, it was ordered that the communication be printed and referred to the next School Board.

It was ordered (1) that the Superintendent of Streets be requested to asphalt the street in front of the Dudley School-house.

(2.) That there be paid to H. S. Dudley for the Denison House Association the sum of $25 for cleaning and heating the Denison House Kindergarten from September 6, 1898, to December 23, 1898.

(3.) That 2,000 copies of the Report of the Committee on the Annual Report for 1898 be printed.

(4.) That His Honor the Mayor be requested to take such action as shall cause licensed minors to receive badges which shall show the year of issue, the number of the corresponding license, a letter or device indicating the nature of the occupation in which the licensee is engaged, and to also cause the shape or style of such badges to be changed from year to year in order that it may be determined by casual inspection whether or not the wearers possess valid, unexpired licenses.

(5.) That Gardner P. Balch, Sub-Master in the Eliot District, be placed upon the second year of service in his rank, to date from September 6, 1898.

Mr. Eaton, for the Committee on New Buildings, submitted a report, of which the following is a summary:

Number of children excluded from school because of lack of room:

Grammar	8	Total.
Primary	238
Kindergarten	282
	528

Number of pupils in hired rooms:

Grammar	576
Primary	855
Kindergarten	817
	2,248

Number of pupils in halls, corridors, etc., not intended for use as class-rooms (Normal, Latin and High Schools not included) 1,267

In a report presented to the Board at the meeting of November 8, your Committee included a statement showing all the appropriations made from the various amounts granted by the Legislature for new school buildings and sites, and called attention to the fact that no additional funds are available after the current year for the building of new grammar or primary school-houses. Your Committee also stated that the amount paid this year for hired rooms and buildings will approximate $30,000 or 4 per cent. on $750,000, and recommend that application be made to the Legislature for authority to expend $500,000 annually during the ensuing five years for additional grammar and primary school accommodations. The average annual increase in the number of children in school during the five years 1892-97 has been 2,002, and for the past year the total increase in the number belonging has been 3,445, of whom 1,323 belonged to the grammar, 1,250 to the primary schools, and 510 to the kindergartens, a total of 3,083 for these schools. To accommodate these pupils would take, as stated in the latest report of the Superintendent, two grammar school-houses, and enough primary school-houses of various sizes to contain thirty-five rooms.

During the five years 1890-95 the average expenditure for school accommodations for each additional pupil belonging was $266.86. For 3,083 additional pupils at this rate, the expenditure would be $822,729.38. For the three years 1895-98, during which time all new buildings with the exception of those already begun under the administration of the former City Architect, have been built under the direction of the School Committee from funds granted by the Legislature, the cost for each additional pupil has averaged $234.46, or a decrease in the rate per pupil of $32.40 from that of the preceding five years, but the rental paid for hired buildings has increased. The expenditure for 3,083 additional pupils at this rate would amount to $722,840.18. Should the annual increase in the number of pupils during the succeeding five years average but 2,000, as was the case during the five years 1892-97, the expenditure for new buildings to provide for that number at the rate which has prevailed since 1895, would amount to nearly $470,000 annually.

Your Committee, therefore, believe that their estimate that $500,000 should be annually expended during the following five years for new grammar and primary accommodations has been made on a conservative basis, and that at least that amount is needed for such purposes.

Mr. Allen, for the Committee on Accounts, presented to the Board the estimates as approved under date of December 28, 1897, together with a statement of the expenses incurred for the financial year 1898-99. (See page 6.)

Accepted.

Mr. Hubbard, for the Committee on Truant Officers, presented a printed report which was accepted. (See page 2.)

Nays—Aldrich, Allen, Bateman, Bowdler, Calderwood, Coolidge, Courtney, Davison, Eaton, Gallivan, Huggan, Keller, McDonald, Nichols, Paul, Strange—16.

On motion of Mr. Allen an additional sub-master was allowed to the Emerson District.

Mr. Seaver's nomination of Brennan E. Sinclair for the position was confirmed under a suspension of the rules.

On motion of Mr. Paul, for the Committee on Evening Schools, it was Ordered, That the operation of the provisions of Section 332 of the Regulations, so far as they require the holding of a general exhibition of the work of the Evening Drawing Schools, be suspended, and that there be substituted this year for such general exhibition local exhibitions in each of the five Evening Drawing Schools, the dates thereof to be fixed by the Master of the Evening Drawing Schools.

The following order, offered by Mr. Calderwood, was adopted unanimously by a rising vote:

Ordered, That the thanks of the Board be presented to Mr. Henry D. Huggan, the President of the Board, for the able, dignified, and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of the Board.

The Board adjourned without day.

The income estimated for the year was $36,000. This amount may be slightly increased, which will add still further to this year's balance available for expenditure the coming year.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

The final meeting of the year of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 4 P.M., on Thursday, December 29, 1898, President Connolly in the chair.

The following message from the Mayor was received:

Sale of School Lots.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, December 29, 1898.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

The School Committee recently appropriated a sum sufficient to erect a new school-house on Munroe street, and has made a contract for a new school building to replace the present antiquated wooden building. Not having legal authority to dispose of the old building and of 1,250 square feet of the school-house lot, for which it has no further use, the Committee has voted that these be surrendered for sale, the proceeds of such sale to be applied to the cost of the new building. I accordingly recommend the passage of the following order, prepared by the Corporation Counsel.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the present buildings upon the Munroe-street (Roxbury) Primary School lot, together with that portion of said lot fronting on Comins terrace, and containing 1,250 square feet, purchased in 1892, be placed in the charge of the Board of Street Commissioners to be sold, subject to temporary occupancy, during the construction of a new school-house on Munroe street, on such terms as may be approved by the Mayor.

The order was passed, and the message and order sent up.

Mitchel Galvin as City Clerk, John F. Dever as Clerk of Committees, and Edward J. Leary as City Messenger for the year 1899.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR.

Following are extracts from the Inaugural Address of Governor Wolcott, delivered before the Legislature of Massachusetts on January 5, 1899:

STATE DEBT.

In my last inaugural address to the Legislature I called attention to the recent rapid increase of the State debt, as shown by the following figures:

Net debt January 1, 1895	$4,377,663
Net debt January 1, 1896	6,140,380
Net debt January 1, 1897	10,766,648
Net debt January 1, 1898	12,462,378
To which may now be added the net debt January 1, 1899	13,598,964

An increase during the past year of $1,136,586

In this statement the net debt signifies the net direct funded debt of the Commonwealth, after deduction from the gross debt of the several sinking funds in the hands of the Treasurer, and also of the contingent debt, the latter being the amount of indebtedness incurred by the Commonwealth in behalf of certain cities and towns, and included in its gross debt, but which will ultimately be repaid to the Commonwealth by the municipalities which are the real debtors. The purposes for which the sums included in the contingent debt were expended are indicated by the titles of the several loans—metropolitan sewerage, metropolitan parks and metropolitan water.

An examination of the above figures shows that in four years the net debt of the Commonwealth has increased more than threefold, emphasizing the duty and necessity of rigid scrutiny on the part of your honorable bodies of all propositions to incur further indebtedness on the part of the State. The State tax of 1898 was materially lower than it has been for the past ten years, except in 1891 and 1895, and during the coming year can, in my opinion, be kept at the same amount, if due regard is had to a prudent economy in all annual expenditures which shall receive your approval.

STATE AID.

Your attention is invited to the fact that, under the provisions of existing laws, the payment of military and State aid to disabled and destitute soldiers and sailors of the War of the Rebellion, and to the widows and children of those who have died, is limited to the first day of January, 1900. It seems proper that action should be taken by the Legislature to extend such payment beyond that date, and provision should, in my opinion, also be made, under proper conditions, to extend like aid to the soldiers and sailors of the war with Spain, and to those dependent upon them.

MUNICIPAL LEGISLATION.

There appears to be among many of our citizens a growing tendency, without sufficient grounds of public necessity, to invoke the paramount power of the Legislature in the enactment of laws relating to the affairs or government of cities, and especially of the City of Boston. This results in the annual consideration by the Legislature of a great number of measures, many of them honestly intended by their promoters to cure serious evils, which are admitted by all to exist in the operation of our municipal governments, but which may have their source in causes far too deep to be permanently affected by such legislation, while others spring from a desire to meet some temporary exigency of persons or politics, which, without such legislation, time is likely speedily to remove.

In the case of the City of Boston, a great mass of legislation has been thus enacted, and the Legislature is asked year after year to add to, or make alterations in, that already existing. I think there is danger of this tendency constantly to seek new legislation being carried too far. It would often be better, in my opinion, to refuse such legislation, at least until a longer period of trial has afforded fuller opportunity to study the operation of existing statutes, and to determine what changes, if any, a ripper experience might show to be necessary.

Too frequent change in the system under which a municipal government is conducted tends to confuse the minds of the voters, and to weaken their self-reliance and determination to attain the best possible results under an existing system, while holding out to them the hope, not always realized, of improvement through legislative enactment, rather than through their own continued and earnest efforts.

When special laws of importance have been enacted for a single city, especially such laws as are designed to effect changes in its form of government, it has been the frequent custom of the Legislature to require that they receive the approval of the voters of such city, or of their elected representatives. Such action is, in my opinion, wise and salutary, and might with advantage be made a customary condition precedent to the enactment of all special laws affecting in an important degree the charter, indebtedness or other interest of a single city.

The paramount authority of the Legislature to grant to cities such charters as it may determine, and to make changes therein, even without the consent of their inhabitants, cannot be questioned from a legal or historic point of view. But, in my judgment, this authority should not be lightly invoked to impose important legislation upon cities without such consent, and should be exercised only with the utmost degree of deliberation, and in cases where the public good renders such exercise clearly and imperatively necessary.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

The great work committed to the Metropolitan Water Board has been advanced in an important degree during the past year. On the first day of January, 1898, the Board took from the City of Boston the Chestnut Hill reservoir and pumping station and all the other works held by the city westward of this reservoir, including Lake Cochituate, the Sudbury basins, the Sudbury and Cochituate aqueducts, and the Mystic lake and water-works. The use of the Mystic system as a source of water supply was forthwith abandoned on account of the unfitness of its water, which for many years had been fully recognized, but for which until then a remedy could not be applied. At about the same time Spot pond, with the adjacent pumping stations, was taken from the cities of Malden and Medford and the town of Melrose. In the following month a formal taking was made of the waters of the south branch of the Nashua river, above the site of the proposed dam in Clinton, and in March the water so taken was diverted through the twelve-mile aqueduct, then finished, into the Sudbury reservoir, at Southboro', and became available for the supply of the Metropolitan District. This has already resulted in a considerable improvement in quality, as compared with the water heretofore supplied from the Boston sources.

The metropolitan water district now comprises eight cities and seven towns, not including the town of Swampscott, which is without the prescribed ten-mile circle, but which, by special arrangement, will be supplied with water from the same source. The population of the district is about 850,000 inhabitants and is increasing rapidly.

During the past year the subway in the City of Boston, which had previously been in operation from the Public Garden and the Shawmut avenue entrances as far as Park street, has been extended to the vicinity of the Union Station on Causeway street; and, in accordance with the requirements of the act providing for its construction, the surface tracks upon those portions of Boylston and Tremont streets which adjoin the Common have been removed. The work thus accomplished, together with the construction of a bridge to Charlestown, which will be open to travel during the coming summer, complete the operations contemplated by the Act of 1894, creating the Boston Transit Commission and defining its authority and duties. Under this act the Board was appointed on the second of July, 1894, for a period of five years, and will thus have accomplished the work originally committed to it within the time then allowed, and at a cost materially below the estimates originally submitted.

In the meantime, however, new and important duties have been imposed upon the Commission, contemplating the construction of a tunnel to East Boston as well as of an additional subway under Cambridge street, and the making of such alterations in the subway already constructed as may be found necessary to adapt it to the use of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, a corporation the duties and powers of which were carefully defined by the Legislature of 1897.

To enable the Commission to perform the additional duties thus imposed, provision should be made for its continuance beyond the second day of July next, at which date, in the absence of such provision, its powers lapse by limitation. The benefit already resulting from this great work, which at its inception was regarded with misgiving by many, in promoting the rapid transit of passengers, and in removing the burden of street-car traffic from certain of our principal streets, is now almost universally admitted.

The loans outside the debt limit issued during 1898 were the following:

Sewerage works	$2,000,000
Laying out and construction of assessable streets	1,561,000

-------	-------------

The borrowing capacity of the city within the debt limit for the municipal year 1898 was $1,728,082.

The loans authorized by the City Council or by the Legislature during the year exhausted the whole of this borrowing capacity except the sum of $58,102.

The loans authorized by the City Council in 1898 inside the debt limit were for the following purposes:

Street improvements, extensions and construction	$544,980
Faneuil Hall, reconstruction	80,000

In addition, the Legislature added within the debt limit the amount that may be borrowed for South Union Station (Chapter 248, Acts 1898) 750,000

Total $1,723,980

The following table shows all the purposes for which debt has been issued during the last three years. Of course, this represents only the increase in the gross debt of the city, and is offset by the accumulation of the sinking-funds. It is impossible to assign the increase of the net debt to any particular objects of expenditure, and it is therefore necessary to use the figures of the gross debt in making any analysis of the causes of the increase. Of the total increase, the items for assessable streets, for sewers and for avenues, are very largely taken care of by special assessments. The item for rapid transit represents an investment, upon which a sufficient return to provide for sinking-funds, as well as for interest, is being received, and the item for South Union Station represents a short loan, which merely distributes this expense over the tax levy of a four-year period, while the item for schools is not under the control of the City Council or the Mayor. These items aggregate $15,257,500 of the total increase:

Rapid transit	$3,650,000
Street improvements, extensions and construction	3,169,280
Assessable streets	3,061,000

Miscellaneous	40,100
	$24,916,580

The total loans outside of the debt limit authorized during 1898 were the following:

Blue Hill, Columbus, Commonwealth and Huntington avenues, Chapter 236, Acts 1898	$750,000
Public Parks, Chapter 313, Acts 1898,	500,000
Completion of Public Library Building, Chapter 475, Acts 1898	100,000
Cambridge Bridge, Chapter 467, Acts 1898. No limit to amount.

The average valuation of property upon which the debt and tax limits for the year 1899-1900 are based has increased $22,897,113 over that of last year. The estimated borrowing capacity of the city for the coming year, after deducting the sum of $200,000 for playgrounds and $300,000 for schools set aside by special legislative acts, is $1,795,080.

Amount which was assessed under $9 tax limit for financial year 1898-99	$8,564,750
Estimated general revenue	3,488,234
Debt requirements	4,264,040
County expenses, exempt from tax limit	425,000

Total amount appropriated for the current expenses of the year	$16,742,024
Making the tax rate on the thousand,	13 60
Amount which can be raised within the $9 tax limit for the financial year 1899-1900	8,770,824
Increase over financial year 1898-99	206,074

All loans issued during the year were at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum.

Under the financial practice which has prevailed in the past, the City Council has appropriated early in the year the entire amount which could be raised within the \$9 tax limit, plus the estimated income of the city,—from its distributive share of the corporation tax, from charges made by various departments, and from miscellaneous sources. As the whole amount included in the tax levy is fully appropriated, although quite a fraction of it is not collected within the limit of the financial year, but remains outstanding, it is obvious that there is a balance which must be made up from receipts on account of unpaid taxes of previous years if the City Treasury is actually to receive in cash by the end of the financial year the full amount which has been appropriated. In the past the assumption that a certain average percentage of the taxes for the year would be actually paid into the treasury in cash by the last day of the financial year, January 31, and that the balance of the amount included within the \$9 tax limit would be received from payments on account of unpaid taxes of former years, has practically held good; but it is clear that if in any year the collections made prior to February 1, fall materially below the average, a deficiency is created, which can only be bridged over by an excess of income received above the estimates. It is unfortunately the case that for some reason or other, but through no fault of the Collecting Department, the collections for this financial year up to the first of January have been about $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. less than for the same period of last year; as the total assessment this year is \$14,262,000, this makes a deficiency in collections of about \$250,000 up to the present time. Of course, we may come up to the average percentage of collections before February 1, but this cannot be counted upon.

At the same time we are unfortunately obliged to meet a considerable shortage in income, as our share of the proceeds of the corporation tax alone has, owing to changes in State legislation, fallen about $60,000 below the amount received last year. We are further confronted with the difficulty that, under the new law fixing the expenditures of the School Committee, referred to below, the sum of $230,000 had to be provided to meet the amount of $2.80 on each thousand of valuation allowed for schools for the current financial year, in excess of the appropriation of $2,470,000, which had always been made. This additional sum could only be found by increasing the Auditor's estimate of income by including surplus water income, the amount of which was somewhat uncertain, and which it was very necessary to hold in reserve to meet such possible deficiencies in other directions as I have mentioned, as well as to provide for extraordinary contingencies in connection with the work of the departments.

On top of these difficulties the necessary expenditures already made by the Street Department for the removal of snow during the financial year, owing to extraordinary storms, have exceeded the average expenditures of other years by fully \$75,000, and there have been other unavoidable expenses incurred in excess of department appropriations—such as those of the City Hospital for the care of soldiers. It has also been necessary to make certain expenditures, some of them required by contracts, properly chargeable to loans, which the City Council has failed to provide for in that manner, leaving them to be met out of maintenance appropriations. Owing to these various reasons the task of closing the accounts of the city for this financial year will be one of unusual difficulty, and the requirements of the situation will at once be laid before the Board of Apportionment. There seems to be no plausible explanation of this deficiency of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. in the collections except that quite a number of taxpayers are awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court upon the case which has been brought to test the legality of the sewer assessments, before paying even their ordinary taxes; it is hoped that this decision will be rendered during the present month.

ASSISTANT CITY CLERK.

The following was received by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday, January 9, 1899:

The following letter has been sent to the Boston Society of Architects by His Honor the Mayor:

E. J. LEWIS, JR., ESQ., Secretary Boston Society of Architects, 7 Park street, Boston.

Such expert service as this committee may require in respect to an examination of books will be paid for by the city.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEATH OF WILLIAM M. NEWTON.

Mr. William Morrison Newton, Sub-Master of the Warren Grammar School, in the Charlestown district, died at Provincetown, on January 10, 1899, after a short illness.

Mr. Newton was born in Truro, Mass., in 1866. After graduating from Dartmouth College in 1889, he taught in the high schools of West Newbury and Watertown until he entered the service of the City of Boston, May 29, 1893, when he was appointed to the position in the Warren School, which he occupied at the time of his death.

APPOINTMENT OF CUSTODIAN BATES HALL.

Mr. Oscar A. Bierstadt has been appointed Custodian of the Bates Hall department of the Public Library, to succeed Arthur M. Knapp who died on December 27, 1898.

Mr. Bierstadt is a native of Boston, about 40 years of age. For twenty-five years he has been in the service of the Astor Library, New York. For years he has held there a position as Reference Librarian. He has thus held a position most nearly analogous to that held by Mr. Knapp in a library most nearly of the character of the Boston Public Library in its reference department, and dealing with a constituency very nearly analogous. He is an accomplished linguist, with a wide knowledge of general literature, and an expert bibliographer. He has a reputation for tact, patience, and skill in dealing with the public.

FREE LECTURES FOR THE PEOPLE.

That portion of the address of His Honor the Mayor, made on the occasion of the opening of the free lecture system in Boston in the old Public Library Building, Thursday evening, January 12, 1899, which relates to the establishment of the courses, is as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I esteem it a privilege, at the invitation of the Committee having the work in charge, to preside at this lecture, marking the establishment in this city of a new line of municipal educational work, which will, I trust, expand in its scope and usefulness from year to year. Of the giving of lectures it has sometimes seemed that there was no end in this community, and it may therefore seem to some like "carrying coals to Newcastle" to establish new courses of lectures in Boston. Yet I think the work of the very competent and public-spirited Committee, whose services I have been fortunate enough to secure, will demonstrate that the supply, at least in certain lines, is not equal to the demand, and that, without competing with any lectures which are now given, either for an admission fee or without charge, there is a large, almost an unlimited, field for the spreading of knowledge and enlightenment, for the higher education of the masses of the people, through courses of lectures maintained by the municipality. Indeed, it is only through the use of the facilities in the way of halls and school-rooms owned by the city, and through the greater interest which can be aroused in municipal work and the more comprehensive and continuous character which can be given to it, that the field can in any large manner be covered. The experiment of bringing the people to lectures has been fully tried, with results which are certainly of value; we are now entering upon the larger work of bringing lectures to the people. This is to be done by giving them, not merely in one central point to which only a comparatively small number can come, but at a score of places, scattered throughout the city. Where there is one person who can attend a lecture given at a central point, there are, we believe, scores who would attend a lecture given within a mile of their homes; our purpose is, by greatly multiplying lectures, and by bringing them into each neighborhood in the city, to vastly increase the audiences who will attend them, and to greatly enlarge the sphere of their influence. Therefore these lectures, although they are started to-night in this building—which has served such an important purpose in the past in the spreading of education through the public library, established here in 1858, and continued here until 1895—are intended not merely, or even primarily, for the benefit of those who live in the central part of the city, or who are able to come from a distance, but for those who cannot go very far from their homes during the evening, and within whose reach the lecture must be brought if they are to enjoy it.

This is, therefore, an undertaking to popularize adult education, to stimulate thought, to encourage reading and to promote enlightenment; it is not intended for the benefit of children, who are provided with their own opportunities for acquiring an education through the rich facilities afforded by our public schools of different grades, but for those who have passed beyond the school age, yet who are aware how little of the rich store of human knowledge can be taught within the walls of a school-room, who realize that education continues throughout life, and who are ambitious to add to their knowledge of the world in which they live, and to fit themselves to better perform as citizens their part in its government. It will be the endeavor of the Committee to make this process of continuing education interesting, even entertaining at times, as well as instructive, and to so choose the lecturers and the subjects as to enlarge the knowledge and broaden the minds of those who shall attend them, along lines which will really have some value and significance.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to heads of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

January 11, 1899.

Circular No. 52.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: I desire to call your attention to the accompanying extract from my recent Annual Address, and to request you to confer with me as to the insertion in your contracts of some clauses of the general character indicated before any more are made.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

In this connection I may refer to a class of questions which often arise in the award of city contracts. It sometimes happens that a firm or corporation regularly employing citizens of Boston, at full rates of wages, will be a little underbid by an out-of-town concern, which may be able to pay considerably less for its labor. Complaint is also made at times that Boston contractors employ men who are not even citizens of this country upon work done by them within the city limits, paying them low rates of wages. I am not a believer in the doctrine that the best results for the community are to be realized through the unrestricted play of the forces of competition, whether these operate within the sphere of capital or within that of labor, and the tendency of our time is now setting strongly in the direction of limiting competition in both these fields. While I believe that it would be an absurd and extreme application of the theory of protection to require all goods used by the city to be manufactured within the city limits and by its own citizens, I am disposed to go as far as to hold that some preference may well be given in certain lines of public work to concerns within the City of Boston, if the conditions are such that reasonable competition can be secured and fair prices obtained within such limits. In adopting such a policy, however, the city should in fairness give notice in its advertisements inviting bids that it reserves the right to give such a preference. I believe that it is also practicable to require in many cases that only citizens of Boston shall be employed by contractors, and that the full market rates of wages, as fixed by the trade unions, in case they are such a practical factor in the labor market as to entitle them to recognition, shall be paid.

Boston has remained behind many cities in this country, and some in England, in failing to adopt hitherto the policy of prescribing the terms and conditions under which contract work shall be performed, and I intend at once to try the experiment of inserting some clauses of this character in such contracts as seem reasonable to permit of it. I may mention, as an indication of what is going on in this direction elsewhere, that an ordinance has been passed in the City of Chicago, requiring every contractor with the city to employ in the execution of his contract only members of the various Trades' Unions, where these have an actual standing in the particular line of work.

A large gathering witnessed the launching of the new ferry-boat "Noddle Island" at the shipyard of William McKie, on Border street, East Boston, Thursday forenoon, January 12, 1899.

The order of the City Council authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to expend the sum received from this sale—seventy-one thousand dollars—for the construction of a new ferry-boat was approved by His Honor the Mayor on June 14, 1898.

The "Noddle Island" is of the double-screw type, and her length over all is 164 feet, 3 inches. Her extreme beam is 57 feet, and depth of hold 14 feet, 3 inches. She will be steered by steam power and lighted by electricity. It is expected that the boat will be completed by the first of March.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, January 16, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received :

Appointment by the Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint Henry L. Plummer a member of the Board of Overseers of the Poor for the term ending April 30, 1901, to take the place of Frederick W. Day, resigned.

Laid over under the law.

Use of Ward-rooms.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 16, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

In view of the growth of the practice of requesting the Superintendent of Public Buildings to grant the use of various ward-rooms without charge, and of the inability of the Public Buildings Department to meet such expenses out of its regular appropriation, I feel obliged to give formal notice to the City Council that it will be impossible to grant such requests in the future. The practice of granting the use of Faneuil Hall, waiving the fee, has been growing, but until the last few months it had never been the practice, I believe, to grant the use of ward-rooms without expense. Every time a ward-room is used it imposes a material expense on the Department for lighting, heating and cleaning, and as the Department has no funds for this purpose it becomes necessary to terminate this practice before it grows to larger dimensions.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

According to the annual report of the Massachusetts State Board of Health recently presented to the Legislature:

During the year 1898, public water supplies were introduced in North Andover and Billerica, and the water supply system in Huntington has been nearly completed. All the thirty-two cities of the Commonwealth and 130 of the 321 towns, now have a public water supply. The total population with a public water supply is 2,257,663, or 90.3 per cent. of the total population. The population with no supply is 242,520. Blackstone and Barnstable, each with a population of over 3,500, have no public water supply.

Boston, Chelsea, Somerville, Everett, Malden, Quincy, Melrose, Belmont and Watertown are now supplied wholly by the Metropolitan water-works, while Medford, Revere and Winthrop are supplied in part. Mystic lake has been abandoned as a source of supply. The Nashua river water is much better than that supplied to Boston previously, while the average color is reduced from 0.65 in 1897, to 0.41 in 1898.

The flow of streams last year was very much in excess of the normal for 24 years, and has been exceeded but once in that time.

Sewage disposal systems have been constructed in Andover, Longmeadow and at three large State institutions—fourteen cities and towns with a total population of 112,667 purify sewage by filtration through beds of sand and gravel.

The School Board of Manhattan and the Bronx, New York city, has been petitioned to open the playgrounds of the schools during Saturdays, from 10 o'clock A.M. to 4 o'clock P.M., in order to provide safe places of amusement and recreation for the pupils of the schools, and for the poor children of the city on the days that the schools are not in session. The petition also asks that the use of certain rooms in school buildings in the crowded neighborhoods be given for arranging reading-rooms and branch libraries.

The Presidents of the Council and Board of Aldermen have nominated commissioners who are to have charge of the modification of the building laws of New York city.

George A. Walker, Captain of Police Division 12, South Boston, died at his home, 68 Maple street, West Roxbury, Friday morning, January 20, 1899.

Captain Walker was born at Strafford, N. H., in 1842, and was appointed on the police force of Boston in 1874. In 1877 he was made a Sergeant and in 1885 was promoted to be Lieutenant. His last promotion occurred in 1888 when he was made a Captain, and placed in charge of Station 9. From this station he was transferred in 1891 to Station 10, and, finally, to Station 12. For twenty-three years he was Secretary of the Police Relief Association.

Mr. Wright, who was a graduate of Yale, after leaving college taught for a time in the English High School of Boston. In August, 1846, he was elected grammar master of the Eliot School. He resigned from this position in 1847, and took up the study of law at Harvard, and was admitted to the Suffolk Bar in 1850.

During the years 1856-1859, and again from 1864 to 1866, Mr. Wright was a member of the School Committee. In 1861 he became a Justice of the Boston Police Court, where he served until its abolition in 1866.

RESIGNATION OF THE TREASURER OF THE FRANKLIN FUND.

The resignation of Mr. Samuel F. McCleary, the Treasurer of the Franklin Fund, was presented to the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting, on Monday, the twenty-third instant. In the interval between 1791, when the Town of Boston came into the possession of the Franklin bequest of £1,000, and 1899, there have been seven treasurers of the Franklin Fund (see page 650, Volume I., THE CITY RECORD). Mr. McCleary's term of service from 1876 to 1899 was longer than that of any other Treasurer, excepting that of Mr. William Minot, which extended from 1811 to 1866.

The amount of the Franklin Fund turned over in 1866 by Mr. Minot to his successor, Mr. Frederick U. Tracy, was $117,692.32. In 1876, the fund had increased to $216,874.14. On January 17, 1894, when Mr. McCleary paid $329,300.48 into the City Treasury, there remained a balance, constituting the Franklin Fund proper, of $102,455.70.

On December 31, 1898, the Franklin Fund amounted to $124,631.36, and the amount in the City Treasury derived from the sum appropriated by the Managers of the Franklin Fund in 1894, for a Trade School, was $361,181.09. The total value of the Franklin bequest, on January 1, 1899, may therefore be set at $485,812.45.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

January 16, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS.

GENTLEMEN: I desire to secure quite a full set of photographs, suitable for reproduction in lantern slides, illustrating the work of the different departments—particularly any work of a novel or distinctive character—with the object of making it possible to give, as far as practicable, a pictorial view of the operations of the various branches of service which are maintained by this city. It is desired that these photographs should include views of such features of our plant as are of most interest, and also views of work in actual progress. They will be used both in this city, for the purpose of more fully acquainting our own citizens with the work of the municipality, and elsewhere, to exhibit the lines of municipal work in which Boston is able to make a creditable showing.

Please have this matter carefully considered in order that the photographs taken may be of real interest. The general charge of this matter has been placed in the hands of Secretary Kearns, of the Baths Department, 64 Pemberton square; he will confer with the heads of the different departments as to the best manner of carrying out this plan, and you are requested to co-operate with him.

Yours respectfully,

STREET DEPARTMENT EMERGENCY WAGON.

The following communication has been sent to the Board of Police by the Superintendent of Streets:

January 19, 1899.

BOARD OF POLICE,

37 Pemberton Square.

SIRS: I send herewith cards which I would respectfully request that you distribute to the captains.

I would say in further explanation—and this you might read to them at the Saturday meeting—that the emergency wagon is intended to cover such work as cannot be taken care of by the ordinary apparatus or appliances in use by the police. The men who respond with the wagon are what might be termed call-men, and must be summoned on call. The wagon therefore is not to be sent for except in cases that warrant sending for the men.

Of course in an ordinary case but a few men would be sent with the wagon; but in the event of a fire or other great accident, when a larger force of men is required, arrangements are made so that almost any number can be made available on comparatively short notice.

This card is intended for ready reference at the station-house, and I have arranged so that, through this Central Call Station, the various heads of divisions, foremen, etc., can be communicated with. It is therefore desirable, after working hours, that in the city proper, in case of minor accidents, such as flooded cellars, dangerous pavements, broken sewers, and the many other minor accidents which happen from time to time within the province of this Department to correct, notice should be sent to this Central Call Station; and such assistance will be rendered as may be possible at the time.

I think that, if the captains thoroughly understand the plan, it will work out to the mutual convenience of your Department, this Department and the public.

As I desire this wagon to be of as much service as possible, I would suggest that, if an officer is doubtful of the propriety of calling for the wagon, inquiry be made at the Central Call Station, and the man on duty allowed to decide as to the desirability of responding.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

The cards referred to contain the following notice:

TO THE POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS AND CITIZENS:

At all times, including nights, Sundays and holidays, by calling telephone "City Hall 25," the central call station of the Street Department, any branch of the Department (Paving, Sewer, Street-Cleaning, Sanitary, Bridges, Ferry, or Street-Watering) can be notified in case of need.

The Department emergency wagon is equipped with tackles, jacks, axes, bars, etc., and may be called to districts covered by Police Stations 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 and 16 when its services are actually required in cases of importance to public safety or convenience.

Other districts should call for wagon only in event of fallen building, fire, or other accident when the services of its crew and equipment may be needed to assist in saving life or property.

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.

January, 1899.

In regard to the above statement—a somewhat similar one being also sent to the Fire Department—Superintendent Wells desires to say that the public can also avail themselves of this central call station to seek the assistance of, or give information to, any branch of the Department. Formerly, after working hours, it has been with difficulty that certain matters, which might be important, could receive attention; as, for instance, the other night, owing to the bursting of a sewer-trap and the high tide, water was forced into the basement of one of the large buildings down-town. The fires were put out, and had it not been that one of the officers of the building sent personal word to the Superintendent of Streets, they could not have arranged to clear the basement of water in season for lighting fires or carrying on the work of the building on the following day. The Street Department, however, sent men and pumps, and at an early hour the fires were going, and everything was in readiness for the day's work.

It is not to be understood, however, that the Street Department is to be called upon at night to attend to matters that are trifling, or that can as well as not wait until the working-day comes; but there are times when it is important and desirable that some attention be given at night. In such cases, it is now so arranged that any citizen can communicate with the Department through the telephone (City Hall 25), and if the matter properly comes within the jurisdiction of the Department such attention as is possible and necessary at the time will be given.

Indiana's State debt is $2.16 per capita and the tax valuation is $451 per capita.

ASSESSED VALUATION OF REAL ESTATE IN NEW YORK CITY FOR 1899.

The Tax Commissioners of the City of New York, announced on the ninth instant the real estate valuation for the year 1899. The total increase for all the boroughs amounts to $421,512,876, or rather more than one hundred millions in excess of the anticipated increase.

Following is a comparative statement showing the assessed valuations of real property for the years 1897, 1898 and 1899. In the year 1898 assessments were made in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, but not in the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, hence the assessed value of real estate in the three boroughs last named is given for the year 1897:

ASSESSED VALUE OF REAL ESTATE.

Borough.	In 1897 and 1898.	In 1899.	Increase.
Manhattan, 1898.	$1,754,982,400	$2,062,361,475	$307,379,075
Bronx, 1898 . . .	101,585,523	123,987,520	22,401,997
Brooklyn, 1897 . .	570,107,742	614,807,025	44,699,283
Queens, 1897 . . .	77,486,225	108,371,885	30,885,660
Richmond, 1897 . .	24,371,551	40,518,412	16,146,861
Total	$2,528,533,441	$2,950,046,317	$421,512,876

In a sense the valuations set forth in the foregoing table are tentative, as individual taxpayers will be allowed to lodge complaints with the Tax Commissioners up to April 30, 1899. It will be the duty of the Commissioners, acting as a Board of Appeal, to act on such complaints before the first of June next, when the assessment rate for 1899 will be finally complete.

The Tax Commissioners explain the increase shown as follows:

We cordially invite all taxpayers to make their grievances known, and we promise to fulfil our duty and to work zealously to accomplish what the law requires, and that is just equalization. Consolidation and the imperative duty of equalization imposed by the charter is chargeable with this great increase in valuations in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, and the taxpayers of these boroughs can credit it with the placing on them of a mortgage of about three hundred million dollars a year for all future time, with a tax rate ranging from 2 to $2\frac{1}{4}$ per cent., equalling from six to seven million dollars a year, all for the benefits which may be derived (but which are yet in the future) from such consolidation.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The United States Civil Service Commission invites attention to the fact that from the examinations scheduled to be held on the dates mentioned, a large number of positions are to be filled at various places throughout the United States.

The Commission desires to obtain as many applicants as possible for this examination, so that it will result in the establishment of an eligible register sufficient to meet the needs of the service; and it therefore urges all persons who are qualified to at once make application for the necessary blank forms and full information relative to the examination.

Applicants are advised that arrangements will be made to examine them in any city of the United States (including Boston) where the Commission has a Board of Examiners; and that they will be given the examination if they will advise the Commission by letter or telegram, stating where they desire to be examined, in sufficient time to ship examination papers. They will be permitted to file their applications subsequently if necessary.

On February 7, 8, 9 and 10, 1899, examinations for ship draftsman and assistant ship draftsman will be held, four days being allowed for the former, and three days for the latter.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that it is desired to establish an eligible register for the position of Special Mechanic, office of the United States Superintending Naval Constructor, William R. Trigg Company, Richmond, Va., at a salary of $3.75 per diem.

No educational test will be given, but applicants will be graded upon their age, experience and character as workmen and physical ability.

No application will be accepted unless filed in complete form with the Commission prior to the hour of closing business on March 1, 1899.

The Commission also announces the fact that an examination has been scheduled to be held, beginning March 1, 1899, for the position of Assistant Inspector of Engineering Material, Bethlehem Iron Works. From this examination there will also be filled three vacancies in the position of Assistant Inspector of Engineering Material, Bureau of Steam Engineering (Navy Department), at a salary of $5 per diem each.

Persons who desire to enter this examination should at once apply to E. E. Stebbins, Secretary of the Board of Examiners, Post Office Building, Boston, Mass., for application blanks (forms 204 and 373), which should be properly executed and promptly filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C.

All requests as herein provided shall be filed with the Board of Election Commissioners not later than August 1, for caucuses relating to a State election, and not later than October 1, for caucuses relating to a city election. All divisions of wards into caucus districts shall be made on precinct lines as established at the time of the division, and whenever a new division of the territory of a ward is made or new precincts formed, then new caucus districts as herein provided shall be made to conform thereto. Whenever caucus districts have been formed as herein provided, the Board of Election Commissioners shall notify the City Committee of the political party affected thereby, and thereafter all calls for caucuses in said ward, and all nomination papers shall be made to apply to caucuses in the two caucus districts as they now apply to one caucus in a ward.

Sect. 2. In the City of Boston in the first caucus held in newly established caucus districts in the district lettered A, the caucus officers last chosen in the ward by the political party holding the caucus, shall serve until the expiration of the term of office for which they were chosen. In the district lettered B the caucus officers shall be appointed by the City Committee of the party holding the caucus, and at said first caucus, caucus officers shall be elected to hold office from the first day of October succeeding their election, and until their successors are elected.

Sect. 3. In the City of Boston each clerk of a caucus shall make return to the Board of Election Commissioners of the votes cast in caucus districts, in the same manner as is provided for making returns of the vote in the several precincts at elections. Said Board of Election Commissioners shall determine the result of the balloting, and within twenty-four hours thereafter shall certify the same to the President of the City Committee of the political party holding the caucus. The President and Secretary of said City Committee shall sign and file certificates of nomination for the candidates nominated, and shall sign and deliver credentials to delegates and all other persons elected and entitled thereto, as provided in Sections 93 and 144 of this act.

(a.) A permanent fund, made up of donations and legacies specifically given to said permanent fund, and a sum set apart by the Board of Trustees.

(b.) A reserve fund, made up of donations and legacies not specifically given to said permanent fund, and such other sums as the Board of Trustees may receive and direct to be paid into said reserve fund; and,

(c.) A general fund made up of amounts retained from the salaries of teachers under the provisions of this act, and the interest derived from said permanent fund and said reserve fund. The general fund and the reserve fund may be drawn upon for the purposes of this act by said Board of Trustees, in its discretion.

Sect. 2. The Superintendent of Public Schools in the City of Boston, three female teachers and three male teachers, also of said city, and holding positions in the public schools as instructors, and four members of the School Committee of said city, shall constitute the Board of Trustees. The Superintendent of Public Schools shall hold office in said Board ex officio, and the other ten members shall be chosen as follows: At the first annual meeting of the school teachers in the City of Boston, who are included in this act, which shall be held on the last Saturday of October, in the year 1899, there shall be elected by ballot one female teacher who shall hold office for a term of one year, one female teacher who shall hold office for a term of two years, one female teacher who shall hold office for a term of three years, one male teacher who shall hold office for a term of one year, one male teacher who shall hold office for a term of two years, and one male teacher who shall hold office for a term of three years, and a majority of all the votes cast shall be necessary in each case for an election. At the first regular meeting of the said School Committee of the City of Boston, in October, 1899, the said School Committee shall elect two of its number to be members of said Board of Trustees for a period of one year, and two of its number to be members of said Board for a period of two years; and annually thereafter at the first meeting in October, said School Committee shall elect two of its number to be members of said Board for a period of two years. Said Board shall organize by adopting rules of its own, not inconsistent with this act, and in case of a vacancy in its membership, shall have power to fill such vacancy for the unexpired term.

Sect. 3. Said Board shall have control of said retirement fund, investing the same only in such securities as savings banks are authorized by law to invest in. Said Board shall receive and consider all applications for annuities under this act, and shall determine, direct and order payment of the same. Said Board shall keep full and complete records of the receipts and disbursements on account of this fund, and a complete list of all annuitants, and shall make a report of the same at each annual meeting of the teachers in October. All necessary and proper expenses incurred by said Board in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall be paid out of said retirement fund, as voted by said Board. The members of said Board shall serve without compensation. If, at any time, any member of said Board shall cease to hold a position as member of the School Committee of said city, or as teacher in the public schools respectively, his or her membership in said Board shall thereupon immediately cease.

He shall receive such compensation for his services and clerk-hire as said Board of Trustees shall determine, said sum to be appropriated by the School Committee of the City of Boston.

Sect. 5. Beginning with the monthly payments in November, 1899, the City Treasurer of the City of Boston shall reserve from the salary of each teacher who has come under the provisions of this act, the sum of three dollars, and, in each and every alternate monthly payment thereafter shall reserve the same sum, and shall pay the sums so reserved into the school teachers' retirement fund, as herein provided.

Sect. 6. The City Treasurer, upon vote of the Board of Trustees, shall pay out of said retirement fund, in monthly payments, such an annuity to any teacher who shall retire, or be discharged from the service of the city, as the fund will allow and said Board of Trustees shall determine; but in no case shall a teacher receive such annuity unless said teacher has taught thirty years, and of said thirty years at least ten in the public day schools of the City of Boston, except as hereinafter provided.

Sect. 7. The City Treasurer, upon vote of the Board of Trustees, shall pay out of said retirement fund, in monthly payments, such an annuity to any teacher who has taught not less than ten years in the City of Boston, although less than thirty years in the aggregate, as the fund will allow, and said Board of Trustees shall determine, if such teacher has become incapacitated for teaching, and has been discharged from the service of the City of Boston; provided, that a certificate of such incapacity be furnished by the attending physician and a physician sent by the Board of Trustees; and further provided, that the annuity shall cease when the disability ceases.

Sect. 8. All annuities shall be uniform in amount, whether the annuitants are retired under the provisions of Section 6 or Section 7, except as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

Sect. 9. MAYOR'S CIRCULARS.

The following circulars have been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

January 23, 1899.

Circular No. 54.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

TO UNPAID BOARDS AT THE HEAD OF DEPARTMENTS.

GENTLEMEN: It seems to me essential, in order to insure responsibility and avoid confusion in administration, that it should be distinctly understood that the authority vested in unpaid Boards at the head of departments is to be exercised only through their proper executive officers, acting under the express authority of votes passed at Board meetings, or under the general authority pertaining to their several offices, or through the Chairman of each Board acting under its general direction and as its representative. A member of a Board has no executive authority as an individual official, and can only exercise a voice in the government of his department through the whole Board, acting as a whole. In other words, the charge and direction of a department is not divided among the different members of the Board at its head, but is vested in the Board itself, as an indivisible unit. No member of a Board has authority to issue any order, even though it may relate to a matter coming under the general charge of a sub-committee of which he is a member, unless by express authority from the whole Board, except that a Board may allow its Chairman a certain discretion to act on its behalf upon routine and minor matters, and subject to the ratification of his acts; all directions must emanate either from the Board itself, acting by vote, or from its paid executive officials. Any departure from this rule will inevitably lead to friction and confusion and impair effective and responsible administration, and it is expected that all members of Boards will strictly confine themselves within these necessary and proper limits in the performance of their duties.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

January 30, 1899.

Circular No. 55.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: Your attention is called to the appropriation for your department for the coming financial year contained in the maintenance budget, passed by the Board of Apportionment on January 28, and transmitted to-day to the City Council. As the latter body cannot raise the amount of any item, there is no possibility of an increase in the sum appropriated for your department; you are therefore requested to calculate at once a scale of weekly or monthly expenditure which will carry your department through the financial year upon the basis of such appropriation, and I feel it necessary to positively direct that your expenditures be kept strictly within this amount, whatever may be the restriction of the service of your department which may thereby be entailed. In the past the probability of a surplus income in excess of the estimates enabled the Mayor to allow a certain amount of latitude to the departments; this year there is no such surplus in sight, and the only possible manner in which any appropriation can be added to is by transfer from the reserve fund — and this is not to be reckoned upon, as it is only intended to meet extraordinary exigencies, and is very limited in amount. It must be distinctly understood that when any department has exhausted the amount of its appropriation, it will neither have any authority to incur, or any method to meet, any additional expenses, and its service will have to be entirely discontinued; the only way to avoid such an unfortunate result is to establish a scale of expenditure from the very beginning of the financial year which can be continued, — with due allowance for the variation in expenses at different seasons, — within the amount appropriated, to the end of the financial year.

I have reluctantly concluded, after full consideration, that the amounts of the department appropriations — falling, as they do, not only far below the estimates, but in many instances below the appropriations or expenditures for the financial year now closing — require some general horizontal reduction in the amount of all salaries, and of certain wages paid by the city. The situation obviously compels either the suspension of a considerable number of employees whose services are actually required for the proper operation of the departments, with consequent impairment of the municipal service and injury to the interests of our citizens, or a general reduction in the scale of compensation paid to officials and employees.

It seems to me clear that it is only practicable, or fair, to make such a reduction at a uniform horizontal rate, applicable to all of the departments. While I am aware that this will work hardship, and perhaps injustice, in many cases, I can see no other course; the necessity arises from the limitation of the tax-rate established by statute law, and not from any failure on the part of the Mayor, the Board of Apportionment, or the City Council to appreciate the financial needs of the various departments, as exhibited in their estimates, or as demonstrated by past experience. The question presented is not how much the city could wisely expend during the coming year, but in what way an amount limited by law can best be made to meet the various necessities and demands of the municipal service; the policy adopted has been that of making each department bear its share of the financial pressure, regardless of the character of the service rendered by it. I desire distinctly to disclaim any intention of expressing, or implying, the opinion that the scale of compensation now paid by the city is too high, or that it can be reduced with justice or with real advantage; my position is merely that this measure of reduction is necessary under the financial conditions which confront the city.

You are therefore directed to proceed at once to make a reduction of seven and one-half per cent. in all salaries paid in your department of one thousand (1,000) dollars a year or more, and of five per cent. in all salaries amounting to seven hundred (700) dollars a year and not exceeding one thousand (1,000) dollars, and also to make a reduction of seven and one-half per cent. in all wages amounting to three dollars and twenty-five cents ($3.25) a day or more, and of five per cent. in all wages not less than two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) a day and not exceeding three dollars and twenty-five ($3.25) a day.

In view, however, of the practical difficulties in the way of reducing the wages of certain classes of mechanics or laborers who perform work of just the same character as that performed for private employers below the full standard established in such employment—where there is such a recognized standard—and of the objections to having the city exert an influence to reduce any recognized scale of wages prevailing among private employees, I think it necessary to have certain exceptions made in the reductions of wages above ordered, and heads of departments will, therefore, confer with me before putting such wage reductions into effect.

It is expected that the reductions above called for will be made on the next payroll upon which it is practicable to make the necessary alterations in compensation.

While I have no legal authority to order the reduction of salaries paid to heads of departments, and established by statute or by ordinance, it is obvious that the same considerations which require the decreases above mentioned also demand a voluntary reduction, in the same ratio, in the salaries received by such officials. They are therefore, requested and expected to have their own rate of compensation placed upon the payroll with a reduction of seven and one-half per cent.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF THE SEWER DIVISION FORCE.

Superintendent of Streets Wells gives out the following letter and statement with regard to the temporary suspension of the Sewer Division force:

City Hall, January 26, 1899.

MR. C. R. CUTTER, Deputy Superintendent Sewer Division.

SIR: This is the last week of the financial year, and no appropriation having been provided for sewer construction or maintenance for the coming year, it is therefore necessary that all that portion of the Sewer Division force, whose services can be dispensed with, be suspended. This includes every one except such number of the office employees as may be actually required for the routine work, the force necessary to operate the main drainage works and to safeguard and care for the stables and yards, and such watchmen as may be necessary on construction work now open. You will take every precaution, in shutting down the various construction jobs, to protect the work from damage.

This suspension will take effect at the close of business tonight.

Yours very truly,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Superintendent Wells of the Street Department makes the following statement in connection with the above:

Under the Sewer Act, the expenditures allowed for six months of 1897 and the whole of 1898 were $2,000,000, while they cannot exceed $1,000,000 a year hereafter; the larger expenditure at first was due to the fact that a large amount of important work was in arrears and had to be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The number of men employed would now, in any case, have to be readjusted to the lower rate of expenditure by the act.

The sewer loan for the present year was duly authorized nearly two weeks ago by the Board of Apportionment, but it cannot go into effect, under the new law relating to the finances of the city, until thirty days from the date of its passage by the Board. If it were not for the fact that the whole question of the constitutionality of the Sewer Act is pending before the Supreme Court, the Street Department might be able to arrange to keep the men at work in anticipation of the passage of the loan; but the fact that there is a legal possibility that the Court will hand down a decision any day upsetting the act to a greater or less extent makes it impossible, much to the regret of the administration, to pursue such a course.

The entire amount of the balance of the sewer appropriation is substantially expended, or under contract, and it therefore seems necessary under these peculiar conditions to shut down all the work except that which is absolutely necessary, such as the operation of the main drainage works. It is certainly unfortunate that, with such pressing demands for the construction of sewerage works, this interruption in the work of the division should have to occur, but the Department feels that it has no control over the matter. It is hoped that a favorable decision by the Supreme Court upon the act will remedy the difficulty at an early date; or, if the decision is unfavorable to any features of the act, that the Legislature will pass some suitable legislation to provide for the continuance of sewer work.

LECTURES ON ART FOR TEACHERS.

Following is the text of a circular issued by the Superintendent of Schools in relation to lectures to be given by the Director of Drawing to teachers in the public schools of Boston:

TO TEACHERS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A course of Illustrated Lectures on Historic Ornament and Sculpture will be given by James Frederick Hopkins, Director of Drawing, in the hall of the English High School, Thursday afternoons, at 4.30 o'clock (5 o'clock when school closes at 4), on the following subjects and dates. The lectures will be repeated on Friday afternoons at the same time; they will average one hour in length:

"Classic Myths in National Art," Thursday and Friday, January 26 and 27, 1899.

"Egyptian Sculpture and Design," Thursday and Friday, February 2 and 3, 1899.

"Ornament of Ancient Greece," Thursday and Friday, February 9 and 10, 1899.

"Decoration of Imperial Rome," Thursday and Friday, February 16 and 17, 1899.

"Byzantine Design and Saracenic Decoration," Thursday and Friday, February 23 and 24, 1899.

"Chiseled Stonework of the Cathedral Builders," Thursday and Friday, March 2 and 3, 1899.

"Sculpture and Ornament of the Renaissance," Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10, 1899.

"The Making of an Artistic City," Thursday and Friday, March 16 and 17, 1899.

It will be the aim of these lectures to present the subject from the standpoint of the educator, to foster an interest in the recognition and study of ornament, and to further a wider use of the collections in our Museum of Fine Arts and Public Library by the workers in the public schools.

The course will be illustrated by the stereopticon and a special series of lantern-photographs, and will be free to all Boston teachers, but admission will be by ticket only.

All desiring to attend are expected (a) to enroll their names (on blanks furnished each master), and (b) to secure the Illustrated Syllabus of the course, which will be printed, provided a sufficient number are ordered, and furnished at twenty-five cents a copy (to be paid for on delivery in January).

(a.) Only 800 tickets can be issued for either the Thursday or Friday series, and in case a greater number of applications for either course should be received, an impartial adjustment must be made in this office.

(b.) It is our purpose to make the Syllabus of this course of lectures even more attractive than those of previous years. Besides the outlines of the lectures and a list of helpful library material, it is proposed to illustrate the publication with full-page reproductions of sculpture and ornament, together with numerous smaller illustrations decorating the text pages. In case a full edition is ordered, it is also proposed to introduce illustrations in note-book size of the examples suggested for the "Supplementary Picture Days" throughout the nine grades of our course of study. Extra copies of the Syllabus for friends may be ordered by any teacher.

Numerous applications for extra tickets were made last year by persons who were not officials or teachers of the Boston staff. In order to satisfy this demand and render justice to all concerned, applications may be made for such tickets and Syllabi as may remain after the Boston staff has been provided with tickets. These applications, which should be addressed to James Frederick Hopkins, Latin School, Boston, (inclosing an addressed stamped envelope), will be filed in the order of their receipt, and tickets and Syllabi furnished upon these applications as long as they last.

Attention is called to the teachers' tickets of admission to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, so kindly issued by the Museum. These tickets not only freely admit the holder at all hours the Museum is open, but they provide for the admission, under the same conditions, of four pupils when accompanied by the teacher holding the ticket. It should be noticed that the enrolment for this course does not secure this special ticket. Applications for new tickets, or renewals of those already held, should be addressed (inclosing an addressed stamped envelope) to General Charles G. Loring, Director, Museum of Fine Arts.

The teachers' card, issued by the Boston Public Library, may also be made a helpful feature in aiding this study of Historic Ornament and Sculpture.

Sinking-Fund and Principal	$66,287	$60,439	$60,439
Interest	130,280	127,210	127,210
Totals for city and county	$14,041,435	$14,663,994	$13,904,878

Interest	193,395	209,824	209,824
	844,877	791,992	791,992

The department estimates for 1899-1900 (excluding those of the Water Department, which are met out of the water-rates, and the estimates for interest and sinking-fund requirements, which are met outside the tax limit), amount to $10,584,345, including $9,573,945 for current expenses of the city and $1,010,400 for current expenses of the county.

The resources available to meet these estimates are:

- (1.) Tax Levy (limited to $9 per $1,000, of which $2.85 must be spent for schools) of $6.15 $5,993,396
- (2.) Tax for county purposes, limited to 425,000
- (3.) Auditor's informal estimate of income 3,261,833

Excess of estimates over resources 904,116

In addition to the above, $4,079,649 is to be raised outside the $9 limit for interest and sinking-funds, of which sum $3,892,000 are city debt requirements, and $187,649 for county debt requirements.

The total sum appropriated for current expenses of the city by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is $8,839,729, which is less than the appropriation asked for ($9,573,945) by $734,216. The estimates for the current expenses of the County of Suffolk amount to $1,010,400, and the appropriation granted is $985,500, or $24,900 less than the sum asked for. For city debt requirements, $3,892,000 were asked and granted; and the sum of $187,649, asked for to meet county debt requirements, was granted, making the total granted for debt requirements $4,079,649.

The aggregate amount of the estimates for current expenses of the city and county for 1899-1900 is $10,584,345, and the aggregate appropriated therefor by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is $9,825,229, or $759,116 less than the estimates. The total sum appropriated for current expenses and debt requirements of the city and county, taken together, equals $13,904,878, or $759,116 less than $14,663,994—the sum of the estimates.

The total appropriations for current city expenses in 1898-99 amounted to $8,752,395, or $87,334 more than the sum appropriated for 1899-1900. The appropriations for city debt requirements amounted to $4,067,473 in 1898-99 against $3,892,000 for 1899-1900, showing a reduction of $175,473 for the ensuing year. The sum appropriated last year for current expenses of the county ($1,025,000) exceeded the appropriation ($985,500) for 1899-1900 by $39,500; while the appropriation for county debt, which amounted to $196,567 last year is $187,649, or $8,918 less for the year to come.

The aggregate sum of the appropriations for city and county purposes in 1898-99 was $14,041,435, or $136,557 more than $13,904,878, the corresponding aggregate of the appropriations for 1899-1900.

The total appropriations for all purposes for 1898-99 included an appropriation of $2,700,589 for the School Committee, and amounted to $16,742,024. In the foregoing statements regarding the budget of 1899-1900 no account is taken of estimates or appropriations for the maintenance of the schools, which will be provided for out of the tax levy, in accordance with Chapter 400 of the Acts of 1898.

(1.) IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND AP-PORTIONMENT.

January 24, 1899.

Voted, That the Chairman notify the School Committee that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment will be ready on February 1 to receive and consider any applications for loans for school buildings, and that the Board believes that applications for such loans should be made to it rather than to the Legislature.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on New Buildings.

(2.) STREET COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

City Hall, January 18, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

The Board of Street Commissioners have to inform you that they have agreed with the Trustees under the will of D. W. Williams upon the sum of $4,107.60 as payment for 5,868 square feet of land on Munroe street at Roxbury, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, May 19, 1898 (taking recorded same day), upon said Trustees giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken, satisfactory to the Law Department.

Respectfully,

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Placed on file.

On motion of Mr. Anderson, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, the request of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Municipal Lectures that the distribution of announcements of the lectures be permitted in the schools was granted.

(3.) DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL STATISTICS.

January 13, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

GENTLEMEN: I am requested by the Board in charge of this Department to inform you that we shall ask your co-operation during the coming year in collecting certain statistics relating to school buildings.

We started an inquiry during the past year into the cost of maintaining the different school buildings, with a view of throwing some light upon the question of how far it is possible to establish a relation between the character and first cost of a building and the annual expense of maintenance. In order to gather anything of value on this point it is necessary to know what sums have been expended since the date of their completion on the various school buildings, and for what purposes. We have not yet been able to find any published information of this sort, the classification in the Auditor's report having regard to the character of the work performed, as plumbing, painting, roofing, etc., but not defining the buildings on which the work was done.

I think you will recognize that the information which we propose to gather will be of value, and I beg leave to suggest that your appropriation order for the coming year contain the following items among others:

1. Repairs and alterations of school buildings.
2. Salaries of janitors.
3. Fuel, gas and water; thus continuing the classification hitherto adopted by the Auditor; and to further suggest that your accounts be kept in such manner as to show what proportion of each of these items is properly chargeable to each individual school building. By so doing you will gather information which will not only be of value to yourselves for administrative purposes, but will also greatly facilitate the collection of statistics by this Department.

Very respectfully,

LAURENCE MINOT, Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on Accounts.

The resignations of six teachers presented by the Superintendent of Schools were accepted. The Superintendent of Schools presented the names of one special assistant and one temporary teacher for appointment, the names of six temporary teachers for re-appointment, of one teacher for appointment on probation, of twelve teachers for confirmation, and of thirteen teachers for transfer—all of which were laid over under the rules. Leave of absence was granted to seventeen teachers. Under a suspension of the rules one temporary teacher was re-appointed on the recommendation of the Superintendent.

It was, on motion of Mr. Coolidge for the Committee on New Buildings, ordered that from the total amount of $145,000 appropriated September 22, 1896, and February 9, 1897, out of the amount granted the School Committee, under Chapter 408 of the Acts of 1895, for West End School-house site, the following transfer be made:

To Munroe-street School-house, enlargement of lot, $4,107.60.

Mr. Davison, for the Committee on School-houses, reported for the approval of the Board the appointment of Charles L. Glidden as janitor of the Webb School from December 12, 1898.

The appointment was approved.

Mr. Coolidge, for the Committee on New Buildings, presented a report of expenditures which was accepted.

It was ordered:

(1.) That a kindergarten, to be known as the Paul Revere Kindergarten, be established in the Paul Revere School-house, Hancock District, from and after February 1, 1899.

(2.) That the kindergarten at No. 39 North Bennet street, Eliot District, of which Mary C. Peabody is principal, be discontinued on and after February 1, 1899.

(3.) That the Committee on Accounts be instructed to include in their estimates of the expenses of the public schools for the ensuing financial year, a sum not exceeding $250,000 for alterations and repairs on school buildings, and temporary accommodations for school purposes.

On motion of Mr. McDonald, for the Special Committee on Paris Exposition, it was Ordered, That the Committee on Accounts be requested to include in their estimate of the expenses of the public schools for the ensuing financial year the sum of $5,000, for the preparation of an exhibit of the work of the Boston Public Schools at the Paris Exposition during the year 1900.

Referred to the Committee on Accounts.

On motion of Mr. Coolidge, for the Committee on Accounts, the sum of $16.65, paid for tuition, was remitted to W. B. Sargent, formerly of Somerville, and the sum of $9.99 to F. A. Londoner.

Mr. Coolidge offered the following for the Committee on Accounts:

The Committee on Accounts respectfully represent to the Board that under date of September 13, 1898, it was Ordered, That the salaries of all persons in the employ of the School Committee during the month of August, 1899, be reduced 10 per cent. from the amount due them for said month, with the exception of those whose salary for said month will be less than $60. In computing said deduction no account shall be taken of any fraction of $10.

The Committee on Salaries, in their report recommending the passage of this order, stated that if a sufficient saving could be made in other directions, the amount deducted from the salary of each individual should be restored. In view of the fact that sufficient money may be available to carry on the schools without levying the assessment proposed, the Committee on Accounts would recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That, if in the opinion of the Committee on Accounts, it will not be necessary to carry out the provisions of order No. 7 in the schedule of salaries, as passed by the School Board under date of September 13, 1898, in order that sufficient funds may be available to carry on the schools, the said Committee be authorized in making up their estimates for 1899-1900, to disregard said order, with the understanding that the question of the reduction as proposed be left for future action by the School Board.

Passed.

On motion of Mr. Gallivan it was Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be requested to provide additional primary school accommodations in the Gaston District.

Mr. Gallivan offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Legislative Matters be instructed at once to petition the Legislature for legislation as follows:

To amend Section 6 of Chapter 241 of the Acts of 1875 as amended by striking out the words "order to be made," and inserting in place thereof the word "make," so that the Section shall read:

Section 6. The School Committee shall have full power to make on the school buildings any additions, alterations, and repairs for school purposes which it deems necessary; to provide temporary accommodations for school purposes; to select land and purchase the land required for school buildings and their yards, and to fix finally and conclusively the plans for school buildings to be erected, provided that nothing herein shall authorize said School Committee in behalf of the City of Boston to expend or assume to expend for such purposes any money in excess of the amount previously appropriated therefor.

Passed.

The Chair read the following:

January 24, 1899.

- (1.) MR. HENRY D. HUGGAN, President of the Boston School Committee.

DEAR SIR: I beg to tender herewith my resignation as a member of the Committee on the Third Division.

The question came on the adoption of Mr. Kiley's motion. Mr. Sullivan moved that it be amended by striking out the word "doings" and inserting in place thereof the words "action taken." Mr. Kiley raised the point of order that his substitute motion had been once amended, and was not therefore susceptible to another amendment.

The Chairman ruled that, as the substitute motion of Mr. Kiley had been accepted and the original motion withdrawn, it stood in the place of the latter, and was therefore subject to amendment.

Mr. Kiley called for the yeas and nays on the adoption of the amendment, and it was adopted—Yeas, 4; nay, 1 (Mr. Kiley voting nay). The motion was adopted as amended—Yeas, 5.

Voted, That it is the sense of this Board that its records should contain only action taken by the Board, and that they shall not embody any matters of discussion within the Board.

The question came on substituting Mr. Kiley's motion for that of Mr. Minot, and the Board refused to make the substitution; the vote on doing so being—Yea, 1; nays, 4 (Mr. Kiley voting yea).

The vote moved by Mr. Minot was passed—Yeas, 4; nay, 1 (Mr. Kiley voting nay).

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy requesting the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of $55,000 be appropriated, to be expended by the Board of Street Commissioners in making plans of territory or sections of land under the provisions of Chapter 323 of the Acts of 1891, and acts in amendment or addition thereto; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, under the provisions of said act, and acts in amendment or addition thereto, from time to time, at the request of the Mayor, bonds of the city to said amount for said purpose.

The communication was placed on file. Mr. Sullivan moved the adoption of the order. Mr. Kiley moved that further consideration of the matter be assigned to the next meeting. The motion was lost—Yea, 1; nays, 4 (Mr. Kiley voting yea). The order was passed, yeas, 4 (Mr. Kiley not voting), and was signed by the four members voting in the affirmative they certifying upon the original order that the appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

On motion of Mr. Barry, it was voted that the Mayor's recommendations on the annual estimates, together with the action by the Board thereon and the votes passed incidental thereto, be given to the press tonight.

Adjourned, to meet on Tuesday, January 31, at 4 P.M.

JOHN H. SULLIVAN, Secretary.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, a quorum being present, and Chairman Barry presiding, was held Monday, January 30, 1899, at 3 P.M.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Appropriation Bill.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 30, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith the annual maintenance budget as passed by the Board of Apportionment. It will be noticed that considerably more than half of the departments are given smaller appropriations than they had last year, and, consequently, it will be found this year more difficult than ever to conduct their operations with the appropriations, particularly as no surplus income, available for transfer at the end of the year, is to be anticipated. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has endeavored to apportion the available financial resources of the city for the coming year as fairly as possible among the different departments; but, of course, the total sum available for such distribution is fixed by law, and is beyond the control of the Board. I hope to present, later to the City Council, some analysis of the growth of the expenditures of the city, which will throw further light upon the situation presented by the budget for the coming year. I will only state now that the causes of the increased pressure upon the $9 tax limit are to be found chiefly in the larger proportion of the available revenue which has been assigned by law to the use of the School Committee, to the increase in the population of our city institutions at a more rapid ratio than the population of the city and its valuation have grown, and to the greater variety and better quality of the services demanded of the city by the citizens.

The expenses of the Police Department have increased faster than the proceeds of the limited tax levy, and in spite of the fact that the Board of Police is given power by statute to draw upon the City Treasury in excess of its appropriations, it seemed to me proper that this appropriation should be cut about in proportion to others, in the hope that the Board would be willing to do its part toward meeting the financial exigencies of the situation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

January 28, 1899.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year, beginning with the first day of February, 1899, of performing the duties and exercising the powers developed by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking-fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking-fund, the respective sums of money hereinafter specified be, and the same are hereby, appropriated for the several departments, and for the objects and purposes, hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Department, current expenses, and the payments to the State under the provisions of Chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest or sinking fund requirements for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income from said works; that the appropriation for maintenance of the Sewer Division of the Street Department, and for the interest and sinking-fund requirements for loans issued for sewerage works, be met with the sewerage charges determined as provided in Chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897; that the appropriation for the Street Watering Division of the Street Department be met with the assessments for watering streets laid under the provisions of Chapter 419 of the Acts of 1897; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1899, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year beginning February 1, 1899, and by taxes to the amount of $10,498,045, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury and then credited to the appropriation of the department or division rendering such service or doing such work, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations aforesaid, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, bonds, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston, not exceeding eight million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such bonds, notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon at the office of the City Treasurer within the current municipal year, from the taxes of said year, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as said Treasurer shall deem proper.

Appointment of Weigher of Coal.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR;

City Hall, January 30, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint E. W. Johnson a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1899.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over, under the law.

Veto — Use of Sammet Hall.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 24, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my signature an order instructing the Superintendent of Public Buildings to allow the use of Sammet Hall, Ward 22, to the Ancient Order of United Workmen, for a whist party on the evening of January 31, 1899, waiving the usual fee, for the reason that, as stated in my communication of January 16, the granting of the use of ward-rooms without any payment therefor imposes a material extra expense upon the Public Buildings Department, and one which it has no means at its disposal to meet.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The order was reconsidered, and the question came on its passage, the objections of the Mayor to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Referred to the Committee on Faneuil Hall and County Buildings.

Veto — Order to Box Tree.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 19, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith, without my signature, the vote passed by your Board on January 16, granting permission to L. Wingersky to box two trees in front of 51 Devon street, Roxbury, "for protection purposes only."

My reason for taking this action is that if it is merely desired to place a suitable guard around these trees for their protection, that can be done without any vote of your Board; while, on the other hand, if a sign is to be placed on the box, the vote of your Board would be illegal.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote granting leave was reconsidered, and the veto of the Mayor was sustained — Yea, 0; nays, 12.

Watering Streets by Assessment.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

It is necessary to make provision at once in regard to the watering of streets under the assessment plan during the ensuing year, and I, therefore, recommend the speedy passage of the accompanying order, which is the same in form as that passed by the City Council of last year, except that it includes the whole city, instead of a limited district. A petition will be presented to the Legislature requesting an amendment of the law, to authorize the division of the city into street watering districts, so that the service and the rate of assessment per front foot may be varied in different parts of the city.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Ordered, That all streets and portions of streets within the city limits be watered during the current year wholly at the expense of the abutters.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Veto — Use of Curtis Hall.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 27, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith, without my signature, an order authorizing the Superintendent of Public Buildings to allow the use of Curtis Hall, waiving the fee, on the evening of February 7, 1899, for the reason that, as stated in my communication of January 16, the granting of the use of this hall without charging the customary fee entails a considerable extra expense upon the Public Buildings Department, and one which it has no funds to meet.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The previous action of the Board was reconsidered, and the message and order were referred to the Committee on Faneuil Hall, etc.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held on Thursday, January 26, 1899, in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M. President Kiley occupied the chair.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

Reconstruction of Faneuil Hall.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 26, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I respectfully transmit, under the provisions of Chapter 434 of the Acts of 1898, the accompanying order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, under said act, on January 24.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

January 24, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT:

I request the passage of the accompanying loan order appropriating twenty-three thousand (23,000) dollars for finishing the reconstruction of Faneuil Hall.

Respectfully yours,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

January 24, 1899.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-three thousand (23,000) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Engineering Department to meet the expense of the electric lighting, plumbing, painting and plastering work on Faneuil Hall, and that to meet the said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the city to said amount for said purpose.

Passed, and we certify that the appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

JOSIAH QUINCY,

DAVID F. BARRY,

JOHN H. SULLIVAN,

LAURENCE MINOT,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

In connection with the above the following were sent to the City Council for its information:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 24, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT:

I herewith submit communications received from the Chiefs of the Electrical Construction and Architect Divisions requesting loan appropriations of eight thousand (8,000) dollars for electric lighting work on Faneuil Hall, five thousand (5,000) dollars for heating purposes, three thousand (3,000) dollars for plumbing work and seven thousand (7,000) dollars for painting and plastering.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION DIVISION.

January 24, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I desire to call attention to the fact that there is no provision for rewiring Faneuil Hall in connection with the work of reconstruction now in progress, and I am informed that the builders have reached a point in their work where it is desirable to have the work of wiring proceeded with. I therefore desire to ask whether a loan cannot be appropriated at once for this purpose.

Yours respectfully,

H. F. COTTLE,

Chief of the Electrical Construction Division.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, ARCHITECTURAL DIVISION.

January 25, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: As regards the reconstruction work now in progress at Faneuil Hall, I would say that an additional appropriation of $15,000, divided as follows, will be needed to properly complete the building:

Heating apparatus	$5,000
Plumbing	3,000
Painting, plastering, etc.	7,000
	$15,000

The original appropriation was but $80,000. When the advertised bids were opened Woodbury & Leighton were found to be the lowest, and the contract was awarded to them for the sum of $78,500. This contract does not include the heating apparatus or plumbing work.

In order to allow us to go ahead with the work and to give us a leeway on the appropriation, the sum for painting, plastering, etc., on the building, which would be the last work done, was temporarily deducted from their contract. This amounted to $7,000.

Respectfully,

F. W. CHANDLER,

Consulting Architect.

Assigned to the next meeting.

At the annual business meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers, held on January 18, Mr. Desmond FitzGerald, General Superintendent of the Western Division of the Water Department, City of Boston, was elected President of the association for the ensuing year. The total membership of the Society is 2,124.

At a meeting held recently in Chicago, at which the representatives of thirty railroad companies were present, it was decided to raise $100,000 for an exhibit at the Paris Exposition in 1900. It has been suggested that a large map be constructed showing the route of every railroad in the country by electrical devices, with elevations and natural features of the surrounding country.

A commission appointed to investigate railroads in Wisconsin reported that, with one exception, the dining and buffet-car service was not a paying investment.

MAYOR'S CIRCULARS.

The following circulars have been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

Circular No. 56.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

January 31, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: You were asked by Circular 51, dated December 1, 1898, to furnish your requests for loans for your department for the coming calendar year on or before December 31. Such requests have only been received from a portion of the departments. If your department has not yet sent in its requests of this character, please see that it is done immediately, as the Board of Estimate and Apportionment intends to proceed at once to give hearings to heads of departments upon their requests for loans, the first hearing for this purpose being fixed for February 3.

The requests for loans should specify as exactly as possible the purposes of the expenditures, and should be based upon actual estimates, as far as possible, and requests will only be considered where definite amounts are specified. Such requests for loans must be received by Monday next at latest.

Heads of departments will be notified of the times at which they are to be heard.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Circular No. 57.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

February 4, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: The Chief of the Civil Service Division of the Auditing Department has substantially completed a card list of all the present employes of the city, and it is now possible to establish stricter regulations as to the addition of new names to the pay-rolls. Some cases have been discovered where persons were working under other names than their own, and I desire to take every precaution to render such a fraudulent evasion of the Civil Service law impossible in the future. Heads of departments are therefore directed to see that every person entering the employment of the city on and after this date, other than as a temporary substitute, or under an emergency employment to continue not more than five days, appears personally at the office of the Civil Service Division, Room 7, Old Court House, to sign his card; and no new name will be passed by the Auditor upon a pay-roll until such card has been duly signed. Heads of departments are also directed to give immediate notice of suspensions and discharges to the Civil Service Division; and in order to make it impossible for any one to work under the name of a man who has died, they will also give strict orders that every death of an employe shall be reported to them within twenty-four hours after it occurs, and will return the information of such death to the Chief of the Civil Service Division as soon as possible, in order that the card of the deceased may be returned to the Civil Service Commission, as required by its rules. Heads of departments are also directed to notify any of their subordinates, having charge of the employment of men, that they are expected to prevent any impersonation upon the pay-rolls of the city, and that any negligent or intentional failure to do so will be considered a serious offence.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 6, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL STATISTICS.

Boston, February 3, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: With reference to the appropriation orders now before the City Council, the following figures are of interest:

In the six-year period, from 1892-93 to 1897-98, inclusive, the ordinary expenditures of the city, excluding Water Department expenditures, have increased from $14,371,643.97 to $17,229,851.40, or a little less than 20 per cent.

Excluding also expenditures for interest and sinking-funds and payments to the State, they have increased from $10,592,231.85 to $12,914,425.83, or a little less than 22 per cent.

The amount available for department appropriations (Auditor's Report 1897-98, page 256), has increased from $10,450,000 to $11,993,997 or a little less than 15 per cent.

The population of the city, as estimated by the Board of Health, has increased from 467,260 to 528,912, or a little more than 13 per cent.

Expenditures for interest, sinking-funds and payments to the State have increased from $3,779,412.12 to $4,315,425.57, or a trifle over 14 per cent.

It may fairly be said, therefore, that 14 per cent. is a normal increase for the six years in any given line of work.

During the six years, expenses of the various institutions for the care of the sick, paupers and criminals, increased from $1,026,021.01 to $1,369,072.88, or a little more than 33 per cent.

Or, if we take the net cost, after deducting income covered into city treasury, they increased from $867,887.89 to $1,209,857.66, or a little more than 39 per cent.

The expenses of the Park Department have increased from $77,779.88 to $143,517.21, or 84½ per cent.

The expenses of the Police Department, including liquor license expenses, and cost of police signal system, have increased from $1,228,291.73 to $1,667,887.26, or a little less than 36 per cent.

The School expenses increased from $1,988,606.15 to $2,482,542.47, or nearly 25 per cent.

The general expenses of the county increased from $520,009.12 to $688,883.46, or over 32 per cent.; or, if we deduct the income, from $393,626.40 to $502,352.96, or 27½ per cent.

These five classes of expenditures have increased, as a whole, from $4,840,707.89 to $6,351,903.28, or a little over 31 per cent.

The expenditures of all other departments increased from $5,751,523.96 to $6,562,522.55, or a little over 14 per cent., equal to the normal increase warranted by the increasing resources of the city.

If we take a fresh start, and compare the actual expenditures of 1897-98 with the appropriations asked for to meet the expenditures of 1899-1900, we get the following results:

Amount available for department appropriations has increased in two years from $11,993,997 to $12,610,229, or a trifle over 5 per cent. (Tax of $2.85 per $1,000 for schools is included in latter amount.)

The amount (asked) for support of dependent and criminal population has increased from $1,369,072.88 to $1,509,590, or a little more than 10 per cent.; or, if estimated income is deducted, from $1,209,857.66 to $1,329,090, or nearly 10 per cent.

The amount (asked) for expenses of Park Department has increased from $143,517.21 to $185,000, or nearly 29 per cent.

The amount (asked) for expenses of Police Department has increased from $1,667,887.26 to $1,747,793, or nearly 5 per cent.

The amount (now fixed by statute at $2.85 per $1,000 in 1899-1900) for school expenses has increased from $2,482,542.47 to $2,777,428, or nearly 12 per cent.

The amount (asked) for general expenses of the county has increased from $688,883.46 to $700,000, or less than 2 per cent.

The five classes of expenditures mentioned above have increased (based on appropriations asked for) from $6,351,903.28 to $6,919,811, or a trifle under 9 per cent.

All expenditures (except Water Department, interest, sinking-funds and payments to State, but including schools—now fixed by statute—and maintenance of sewers and street-watering—now paid for by assessment) would increase (on basis of appropriations asked for) from $12,914,425.83 to $13,861,773, or not quite 7½ per cent.

For the five classes of expenditures named above, from $6,351,903.28 to $6,919,811, or a trifle less than 9 per cent.

For all other departments, including maintenance of sewers and street-watering, from $6,562,522.55 to $6,867,466, or a little less than 5 per cent.

On the basis of appropriations as passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the figures are:

Increase in all expenditures, except Water Department, interest, sinking-funds and payments to State, but including schools, (now fixed by statute), maintenance of sewers and street-watering, from \$12,914,425.83 to \$13,102,657, or not quite $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Dependent and criminal classes, from \$1,369,072.88 to \$1,405,650, or a little more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Parks — From \$143,517.21 to \$140,000, or a decrease of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Police — From $1,667,887.26 to $1,638,500, a decrease of a little less than 2 per cent.

Schools (fixed by statute) — From $2,482,542.47 to $2,777,428, or nearly 12 per cent.

County, general expenses — From \$688,883.46 to \$700,000, a trifle over $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

The five classes above mentioned from $6,351,903.28 to $6,661,578, or a little less than 5 per cent.

Omitting schools, the increase is from $3,869,360.81 to $3,884,150, or about four-tenths of 1 per cent.

All other departments, including maintenance of sewers and street-watering, decrease from $6,562,522.55 to $6,441,079, or a trifle less than 2 per cent.

The estimates for 1899-1900 on account of sewer maintenance and street-watering, (to be provided for by assessment), were $350,000 and $150,000, respectively.

The excess of income over the Auditor's estimates since 1892-93 has been as follows:—

1892-93	$331,606 72
1893-94	247,322 38
1894-95	475,536 95
1895-96	329,276 60
1896-97	666,980 84
1897-98	855,567 65

SUMMARY.

Applying these figures to the present financial situation, we have the following results:

The ordinary expenditures for all purposes, except for Water Department and for interest, sinking-funds and payments to the State were in 1892-93:

For the five classes specified . . .	$4,840,707 89
For all other departments . . .	5,751,523 96

Total $10,592,231 85

The appropriations, including schools, maintenance of sewers and street-watering, are, for 1899-1900:

For the five classes specified . . .	$6,661,578
For all other departments . . .	6,441,079

Total $13,102,657

So that the increase in seven years is:

For the five classes specified . . .	\$1,820,870 11 or 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ %
For all other departments . . .	689,555 04 or 12%

Total $2,510,425 15 or nearly 24%

If the expenditures of the five classes enumerated had increased only in proportion to the increase of all expenditures, there would have been available for the other departments about $659,000. If the expenditures of the five classes enumerated had increased only in the same proportion as the other departments, there would have been available for the other departments about $1,240,000 in excess of present appropriations.

Very respectfully,
LAURENCE MINOT, Chairman.

Ordered printed and assigned to the next meeting.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

Ordered, That the sum of fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars be appropriated to the Public Buildings Department, Electrical Construction Division, for additional working capital; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the city to said amount for said purpose.

Passed, and we certify that the appropriation contained therein is not to meet a current expense.

DAVID F. BARRY,
JOHN H. SULLIVAN,
LAURENCE MINOT,

Members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Sewer Expenditures.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 6, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets in relation to proposed sewer expenditures.

Respectfully,
JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT,

City Hall, February 6, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I submit herewith a statement in relation to sewerage works, and would respectfully suggest that this be forwarded to the City Council, in order that the situation may be made clear to its members, and more intelligent action be taken on the sewerage loan than was indicated by the statements and votes of the Common Council at its last meeting.

The figures are those submitted by me to the Board of Apportionment. In further explanation, I would say that it is necessary to lay out and plan the sewerage work for the entire year. If but $500,000 is to be authorized, this will only cover the work already in hand or contracted for, and no new work can be authorized or planned. The Sewer Division would necessarily be organized on a smaller scale, and petitioners for sewers would be advised that only such work as was provided for by the appropriation could be undertaken.

I would say further that there is nothing novel in the authorization of a considerable sum for sewerage works. Under the old act, there was available such portion of the $3,000,000 authorized by Chapter 323 of the Acts of 1891 as the Superintendent of Streets deemed necessary to expend therefor.

The statement submitted shows the demands for work to be far in excess of the maximum appropriation that is possible under the act.

A rough estimate of the cost to finish work now in progress, by districts, is as follows:

City Proper	$45,438
Roxbury	29,428
Dorchester	156,566
South Boston	8,370
Charlestown	11,700
East Boston	10,500
West Roxbury	35,342
Brighton	16,295
	$313,639

To this must be added the cost of completing work at Pumping Station	54,500
And cost of completing contracts at Moon Island	239,000

Total estimated cost of completing work now in progress	$607,139
---	-----------

The work contemplated by the Sewer Division, and sewerage works ordered by the Street Commissioners, but not yet begun, by districts, is as follows:

Brighton	$299,357
West Roxbury	226,266
East Boston	276,100
Charlestown	72,000
Dorchester	287,748
South Boston	125,151
Roxbury	248,288
City Proper	49,964
	$1,584,874

In addition to the amounts named above, there is always a considerable amount of small work petitioned for, and which we find too urgent to be put off, but of which we have no knowledge at the beginning of the year. The amount of such work brought to the attention of the Division last year, and built, came to $164,000, and I see no reason why an even larger amount should not be necessary this year, more particularly as the work of the Division the past year has been largely that of building large mains which now render it possible to build a large number of small lateral sewers which could not previously have been built.

In addition to the amounts previously mentioned, the following is the estimated cost of sewers petitioned for and not yet ordered:

Dorchester	$145,049
Roxbury	50,484
West Roxbury	88,614
Charlestown	140
City Proper	276
South Boston	4,040
Brighton	3,345
East Boston	29,777
		$321,725

SUMMARY.

Total estimated cost of completing work now in progress . .	$607,139
Total estimated cost of completing work ordered by the Street Commissioners, but not yet begun .	1,584,874
Total estimated cost of constructing sewers petitioned for, but not ordered	321,725
Total estimated cost of constructing necessary small sewers, not yet petitioned for	164,000

Grand total $2,677,738

On the lower portion of Stony Brook, from the property of the Boston Belting Company down to the park, the city will surely be compelled to do some work. The total estimated cost of rebuilding the proposed channel is $220,000. I should think it safe to estimate that the city could hardly escape expending at least $50,000 of this amount during the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

Read and sent down.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., Thursday, February 2, 1899.

The following message was received from the Mayor:

Reduction of Salaries and Wages.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 2, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a copy of a circular issued to heads of departments in relation to a reduction in salaries and wages during the current financial year. It is clearly inequitable that the largest salaries fixed by ordinance should remain unaffected while smaller ones are reduced. While I believe that the reduction requested by me will be voluntarily accepted by heads of departments and other officials whose salaries are fixed by ordinance, it seems to me proper that this reduction should be provided for by an amendment of Section 5 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances, by which salaries are now fixed. I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying ordinance.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

(For the circular to heads of departments accompanying the Mayor's message, see Mayor's Circular No. 55, January 30, 1899, on page 49 of THE CITY RECORD).

An ordinance to amend Section 5 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 5 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Provided, however, that during the financial year 1899-1900 the several salaries above specified shall be fixed at sums $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. less than the several amounts above named."

The communication was read and referred to the Committee on Ordinances, when appointed.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF A TUNNEL TO EAST BOSTON.

Whereas, One of the considerations which led to the enactment of Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894 was the authority thereby given to the Boston Rapid Transit Commission to construct a tunnel or tunnels from Scollay square to Maverick square in East Boston, of sufficient size for two railway tracks, and for running railway cars therein, to connect with the subways provided for by said act; and,

Whereas, the principal subways provided for by said act have been completed; and,

Whereas, when said Commission was about to enter upon the construction of said tunnel, legal proceedings were instituted, and are still pending, to prevent such construction;

Resolved, That it is the sense of the General Court that the tunnel provided for by said act ought to be constructed as soon as practicable, and that it would be a great injustice to the citizens of East Boston, and a breach of good faith, if the construction of the tunnel should be prevented or delayed.

Section 1. Upon a petition hereafter filed by the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Boston, praying for such alterations of the crossings of public ways and the railroads of the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Boston and Albany Railroad Company in that part of Boston called East Boston as will avoid crossings at grade, the Superior Court or any justice thereof sitting in equity for the County of Suffolk, after such notice by public advertisement or otherwise as the court or justice shall deem desirable, and a hearing, may appoint a Commission of three disinterested persons to determine whether said grade crossings or any of them should be abolished as hereinafter provided, or the use thereof changed or regulated.

Sect. 2. If said Commission shall determine that the public convenience, necessity and economy require that no alteration should be made at present in the grade or location of said public ways, or of said railroads, or that in view of existing conditions and circumstances it is prudent that further protection at said grade crossings, or any of them, should be made, or that the use thereof should be changed or regulated, it shall so report to the court, with its recommendations relative thereto, and the recommendations and decision of the Commission being confirmed by the court, shall be forthwith carried out.

Sect. 3. If said Commission shall determine that the public convenience, necessity and economy require the abolition of said grade crossings, or any of them, said Commission shall prescribe the manner and limits within which alterations of the grade crossings of Curtis street, Saratoga street, Bennington street, Maverick street, Sumner street and Webster street shall be made by lowering the tracks of said railroads within the limits thereof and by carrying said streets over said tracks; Prescott street and Porter street shall also be carried over said tracks; provided, however, that Prescott street and Porter street may also be carried over Bremen street, and that Saratoga street and Bennington street may be carried over said tracks on one and the same bridge if the Commission determines that the public interest so requires.

Sect. 4. If said Commission determines that said grade crossings, or any of them, shall be abolished, it may, instead of proceeding as provided by the preceding section, prescribe new locations in and along public streets of East Boston for the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company, and in such case it may prescribe that a portion of such new locations shall commence at or near its present location on or near Saratoga street; thence upon Saratoga street, or private land to Bennington street; thence upon said Bennington street to Chelsea street or Bremen street; thence upon said Chelsea or Bremen street and other streets or private lands, so that said railroad may connect with all ferries to Boston proper, and with the tunnel or tunnels to be built by the Boston Transit Commission; may prescribe suitable locations for side tracks, switches and turn-outs to be used in operating said railroad; may prescribe that the ferry-boats and ferry-landings, and other lands and terminals of said railroad company in Boston proper, and all the superstructures of said company in East Boston which are not required to be transferred to another railroad company, and the land on which such superstructures are built, shall be transferred to the City of Boston; may prescribe that all other lands, locations, terminals and tunnels of said railroad company in East Boston shall be transferred to such other of said railroad companies or the city as said Commission shall deem necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act; may prescribe that, for the purpose desired in in this section, railroad tracks shall go over highways, that highways shall go over railroad tracks, that land shall be taken and used for public ways, or for new locations for the Boston and Maine Railroad, the Boston and Albany Railroad Company and the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company, or any of said companies; may prescribe that all the locations, terminals, lands, tunnels and other property belonging to any such railroad company or the city, except as herein otherwise provided, shall be transferred by such company or city to, and the same shall be taken for, another railroad company or for the city, and be used as prescribed for railroad or street purposes; and shall prescribe that said city shall operate a ferry from East Boston from a terminal at or near the South Ferry, so called, to the terminal now belonging to and used by said Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company on Atlantic avenue in Boston proper, and upon the carrying out of the directions and prescriptions of said Commission said Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company shall use as its motive power in such public streets, electricity, or such other motive power, except steam, as the Board of Railroad Commissioners may require and the provisions of Chapter 428 of the Acts of the year 1890 and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, shall not apply to said railroad company in respect to any locations which may be prescribed for it along any public streets in said East Boston. Said Commission shall prescribe the sum to be paid as damages for any property taken under authority of this act, and shall determine as such damages the amount which they find to be: first, the cost of the tunnels and the value of lands in, through and upon which they are built; second, the value of any and all other structures, and of the lands upon which they are built, all values of land to be determined as if the railroad company owning the same owned the fee thereof. If any party is aggrieved by any sum so prescribed, such party may have such sum determined by a jury in the Superior Court for the County of Suffolk, according to the above directions, and subject to the same rules of law so far as applicable and not inconsistent herewith, as the value of lands taken in laying out highways in said city are determined, on petition therefor filed in the clerk's office of said court within one year after the date of the decree of the court confirming the decision of said Commission.

Sect. 5. The cost of carrying out the recommendations and decision of said Commission, as confirmed by the court, including land damages, shall be borne in the following proportions: twenty per centum by the City of Boston, thirty per centum by the Commonwealth and fifty per centum by said railroad companies in the proportion for each railroad company that shall be determined and apportioned by said Commission; but if one only of said companies abandons or discontinues its location under the provisions of the following section, said fifty per centum shall be borne by the other company.

Sect. 6. If said Commission shall decide that any of said grade crossings should be abolished, or the use thereof further regulated, either of said railroad companies within two months after the report of said Commission has been confirmed by the court, may discontinue or abandon its locations in all the public ways in East Boston and file a notice to that effect in the court which has confirmed said report, and in such case the decision of said Commission, so far as it relates to the railroad company making such abandonment or discontinuance, shall not be enforced, but such company may retain possession and control of the docks, wharves and other property owned or occupied by it outside of the public ways: provided, however, that whatever property of the company making such abandonment or discontinuance is taken by said Commission, and is required to carry out its determinations and prescriptions, shall not be retained by such company, and the company making such abandonment or discontinuance shall, within six months after such filing, remove its railroad tracks from within the limits of every public way in East Boston, and any court having jurisdiction in equity shall have authority in equity to compel such removal.

Sect. 7. In case any land, wharf or dock heretofore taken by purchase or otherwise by either of said railroad corporations or by said city is taken under authority of this act, the damages to be paid to such corporation or city, on account of the taking of such land, wharf or dock shall be assessed as if the railroad corporation or city were the sole owner thereof; and either of said railroad corporations may sell and convey any land, wharf or dock occupied by it for railroad purposes in East Boston, and the purchaser thereof for any public purposes shall have the right to occupy the same thereafter for said public purposes, and if either of said railroad corporations is required by the order of said Commission to abandon any part of its location, and thereupon abandons the same, the value of the land, wharf or dock so required to be abandoned shall be included in the total cost of the alterations.

Sect. 8. The provisions of Chapter 428 of the Acts of the year 1890 and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall apply to said Commission and to the carrying out of its decisions.

(2.) Of electric trouble at the corner of Dover and Washington streets, January 17, at 4.10 A.M., calling Truck 13. The same was found to be caused by imperfectly insulated alternating wires of the Suburban Light & Power Company which were in contact with pole.

(3.) Of tree fire opposite 47-8 Centre street, January 17, calling Engine 14; the same was due to Suburban Light & Power Company wires which were in contact with limbs of tree, burning same.

The poles standing between Chandler and Boylston streets north side of Berkeley street, have been removed by owners.

In company with employees of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company a number of pole locations have been selected in Charlestown and Dorchester.

The guard wires of the Boston Elevated Company have been removed from Milk street.

As vacancies occur the Board of Police will select from the ten names and send to the Civil Service Examiners, for a non-competitive examination, as many of the ten as there are vacancies to fill.

The ten names selected by the examining board will be given to the Department and posted in the station-houses.

All patrolmen desiring to take the examination will report the fact to their captain, and he will forward their names, with the date of their appointment as patrolman, to the Superintendent on or before Saturday, February 10, 1899.

Each captain will also forward at the same time a report of the character, habits, record for industry, etc., of each officer applying from his division, and the report will be considered by the examining board in making their final report.

The Board of Aldermen at its meeting held on Monday, February 13, 1899, voted to confirm the following appointment of His Honor the Mayor:

SALE OF THE OLD PUBLIC LIBRARY BUILDING.

The Old Public Library building on Boylston street has been sold by the city to the trustees of the estate of Frederick L. Ames for the sum of $850,000 in cash. The sale will take effect on March 15, 1899. The building will be remodelled and a theatre erected on the rear of the lot.

The ordinance under which the first Trustees of the Public Library were appointed was passed October 14, 1852. In February, 1853, the City Council authorized the purchase of a suitable site. Two estates on Boylston street, embracing 13,380½ square feet of land, were purchased in 1854 for $72,888. In 1856 the sum of $22,987.50 was paid for additional land amounting to 7,662½ square feet, and in 1857 the sum of $11,796.50 was expended for 2,342 feet of additional land.

The corner-stone of the building was laid, with appropriate ceremonies, in September, 1855. The total cost of the establishment when it was opened to the public in September, 1855, amounted to $363,846, including $107,672 for site (23,384 feet) and $256,174 for building. In 1873 additional land was acquired at a cost of $70,000; and the sum of $92,391 was expended for repairs and alterations during the period 1858-1882, making the total outlay on land and buildings, in 1882, $526,237.

In 1896, the assessed valuation of the property was $845,000, being $773,000 for land (23,415 feet) and $72,000 for building.

TUNNEL TO EAST BOSTON.

The following communication from the Boston Transit Commission relative to the construction of the proposed tunnel to East Boston was received by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday, the thirteenth instant, and was ordered printed and assigned to the next meeting.

BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION.

20 Beacon Street, February 9, 1899.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

The Boston Transit Commission has received the request of your Board for information as to the reasons why work has not been commenced on the tunnel to East Boston, as provided in Section 280 of Chapter 548 of the Acts of 1894, and the acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

Chapter 548 of the Acts of the year 1894 gave to this Commission discretionary power to construct a tunnel or tunnels from a point on or near Scollay square, in the City of Boston, where a suitable connection may be made with the subway or subways provided for by that act, to a point on or near Maverick square, in that part of Boston called East Boston, where a suitable connection with surface tracks may be made.

The appropriation provided in that act was insufficient to build such a tunnel in addition to the building of the subway.

By Chapter 500 of the Acts of the year 1897 the Commission was required to construct a tunnel to East Boston so soon as the elevated railway should be authorized to begin the construction of its railroad over the route first applied for as provided in Section 13 of said act. For such construction an additional appropriation of $500,000 was made. This appropriation, together with the balance of the original appropriation available for the construction of the tunnel, was insufficient to construct a tunnel to East Boston from a point on or near Scollay square under the Act of 1894, but the estimates indicated that it was sufficient to construct a tunnel to East Boston, beginning at a point on the surface on or near Hanover street, and the Corporation Counsel was of the opinion that the building of such a tunnel was within the scope and intent of the act of 1897.

On the nineteenth of July, 1898, the elevated railway company having been authorized to begin the construction of its railroad as provided in the act, it was "Voted, That the construction of the East Boston tunnel be proceeded with in accordance with the statute requirements."

The Chief Engineer of the Commission was forthwith instructed to proceed with the preparation of plans and specifications and on November 23, an advertisement for bids for the construction of Section A of the tunnel being the East Boston entrance thereto, was published.

Before the date fixed for the reception of bids the members of the Commission were served with a notice of the pendency of proceedings before the Supreme Judicial Court contesting the constitutionality of the act of 1897 and the right of the Commission to proceed thereunder in the construction of a tunnel and to expend the funds of the city therefor. Thereupon, under the advice of counsel, all work in relation to the tunnel was suspended, pending the hearing and determination by the Supreme Judicial Court upon the questions presented.

Respectfully submitted,

Boston Transit Commission,

By GEORGE G. CROCKER, Chairman.

B. LEIGHTON BEAL, Secretary.

EXPENSES OF THE PARK DEPARTMENT.

The following communication from the Chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners has been received by His Honor the Mayor:

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

February 7, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: With regard to the recently published statement of the increase in expenditures for maintenance of this Department, from $77,779.88, in 1892-1893, to $143,517.21 in 1897-1898, or 84½ per cent., we think that justice to our Department requires that this increase should have some explanation.

Although the Department was established in 1875 there were practically no expenditures for maintenance until 1887, when appropriations for maintenance first began to be made. In 1892-1893 Audubon road, in the Fens, was first opened to the public, and the only other roads requiring to be maintained were those of Franklin Park and the Arboretum, which, however, were only partially developed. The area of grounds and plantations to be cared for was limited, and there were no buildings other than those of Charlesbank and the shelter at Franklin Park.

The number of parks and playgrounds requiring to be maintained has increased from seven partially constructed parks, in 1892-1893, to twenty-nine parks and playgrounds, in 1897-1898. The length of drives and walks has likewise increased from less than ten miles of drives, one and three-quarters miles of rides and eighteen miles of walks, in 1892-1893, to over twenty-two miles of drives, six miles of rides and thirty-two miles of walks in 1897-1898. The number of permanent buildings has also increased from three to eleven.

This shows that, while the percentage of increase in the expenditures for maintenance is 84½ per cent. the increase in the number of parks and playgrounds to be cared for is 300 per cent., the mileage of drives, rides and walks 100 per cent., and the number of buildings 275 per cent.

I think it proper to add that in the last three years the office expenses of the Department, including those of design and superintendence, have been reduced nearly 33½ per cent.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON,

Chairman.

INSPECTION OF VESSELS AND BALLAST DEPARTMENT.

The Annual Report of the Inspection of Vessels and Ballast Department for the fiscal year ending January 31, 1899, shows that 361 vessels have been weighed, marked and inspected. The cargoes delivered by the vessels amounted to 38,746 tons.

The amount of fees received during the year was $1,937.30.

DEPARTMENT REQUESTS FOR LOANS

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has made public the following tabular statement of requests for loans now pending before it, by which it appears that the loans requested by the several departments aggregate nearly $4,600,000, and those requested in orders introduced by the City Council, and referred to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment aggregate about $11,000,000, without including ninety one such orders in which loans are requested without any specification of the amount.

In the table, which is as follows, the requests referred by the City Government are classified under the departments which would have charge of the work if the appropriations were made:

	Requests of the Departments.	Requests referred by City Council of 1899.
Art Department	—	$228,180
Baths Department	—	375,000
Cemetery Department	$142,612 80	40,000

Hospital Department	276,200 00	18,000
Insane Hospital Department	360,000 00	225,000
Library Department	—	546 500

Public Grounds Department	11,700 00	157,000
School Department	—	423,185
Street Department	2,433,750 00	4,672,038
Street Laying-Out Department	—	1,579,500
Miscellaneous	—	493,950
Totals	$4,580,704 80	$10,965,558

The total amount available for loan appropriations within the debt limit at the beginning of the year was $1,795,000, and of this amount, loans aggregating $153,000 have already been authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, leaving the balance available for appropriation, $1,642,000.

The amount which the Board can now authorize to be borrowed is further limited by the fact that the general loan order, to be passed by the Board before March 1, must not exceed four-fifths of the borrowing capacity of the city.

Under acts of the Legislature, $300,000 within the borrowing capacity for the current year have been set aside for the building of additional high schoolhouses, and $200,000 have been set aside for the purchase of additional land for playgrounds, so that the borrowing capacity is $500,000 less than it otherwise would be. In addition, the School Committee has voted to request a further loan of $500,000 this year, which does not appear in the above table, for the building of additional primary and grammar schoolhouses.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment, during last week, gave hearings to the heads of departments in regard to their loan requests. This week hearings will be given the members of the City Council on orders introduced by them and referred to the Board.

The act establishing the Board provides that it shall report the loan bill before the first day of March, and it will be impossible for it to give public hearings after this week.

The total receipts to the city from Philadelphia street-venders for 1898 amounted to $80,461.85.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

The following is an abstract of the records of the meetings of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

City Hall, February 7, 1899.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held February 7, at 4 P.M., at the Mayor's office.

Present: All the members.

Hearings were given to Mr. H. A. Lamb, Chairman of the Trustees for Children; to Mr. A. Shuman, President of the City Hospital Trustees; and to Dr. H. C. Baldwin, Chairman of the Insane Hospital Trustees, in regard to requests for loan items for their departments; also to Mr. William Jackson, City Engineer, in regard to the proposed loan of $50,000 for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden Bridge; after which the Board went into executive session.

Mr. Sullivan called up the following assignment:

Ordered, That the sum of fifty thousand (50,000) dollars be appropriated for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden bridge; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the city, payable in ten years from their date to said amount for said purpose.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan, the order was amended by inserting after the words "Malden bridge" the words "at a width of not less than fifty (50) feet," and, on motion of Mr. Kiley, the order was further amended by adding at the end of Mr. Sullivan's amendment the words "such work to be completed during the year 1899."

The order as amended was passed, and was signed by all the members, they certifying upon the order that the appropriation contained therein is not to meet a current expense.

Adjourned, at 6.11 P.M., to meet on Wednesday, February 8, 1899, at 4 P.M.

City Hall, February 8, 1899.

Whitney and Mr. William Jackson, City Engineer, in regard to the order requesting an appropriation of $70,000 for widening the Chelsea bridge draw opening, at the north draw, from forty-five to seventy-five feet; and to Mr. J. Albert Brackett, Chairman of the Cemetery Trustees, Mr. John M. Galvin, City Clerk, Mr. John Drohan, Superintendent of Public Buildings; Col. Henry H. Russell, Fire Commissioner, and Mr. John A. O'Shea, Vice-Chairman of the Music Trustees, in regard to requests made by their departments for loans.

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held February 10 at 4 P.M., at the Mayor's office.

Present: All the members.

Hearings were given to Alderman Frank J. O'Toole, H. W. Huguley, William I. Ratcliffe, Representative John Bleiler and Frederick Bleiler, in regard to the order requesting the Board to provide in the first loan bill the sum of $36,900 for the establishment of an engine-house and suitable apparatus on Heath street, Ward 19; to Mr. Charles E. Stratton, Chairman of the Park Commission, in regard to requests made by his department for loan appropriations; to Alderman John H. Colby, in regard to the petition of Henry Crine et al., for an appropriation to lay out and improve Carleton street; and to Councilman Andrew J. Badaracco, in regard to the order requesting the Board to provide a sum sufficient to erect a foot-path over the Boston Elevated Railway tracks at Traverse street, between Haverhill and Canal streets.

The Board then went into executive session.

On motion of Mr. Minot, it was Voted, That the Chair appoint a sub-committee of two to go through the various loan requests, and to report to the Board a list of loan appropriations, amounting in the aggregate to about $2,500,000, which seemed to the sub-committee of the most merit and urgency.

The Chairman appointed Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Minot as the sub-committee.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan, it was Voted, That the Board devote next week to hearing members of the City Council, by wards, on orders introduced and referred by them; that the Board meet in the Aldermanic Chamber on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 3.30 P.M., and on Saturday afternoon at 2 P.M.; that on each afternoon the representatives of five wards be heard, and that all persons who have presented petitions directly to the Board be notified to appear upon the afternoons that the Councilmen and Aldermen from those portions of the city in which the improvements are desired are notified to appear.

The guard shall be some device which will prevent the elevator being started until the door at the landing is closed.

HEARING BEFORE BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

The following is a report of the hearing before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment given to Mr. Cottle, Chief of the Electrical Construction Division of the Public Buildings Department on February 3, in relation to the matter of loan appropriation for working capital:

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) Mr. Cottle, you may state to us the facts in regard to your working capital. I understand that there is a misunderstanding in the preparation of the estimates which put you down as needing only $10,000 for working capital. We appropriated that amount supposing it was sufficient. A. Well, Mr. Chairman, I have asked for $30,000, and my salaries alone are $14,672.

Q. You mean salaries as distinguished from wages paid to electricians? A. Yes, sir; my own salary, my three clerks and six inspectors. Then, besides that, there is no provision made of any kind to allow me to pay for the half holiday six months in the year or for ordinary holidays, and that means quite a substantial amount.

Q. You mean that you cannot charge that to any department? A. No, sir; cannot charge the men's time on any particular work if they are not there.

Q. Naturally. Mr. Logue didn't allow a half holiday last year, did he? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, he allowed ordinary holidays? A. O, yes.

Q. What is the custom outside the city work in regard to half holidays on Saturdays for electricians? A. Well, the old electrical concerns who have had men with them for some years don't pay them for holidays or even for sickness.

Q. Well, do they allow them a Saturday half holiday? A. No, sir,—that is, I want to qualify that by saying that it is possible they may give them for one month of the year, during the hot weather; but, as a matter of fact, that is usually the busiest time in the year for electricians, because people usually move out of town in the summer and that gives them the house to work at without bothering the people.

Q. Well, can you contrive with the amount we have allowed you—$7,000, I think it was—to pay your expenses in excess of your receipts and profits? A. No, sir.

Q. Including the half holiday? A. No, sir; I cannot. The half holiday alone comes to $3,000.

Q. Well, that is not a matter that comes before the Board. You will have to support your Division on what you collect from the departments, and it may not be possible for you to continue to give the half holidays. A. Well, of course, my only object in giving it is that it is customary and has been authorized by the City Council.

Q. Is it customary in other cities? A. Yes, sir; and also in other departments of the city.

Q. Yes, but your department, Mr. Logue's, and, to some extent, Mr. Whalen's, stand on a different basis from the other departments, in that they can only live on bills rendered for work done, outside of such small appropriation as is procured over and above that. But that is a matter for you to adjust yourself. We have allowed a certain specific amount, $7,000, which is all that can be squeezed out under the conditions. You have got to run the expenditures of the Division over the profits under that amount somehow. What we want now to hear about is the efficacy of a loan appropriation for working capital, taken in connection with the fact that you have only $7,000 outside of that. A. Well, in that event, Mr. Chairman, I should want the balance of $30,000 as a working capital—that is to say, $23,000—and that would leave me at the end of the year with a surplus, as I stated at a previous meeting, of $5,000. So that, as a matter of fact, what I require to carry on my Division is $25,000.

Q. (By Mr. Sullivan.) Then you want $15,000 more? A. I require a surplus, also, to pay bills, pending collection. In some cases it takes us three months to collect a bill. We cannot render a bill to a department before the work is completed, and if it happens to be a large job it is sometimes five or six months before we get the money. In the meantime we have to pay our bills and that requires a surplus.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) What we want to know is the amount you require for working capital. You understand that the amount appropriated by loan is simply to enable you to pay for materials and labor pending the collecting of bills, that it is not an appropriation expended and not returned. It is not an appropriation for the support of the Division, but represents a surplus, as you say, to pay bills pending collections. A. Yes, sir. There is the $7,000 here, and I should want the balance of the $30,000—$23,000.

Q. Now, with $25,000 working capital you can do the work you are called on to do for the departments and pay your bills for material and your labor-roll, can you? A. Yes, sir; I can do that.

Q. That is, it will finance your operations? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Barry—In other words, Mr. Mayor, Mr. Cottle has got to have $25,000 that he can draw from?

Mayor Quincy.—As working capital.

Mr. Barry.—Yes.

Mayor Quincy.—Besides the appropriation of $7,000.

Mr. Sullivan.—As I understand it, he wants $20,000 now, $15,000 and $5,000.

Mayor Quincy.—No, $15,000 more.

Q. (By Mr. Sullivan.) Altogether? A. Yes, with what I have now.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) What is the total amount of business done by you in the course of a year, represented by bills rendered? A. This last year was the smallest year we had—represents $102,000. We have only averaged about thirty-five men. The last year we had at times sixty odd men. But the reason why we didn't make a good showing in receipts was due to the fact that we took $40,000 of work at cost, charging nothing for supervision, clerical help or anything,—simply did it at the actual cost. So that that does not show, of course, to our advantage in the total.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) How did it happen that you did that? A. There was a specific appropriation made for the City Hospital, and it was turned over to me after the appropriation was made. So we had to complete the plant within those limits.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) How promptly do you collect your bills, Mr. Cottle, after you send them in? A. Well, we send a statement every month of work in process of construction, and also a statement of bills ready to be rendered and after they have been rendered, and some of the departments are very prompt in paying every month. Some let it run along until they receive two or three statements, sometimes delaying so that three or four months pass before we get collections. That is so in many cases.

Q. Well, ordinarily, for instance, you would have to pay your pay-rolls during the month of January; then you would send in bills or statements to the departments on the first of February? A. Yes.

Q. Those bills, if they were promptly approved, would go on the Auditor's draft and be paid to you on the first of March, just a month after you sent them in? A. Not as applied to a statement. If we sent them a bill for completed work, that would be the case; but if we sent a statement showing the condition of the work from month to month, as I say, in the case of large jobs of work, it is several months before they are completed, and in the meantime we have paid for the material and labor. So it runs on several months sometimes before we get any return for the work; even when we have really completed it.

Q. Well if you were paid on your statements monthly you would still have to pay your help, say, through January and February before you got any money in return—that is, you would have two months' expenses? A. Yes, sir; two months' salaries and two months' bills.

Q. And on the basis of $9,000 a month, that would be $18,000, provided all bills were paid monthly? A. Yes.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) Now, supposing you had some wiring to do in some part of this building—take this office for instance—and it cost $2,000 to do it. After the work was done that $2,000 would come back to your appropriation again? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you would use it over again for something else? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that really this $25,000 is money which at the tail end of the year you will show up again? It is simply working capital? A. Yes, I show it up minus the inspections and things like that I have to make. For instance, we have to make inspections of all the isolated plants of the city and make reports to the departments concerning the efficiency of those plants. We have to go so far as to furnish envelopes and postage stamps to get the returns that come in daily. Those are the expenses that we have to meet ourselves.

Q. And that you don't get back? A. That we don't get back. Then we have to send men around monthly to inspect the plants, and by the time they get through and get the results tabulated it is time for them to go out again. Consequently they are kept in employ all the year round, and we get no return for that, except in the way of good service and to show the departments that the plants are being carried on properly and as they should be.

Q. The City Hospital is an isolated plant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your Department inspects that, you pay the salaries of the inspectors, and you get no return for it, do you? A. No, sir.

Q. That comes out of the working capital, $25,000?

Mayor Quincy—No, comes out of the $7,000.

Mr. Sullivan—I supposed the Wire Commissioner had charge of that part of the business?

Mayor Quincy—Not the city plants.

Mr. Sullivan—Oh, not city plants! But an outside plant he would have charge of?

Mr. Cottle—Yes, sir; he would have charge of that.

Mayor Quincy—To see that it conforms to the positive requirements of statute law, Mr. Cottle does more than that in the case of city plants. He sees that they are kept up in a proper way beyond the requirements of the law.

Mr. Cottle—We have the situation in hand to this extent, that within half an hour, if we want to know how much it is costing to run any of the city plants, by referring to our books we can tell you just what it costs and also whether it is economical or not—also make recommendations, when necessary.

Q. (By Mr. Sullivan.) Do you get out a report? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I never saw one. A. It comes out under the head of "Public Buildings Department."

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) Your Department keeps up batteries? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And furnishes sal-ammoniac? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That comes out of the $7,000? A. No, sir. In the case of this office, for instance, we would charge it to the Mayor's appropriation, and in other departments the same way.

Q. I see. A. But, speaking on the particular point at issue, the claim is made that there is no saving. Looking over the books, however, you will find that we are charging eight and ten cents for sal-ammoniac, and for batteries, which they were paying $1.50 for before the department was started—

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) You mean new cells? A. Yes, sir—for a cell battery, for which they would charge $1.50, the cell complete, with sal-ammoniac and everything, costs us twenty-eight cents.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) As against $1.50? A. Yes, sir.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) You carry quite a stock of electrical goods there? A. Yes, sir; at this time the stock is the smallest since we started, but I think we have $9,000 worth on hand now, not to speak of electrical instruments representing as much more.

Q. Do you find it economical to carry a stock of electrical goods? A. Yes, sir. We have to; because, take the City Hospital or the Deer Island plant, and there will be a demand there for something, and of course we have to keep things on hand for that reason.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) And you are ready to say that the batteries are better looked after than they would be by private individuals; that they are furnished cheaper and that they are looked after better? A. Yes, sir. I am sure of it, because I have worked in the past with outside contractors for years and know the ins and outs of the business. I know what they do and what they pay for things and the profit they must have, and I know that the way we perform the work represents a direct saving to the city, although it does not appear directly.

Mr. Barry—That is an important matter—the saving between what the contractors charge and what the work is done for by this Department.

Mayor Quincy—Yes, in small things like that, contractors put on a big profit,—legitimate enough, perhaps,—but where the city does a large amount of this work it can do it more economically. Besides discharging electrical duties of this kind, Mr. Cottle has been charged with the investigation of the best type of motor carriages for the use of the city. He has been making investigation into the matter, two such carriages have been ordered, and he hopes soon to get around to building them up at his place—Mr. Logue and Mr. Cottle together. If we find that the carriage ordered is satisfactory in its service, we shall buy certain parts, put them together, and build the carriages probably up there.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) I understand, Mr. Cottle, that $7,000 will cover this inspection work which you do? A. I don't see that I can get any more, as that item has gone through; but I don't believe that it will cover, or begin to cover, the expense, because there are six inspectors to be paid. That in itself would very nearly use up the appropriation, if not entirely.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) But you have your profit in addition to that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. If the additional 10 per cent. you charge brings you in a profit, that is available to add to the $7,000? A. Yes, sir; but it is very often the case that several departments will get prices from contractors, and of course I am put in competition with them. I cannot, and would not try, to do the class of work that an outside contractor would do—would not have anybody outside point to work that was not what it should be and say it was done by a city department. It must be a superior class of work, something that the contractors in general can look up to, because otherwise you cannot compel them to do a good class of work, and often, in order to compete with those contractors, I have to do work at cost. The 10 per cent. that I make in one case is very often set off in another case—not entirely, perhaps, but so much that, putting it all together, there probably would not be a saving of more than 3 per cent.

Q. Do you believe it is economical in electrical work to do first-class work? A. Yes, sir; I most certainly do. I don't believe that even the best is any too good, and we are striving all the time to do it better.

Mayor Quincy—I will say that that is a constant source of difficulty. Heads of departments think that Mr. Cottle's figures are high and go around and get bids from outside contractors, based on doing work of a character inferior to that required by his specifications, not up to his standard, and then come around and object to paying Mr. Cottle's price. I have investigated that in a number of cases, and the difference seems to be purely in the specifications and the character of the work put in. I am inclined to think Mr. Cottle is right, that it is poor economy for the city to put in any electrical work that is not first-class.

Mr. Cottle—I would like to call attention to a little statement here pertaining to the very thing now under discussion. Take the case of Austin and Pierce Farms. They got figures outside, it seems, and put them in competition with us. They were submitted to me and I went over the matter and made an estimate of the whole thing. I find, for instance, that for the item "Connecting up dynamo," Mr. Crane's estimate allows nothing. Our estimate on that is $75. That is one item. For repairs and testing Mr. Crane allows nothing; whereas all this outfit has to be gone over, in every building, and that represents about $1,000. Then there are the items for wiring of old house, $800; incandescent lamps, $200; arc lamps, $1,000; new boiler and connections for exhaust heating, $3,000. None of these items were mentioned in Mr. Crane's estimates, and yet they put such figures in competition with ours and expect us to do work for the price mentioned in that way. So my only chance is to have outside competitors put their figures in writing and show the items. As a matter of fact, these figures of Mr. Crane's left out $6,000 of stuff, and then put in a bid on that basis. He evidently figured on using the old piping and did not figure on proper heating of the building, as it could not be done with the old plant, because the boilers were not large enough. As far as such things as that are concerned, however, the ordinary man does not care. These people go ahead and make up their figures and put them in in that way, and then we have to compete against them. Of course, it is our duty to look after things after the work has been completed, whereas the responsibility of an outside man ceases at that time.

Q. One great difference being that the contractor's responsibility practically ceases when he has done his job and got it going, whereas the responsibility of your Department continues year after year and you have to meet that responsibility continually? A. Yes, sir.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) As I understand it, it simmers down to this, that Mr. Cottle's Department does first-class work in every respect, because he wants the plant to stand up and show the best results? A. I must do it, because I would not feel that I could go outside and have my reputation ruined for a few thousand dollars. I have got to do it right or else let somebody else do it.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) Well, you also think, I understand, that the policy you follow is the economical policy in the long run? A. Oh! certainly.

Q. You don't do anything simply for the purpose of making a show temporarily, but your careful work is based on what you think is the best thing for the city in the long run? A. Yes, sir.

MR. COTTLE—Recalled.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) Mr. Cottle, will you tell the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in regard to the plans that have been prepared in the matter of the installation of an electric lighting plant in City Hall—the cost, etc.? In the first place, how long has this matter been pending? A. About a year and a half since the first of it. I went over the matter very carefully and figured that it would cost $42,500.

Q. To do what? A. To light City Hall, the Old Court House, the Probate and Historical Buildings, with a plant located in the basement of City Hall.

Q. Wholly in the basement, or partly in an excavation under the street? A. It would be advisable to have it in an excavation under Court square. It was on that basis that this was figured.

Q. It was figured on carrying that excavation over to the basement of the Old Court House? A. Yes, sir; I think it would be advisable.

Q. Connecting the two buildings underground? A. Connecting the two buildings underground, and having the boilers put there in that excavation. The engines might be put underneath City Hall or underneath the Old Court House. The items of expense are as follows: coal $4,835 a year—

Q. You mean the items of running expense? A. Yes, sir; water, $1,000; oil waste and supplies, $200; lamp renewals, $400; attendance, $6,235; depreciation on apparatus, $1,250—that is five per cent.; depreciation on building, $300, which is two per cent.; interest on total investment at four per cent., $1,680; repairs $1000, which is two per cent. of the total.

Q. What does that come to? A. $16,900. The present cost of lighting and heating these buildings per year is $21,411.95. The cost of lighting and heating by this plant would be $16,900, which would be a saving of $4,511.95.

Q. That is on the basis of the present use of electric lights? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When were those figures of the present cost made up? A. About a year ago.

Q. I guess you will find that the lighting bill has increased since then? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I wish you would look up the lighting bill as it has been running this year and give us an estimate? A. In explanation, I wish to say that we have made an estimate for a third of the capacity of the plant extra, so that there would be an increase of one third over the lights now in use.

Q. And the only additional expense is in coal bills? A. A portion only—one third more coal than now.

Q. That is figured on the basis of piping the buildings, or using the present piping for heating purposes? A. The present piping for heating purposes.

Q. That can be done with the exhaust steam all right? A. Yes, sir. Myself and the engineer not only went over this, but we also got Messrs. Forbes & Glidden, well-known experts, to go over it and verify our figures, and see whether they were right. We came out within eight or ten dollars of each other on the total. So that would be the cost and the saving would be $5,000 a year to the city.

Q. And your statement allows interest, also? A. Yes, sir. It allows, I think, for ample depreciation on apparatus—five per cent., $1,250; depreciation on building, two per cent., $300; four per cent. interest on the total investment, $1,680; and so on. I think I have been very conservative in these figures. The city can borrow, I think, at a very much lower rate than four per cent.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) How are these buildings heated now?

A. By steam-boilers in the basement.

Q. Three plants, one in each building? A. No. I think there is a boiler in the Probate Historical Building, but the general heating system is in the basement of City Hall.

Q. And do you propose to utilize those boilers in this new plant? A. No, sir.

Q. (By Mr. Sullivan.) Isn't the station-house over here also heated from this central plant? A. I don't know. I don't think it is.

Q. I put in an order providing that it be done once, and I think it was done at that time. A. That wouldn't make any difference. The consumption of coal is what we start from, using the exhaust system of heating.

Q. Would you expect better results than they are getting now? A. Yes, sir; better.

Q. Supposing it were necessary to illuminate the front of City Hall, as has been done in the past on some occasions, could that be done also from this plant? A. Yes, sir; we have figured this, as I say, on a basis of an increase of one-third in the total number of lights now in use. So that that would provide for at least one thousand more lights.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) How many lights are now used? A. 1,100 in City Hall alone.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) How much do you ask to construct your plant, Mr. Cottle? A. $42,500.

Q. Do you think the present financial condition of the city warrants the city in investing $42,500 at this time for that purpose? A. Yes, sir; I do. We are making a saving of $5,000 a year, and the city has a plant of its own, which is thereby paid for at the expiration of a certain number of years.

Q. You have an item there for attendance of how much? A. $6,235. Those figures are made on a very conservative basis and may be cut down. As to the expense, I want to put the showing as high as possible in favor of the present conditions, in order to show under the most adverse conditions what the saving would be, and it is only fair to say that that item of $6,235 might be cut down in actual practice $1,000 or $2,000, which would represent that much saving to the city.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) You would be liable to cut it down if the money were given you? A. If possible, we certainly should.

Q. What does that $6,235 represent? A. It represents an engineer, three firemen,—

Q. At how much? A. Engineer, $1,440.

Q. Yes. A. Three firemen at $2,520, the total for the three; one day electrician, at $1,183 a year; one night electrician, at $1,092 a year.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) How many lights will you have in all for the three buildings, Mr. Cottle? A. I have put in some one of these reports the total.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) You only provide for one engineer, Mr. Cottle? A. I think that would make it somewhere in the neighborhood of 3,000 lamps. I thought I had it on this list (referring to list). There are 1,100 in this building alone, and there is the Probate and Historical Building and the Old Court House. So I think it fair to say that there would be 3,000 lamps. In connection with that question of the engineer—

Q. You provide for one engineer and for two electricians? A. Yes, one engineer, three firemen—

Q. And two electricians? A. Yes, sir; one day electrician and one night electrician, because the plant would have to be running nights as well as days.

Q. You don't figure on that item in connection with engineers? A. No, sir; it is not necessary, because the day or night electrician could attend to that. There would be times when one man could, if necessary, run the plant, both engines and dynamos.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) Why couldn't the present boilers be used, Mr. Cottle? A. They are high-pressure boilers and are not really safe. From all I can find out they have been used for some time. There is one new and the other two are old, I believe, and the pressure is not sufficiently high.

Q. They are high pressure you said? A. They were originally, but as they get older you have to reduce the pressure from year to year, under the rules of the Hartford Insurance Company, I believe, so that they have got down to the point where, in order to have an economical plant, they would not be the proper things to use.

Q. Wasn't there some new machinery put in when the new elevator was put in? A. I think one boiler. I am not sure about that, but I think the elevator is a plain water elevator, hydraulic.

Q. Wasn't a new boiler put in the basement at that time? A. Not recently.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) How many boilers would you have in the new plant? A. Two, possibly three—figured on two, I believe.

Q. What capacity? A. One hundred and fifty.

Q. Each? A. Yes.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) What type of steam engines and electrical apparatus would you use? A. I figured on two boilers, high pressure, considered much more economical than the others, and what is termed the automatic self-oiling engine. I mean by that that there is but one oil-cup on the entire engine, and you simply fill an oil-chamber and the whole thing runs in oil. So the attendance is nothing like what it would be with an ordinary engine. You simply fill that one oil-cup and it runs three or four hours. It gives the engineer some chance to attend to other duties—doesn't have to stand up to his engine all the time, as he does now. It runs much easier—in fact, it is guaranteed that you can't hear it ten feet away. Those things are important in office buildings, because the vibration would be a serious difficulty.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) You would have one engine and two dynamos? A. No, two engines and dynamos. If desirable, might possibly put in three; that is, instead of two large ones, have one large one and two small ones. It would depend on whether they were to be run equally at all times. If not, you could put in one large one, and two small ones instead of another large one.

Q. What sized dynamo would you propose to use? A. One hundred kilowatts.

Q. Does this $42,500 include the building part, or merely the machinery? A. That includes everything, even machinery foundations, digging, excavating and everything complete.

MR. JACKSON—Recalled.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) In a general way, I would like to have a statement of your position on this electrical plant matter, Mr. Jackson. I understand that you have figured upon it? A. I figured on it in a general way, in connection with other plants, and I have always found it cheaper to put in an independent plant where there are engineers to take charge of it and where the extra attendance required will not be too great. For instance, at Chestnut Hill it has been cheaper to install the plant and to make our own light than it would be to buy any other light, gas or electricity.

Q. Have you any doubt that this would be an economical proposition? A. No, sir. I have no doubt it will save the city money.

Q. And the general plan of having the boilers set underneath the street seems to be feasible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Would you get proper draught for the boilers? A. No trouble about that.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) Do you understand that you would have supervision of the construction of this plant? A. No, I don't understand that I would have anything to say about it.

MR. COTTLE—Recalled.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) Mr. Cottle, I think you said the present cost of heating and lighting the buildings is $21,411.95? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much of that is for heating and how much for lighting? Have you got it there? A. The cost of coal for heating the different buildings in 1896 was $3,827.95; water, $804, which, with the salary of the engineer and firemen, made the sum total for heating $8,591.95—making the total for light and heat $21,411.95.

Q. About $13,000 for light? A. Yes, sir.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) You give us those figures brought down to date, and I am very sure they are larger. Now, Mr. Cottle what can you say about Rainsford Island? A. Simply this—they are using kerosene lamps there and, with the mischievous boys there, a fire is apt to be caused at any time. The cost of electric lighting will be merely nominal. They have since put in new boilers there, and it is something that ought to be done, that needs to be done very much, from the standpoint of safety.

Q. Long Island has been quite sufficiently covered. How about Austin and Pierce Farms? A. The same reasons apply there, and I rather think the trustees of those institutions would be the best people to set that forth. I merely mentioned it as a necessary expenditure in that quarter.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) They are not lighted by electricity at present? A. No. Austin Farm has been mostly wired. Eight or nine thousand dollars has been spent for fittings, electrical fixtures, which are lying idle to-day.

Q. No connection with the lighting companies there? A. None whatever. In that connection I will say that we propose to put in one plant at Austin Farm and transmit power to Pierce Farm by an overhead line.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) Are you satisfied that that will be more economical than to have separate plants? The trustees seemed to think that two plants would be more economical? A. They might be more economical if they had the space, but I don't understand that they have the space or chimneys with sufficient draught. Provision has been made, as the thing stands now, at Austin Farm, with that in view, and there has been no construction for it at Pierce Farm.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) Could any of those boilers such as are at Austin Farm be used at Rainsford Island to advantage? A. Well, the only thing I could think of is in connection with Deer Island. If it is desirable to put in another new boiler at Deer Island; that would give one or two boilers that might be put in at Rainsford, thus saving that expense. But that would depend, of course, on whether you would agree to another engine, dynamo and boiler at Deer Island, which is really the most necessary thing I think of in connection with this list. They are depending on the new cell-building for light, one dynamo and boiler, and if anything happened to that, if there was a break-down, as there might be at any time, they would be in darkness there, and you can't tell what might happen. A duplicate unit is a necessary thing to have there. I understand that the class of men there now is worse than it used to be—simple drunks before, but there is now a bad class of men there, and too much stress cannot be placed on the necessity of another boiler and dynamo, so that in case of emergency they would have light, which they would not have today. The foundations are all in for a second unit and the building was built with that intention, and it simply wants a new unit. We must do piping and make provision for lighting the women's dormitory, as there is no light there now but kerosene.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) In regard to an electrical fountain on Boston Common? A. Well, I have nothing to say about that except that I have looked it up pretty thoroughly, and it would be a desirable thing to have, but, as Mr. Kiley says, the state of the city's finances is such that perhaps it wouldn't be desirable to press that too strongly.

Mayor Quincy.—That is not for you to say, is it?

Mr. Sullivan.—It isn't costing anything extra to light the dome of the State House—not a dollar's extra expense, except to put the wiring and the lights there.

Mr. Minot.—And for the burning of more coal.

Mr. Sullivan.—Well, it doesn't appear.

Mayor Quincy.—Can't find it in the bill.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) How about wiring the different city buildings for local fire-alarm purposes? A. As the matter stands now, there is no such protection for any of the city buildings except in the building we occupy on Wareham street, and if any fire should occur down here there is no way of notifying the Department, unless somebody should be here. And if anybody should happen to be around, by the time the alarm was rung in the fire would have a chance to get pretty well along. The system I have spoken of is a local fire-alarm system, so that if anything happens in this room, or any room, if any fire should break out, the alarm would go all over the building. It would be so arranged that the proper parties can be notified in case of fire.

Mayor Quincy.—That is in the nature of an insurance protection.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) Your building is insured, is it not? A. I say that is something that might be adopted entirely aside from my building.

Q. You know, do you not, that there are men in the hall whose duty it is to look after the building, who go around the hall at certain times and look after those things? A. Yes, that is so, but the best illustration of the weak point in that is what occurred here in a great establishment last summer. The watchman passed through the place on his rounds, and, in the time between one round and another, a fire broke out, and if it had not been that it attracted the attention of a scrub-woman, nothing would have been known about it until the fire had got, possibly, fifteen or twenty minutes' headway. I believe the watchmen in this building go about only at intervals of an hour, and if anything should happen just after they had left, considerable damage might be done before they got back. By the use of this system, when a fire occurs, no matter where it happens, there is a ringing of a bell and you know at once where the fire is, what room it is in.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) Do you think it would be sufficient to have it in City Hall alone? A. No, cover all the buildings, such as the City Hall, the Probate and Historical buildings, the Old Court House, and possibly a few school-houses. A few of them, I believe, have some protection now, when it works, but nobody can say whether it is working or not until it is tried, and then sometimes you will find that it isn't. But as I have had no supervision over the school-houses, except to see the amount of material they have on hand, I have not been able to do anything in that direction.

Q. (By Mayor Quincy.) Then there is the printing plant item—a small one? A. I have talked with Mr. Whalen in regard to that and he is desirous of having something done. It is a fact that the rooms are low-studded and get very hot. They use a tremendous amount of gas and it is close, and terrible on the compositors—terrible. The amount asked for that is small in comparison with the benefit that will be derived by the men and the obviating of the danger from fire.

Q. This simply provides for wiring? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Not an isolated plant, of course? A. No.

Q. (By Mr. Barry.) Where would they get power? A. Purchase power from the Edison Company. They are in the adjoining building and I can get special rates, in view of the company being in the adjoining building.

Q. (By Mr. Minot.) What will be the increased cost of maintenance? How much more does electric light cost to use than gas? A. I think nothing, in that case. I can furnish electricity there as cheaply as gas. I think, as I say, that I can get a special price, on account of their being in the building adjoining the Edison Company. The price would be about the same as gas—very little difference.

Q. (By Mr. Kiley.) The city doesn't own that property? A. No. This simply covers wiring and fixtures.

Q. Putting $1,250 into the wiring of another person's property? A. They have to have the wiring, anyway.

A bill to hold the State and National elections on the same day has been defeated in the Arkansas House.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, February 13, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding. Absent — Alderman Berwin.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Veto — Night Lunch Wagon.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 10, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the vote of your Board granting permission to W. F. Healy to stand a night lunch wagon at the junction of Shawmut avenue and Tremont street. I felt obliged, nearly three years ago, to adopt the policy of declining to sign any further permits for lunch wagons, on the ground that as many permits of this character had been issued as it was in the public interest to grant. I feel it necessary to adhere strictly to this policy, unless peculiar and extraordinary conditions seem to afford a reason for granting a permit in some particular place, as might possibly be the case in some out-lying district; but I can see no reason for making an exception in this locality.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby the permit was granted was reconsidered, and the message was referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Cost of Widening Hancock Street.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Street Commissioners in reply to your order requesting an estimate of the cost of widening Hancock street, Dorchester, from Columbia road to Freeport street, to a width of eighty feet.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The Board of Street Commissioners respectfully report upon the order of the Board of Aldermen of January 9, 1899, of which a copy is sent you herewith, that in their opinion the cost of the widening of Hancock street, Dorchester, from Columbia road to Freeport street to a width of eighty feet, would require an appropriation of $60,000.

By order of the Board of Street Commissioners.

J. H. JENKINS, Secretary.

Referred to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council, was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 7.45 P.M., on Thursday, February 9, 1899, President Kiley in the chair.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Public Convenience Station, Roxbury Crossing.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 9, 1899.

DEPARTMENT OF BATHS.

February 8, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We return herewith the order of Councilman Nangle of Ward 19, dated January 19, 1899.

I am requested by the Bath Commission, in answer to this order, to state that no money is available at present to construct a convenience station where requested, and that if money is appropriated to build such a station, the Bath Commission have no funds available this year to maintain it.

Very respectfully yours,

DANIEL D. KEARNS, Secretary.

Assigned to the next meeting.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 9, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I respectfully transmit, under the provisions of Chapter 434 of the Acts of 1898, the accompanying order appropriating $50,000 for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden bridge, passed by the Board of Apportionment under said act on February 7, 1899.

All rents, percentages, or other annual compensation received from any person or corporation for any use of any of said subways, tunnels or adjacent locations or for any use of any lands or rights taken under authority of this act shall be annually used by the said Treasurer, first, to meet any deficiency in the sinking fund requirements for said bonds, after the payments hereinbefore provided for have been made; second, to meet the interest on said bonds, and the surplus, if any, as a part of the general revenue of said city for the maintenance of its public parks.

The proceeds from any sales of lands or rights taken by purchase or otherwise under the authority of said act or any acts in amendment thereof made before the expiration of two years from the date of the completion of the construction of the subway shall be credited to the subway account.

The whole amount of such tolls and for said rentals is hereby pledged to meet the principal and interest of the bonds issued to pay for the construction of said tunnel or tunnels, and this pledge shall be expressed on the face of such bonds as one of the terms thereof; provided, however, that after such tolls have been discontinued if said rentals shall for any year ending on the thirtieth day of September yield an amount more than sufficient to meet the interest and sinking-fund requirements of said bonds for such year such excess over said requirements shall be regarded as general revenue of said city. In case in any year the rentals and tolls above provided for shall not yield a sufficient amount to meet said interest and sinking-fund requirements the compensation received by said city under Section 10 of this act shall be applied so far as may be necessary toward meeting such requirements. CITY OF BOSTON.

TO THE HONORABLE THE MAYOR AND THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

Respectfully represents the American Sugar Refining Company, a corporation duly established under the laws of New Jersey, and having a usual place of business in Boston, that on the eleventh day of September, 1882, permission was granted by this Honorable Board to the Standard Sugar Refinery, the Continental Sugar Refinery and the Boston Machine Company to lay down tracks on First and Granite streets, South Boston, as follows, namely: Commencing at a point on West First street, 250 feet west of the westerly line of Granite street; thence in an easterly direction over and upon said West First street, to the land of the New York & New England Railroad Corporation, 270 feet east of the easterly line of A street. Again commencing at a point on Granite street, opposite the southerly line of Mt. Washington avenue, and extending over and upon said Granite street to West First street, and connecting with the track located by this order on West First street; said tracks being shown on a plan drawn by George T. Sampson, civil engineer, dated August 1, 1882, and deposited in the office of the Superintendent of Streets.

And that said parties should also have the right to enter upon and use said tracks, with cars and engines, for the transportation of freight, subject to such rules and regulations as the Board of Aldermen may from time to time prescribe, and upon certain other conditions set forth in said order.

And that upon October 16, 1882, the permission granted by said order of September 11, 1882, to the Continental Sugar Refinery and the Boston Machine Company was revoked and rescinded, so far as the same related to said two corporations, but the permission and rights granted by said order to the Standard Sugar Refinery were confirmed.

That thereafter said Standard Sugar Refinery constructed said tracks in accordance with said plans, and continued to use the same until on or about the tenth day of January, 1891, when the said Standard Sugar Refinery conveyed all its property in the State of Massachusetts to your petitioner; and whereas, a doubt has arisen as to the right of your petitioner to continue to use said tracks, without further permission of the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Boston, your petitioner prays that it may be permitted to use and operate said tracks, with cars and engines, for the transportation of freight, subject to such rules and regulations as the Board of Aldermen may from time to time prescribe.

EXAMINATION REGARDING ELE- VATOR ACCIDENT.

Following are the reports made relative to the elevator accident which occurred at City Hall, on Thursday, February 16, 1899, by which several persons were injured:

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

February 20, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In compliance with your request an examination has been made of the westerly elevator in the City Hall and its appurtenances, which were wrecked on Thursday, February 16 last, and I find that the piston rod, the cross-head and the travelling sheave-yoke connected with the same are broken, and the sheaves pulled toward the elevator well by the ropes connected to the car. In my opinion the fall of the car was caused by the breaking of the piston rod cross-head and connecting yoke.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM JACKSON, City Engineer.

WHITTIER MACHINE COMPANY.

Boston, February 17, 1899.

MR. WILLIAM JACKSON, City Engineer.

DEAR SIR: At the request of City Architect, Mr. Howard, we have examined west elevator at City Hall building, with a view to ascertaining the cause of the recent accident. We are of the opinion that the accident was caused by the breaking of the connection between the piston and the yoke carrying the travelling sheaves. The break occurred at the end nearest the sheaves. There are indications of a slight fracture, but it is impossible to say what caused it. The safety apparatus on the car failed to operate from the fact that the hoisting ropes were taut during the descent of the car. The car was found about eight inches from its lowest position and the safeties set, thereby holding the car firmly in this position. We can account for this from the fact that when the car struck the buffers at the bottom of the well-way it rebounded, thereby slacking the hoisting ropes and allowing the safeties to operate.

Yours truly,

Whittier Machine Company,

H. P. KING, Treasurer.

The following, laid over under the rules at the last meeting, were passed:

(1.) Ordered, That there be paid to the trustees under the will of D. W. Williams the sum of $4,107.60 as payment for 5,868 square feet of land on Munroe street, Roxbury, taken for school purposes by the City of Boston, May 19, 1898 (taking recorded same day), upon said trustees giving to the city a deed for said estate so taken satisfactory to the Law Department.

(2.) Ordered, That from the total amount of $145,000 appropriated September 22, 1896, and February 9, 1897, out of the amount granted the School Committee under Chapter 408 of the Acts of 1895, for West End school-house site, the following transfer be made:

Munroe Street School-house, enlargement of lot, $4,107.60.

The resignations of two teachers presented by the Superintendent of Schools were accepted.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments, and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations:

The appointments of five temporary teachers, which were placed on file; the appointments of three special assistants, and of two teachers on probation, which were laid over under the rule; and the confirmation of appointments of fourteen teachers, which were laid over under the rule. Leave of absence was granted to twenty-three teachers.

The Superintendent presented the following appointments and recommendations for leave of absence, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the Regulations pertaining thereto: One temporary teacher, approved under a suspension of the rule; one teacher on probation, laid over under the rule; leave of absence, for two teachers, granted under a suspension of the rule.

On motion of Mr. Gallivan the vote approving the appointments and transfers presented by the Superintendent at the previous meeting was reconsidered.

Mr. McDonald moved that the transfer of H. C. Parker be referred to the Committee on the First Division, and it was so referred.

Mr. Calderwood moved that the appointment on probation of S. A. Johnson be referred to the Committee on the Seventh Division, and it was so referred.

The remaining appointments, transfers and confirmations were approved.

On the recommendation of the Committee on New Buildings it was ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with Francis C. Creber in the sum of $790 for fitting up for school purposes a two-room building and a one-room building on Comin's Terrace, Roxbury, and with W. J. Carlin in the sum of $109 for furnishing stoves for the same buildings, the said Creber and Carlin being the lowest bidders.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, January 24, a communication from His Honor the Mayor transmitting a copy of a vote of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment notifying the School Committee that said Board will be ready on February 1 to receive and consider applications for loans for school buildings, and that said Board believes that application for such loans should be made to it, rather than to the Legislature, reported that they have duly considered the matter, and recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be requested to provide the sum of $500,000 to be expended by the School Committee during the current year for additional grammar and primary school accommodations.

Accepted, and the order passed.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom were recommitted, January 24, two orders, one making an appropriation for an addition to the Mechanic Arts High School-house, and the other authorizing the execution of a contract for furnishing a heating and ventilating system in that building, with instructions to report whether Section 33 of the Rules had been violated in connection therewith, reported that this section provides that committees shall not expend or authorize the expenditure of any money beyond the amount appropriated in the budget approved by the Board. The budget referred to is reported by the Committee on Accounts in accordance with Paragraph 3 of Section 35, and includes items for the support of the public schools, but not for the construction of new buildings. Moreover, Chapter 149 of the Acts of 1898 expressly authorizes the School Committee to make contracts during any year for the payment of the whole or any part of the amounts to be issued under this act in a subsequent year. Therefore, your committee are of the opinion that the provisions of Section 33 of the Rules have not been violated, and they again recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That of the amount granted to the School Committee under Chapter 149 of the Acts of 1898, the following appropriation be made:

Mechanic Arts High School-house, addition, $55,000.

Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with Isaac Coffin & Co., in the sum of $3,972, for furnishing a heating and ventilating system in the Mechanic Arts High School-house; said firm being the lowest bidder.

Report accepted and orders passed.

Mr. Gallivan, for the Committee on the Sixth Division, to whom was referred from the files of last year an order relative to the naming of the new primary school-house in the Thomas N. Hart District, reported that they have considered the matter, and now recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the new primary school-house in the Thomas N. Hart District be named the Benjamin Dean School, in honor of the late Benjamin Dean.

The report was accepted and order passed under a suspension of the rules.

It was ordered that the sessions of the Prince School continue as heretofore, from 9 o'clock A.M. to 2 o'clock P.M., and that the master be authorized, in his discretion, to dismiss the pupils of Grades 1 and 2 at 1.15 P.M.

The following report from the Committee on Accounts was received:

The Committee on Accounts respectfully inform the Board that, under Section 1, Chapter 400 of the Acts of 1898, the School Committee of the City of Boston shall, on or before the first day of March in each year, by vote of two-thirds of all the members, taken by yeas and nays, make appropriation for the support of the public schools of said city for the financial year, including repairs on, and alterations of, school buildings.

Under Section 2, Chapter 3, of the Rules of the School Committee, the Committee on Accounts is required to prepare and present to the Board an estimate of the expenses for each financial year.

The Board of Assessors, in accordance with the statutes, have reported that the average valuation which forms the basis for computing the sum allowed the School Committee for the present year amounts to $974,536,062. Two and eighty-five one hundredths dollars on each thousand of this valuation amounts to $2,777,427, and to this sum should be added an unexpended balance for the financial year 1898-99 of $698.48, and the estimated income for the present year placed at $40,000, making a total sum of $2,848,413.68, this being the total legal limit which the School Committee can appropriate for running expenses the present year.

Of this amount the sum of $243,634.01 must be appropriated, under the statutes, for such repairs and alterations upon school buildings as the School Committee shall order.

The committee in charge of the preparation of these estimates have endeavored to furnish them in detail as completely as possible.

In accordance with these statements your committee would recommend the passage of the following orders:

For the Committee on Accounts,

FRANCIS L. COOLIDGE, Chairman.

(1.) Ordered, That to meet the current expenses of the School Committee, payable during the financial year beginning February 1, 1899, and ending January 31, 1900, the following sums be appropriated for the purposes stated:

RECAPITULATION.

Salaries of instructors	$2,090,000 00
Salaries of officers.	71,000 00
Salaries of janitors	156,000 00
Fuel, gas and water	111,000 00
Supplies and incidentals	167,913 68
Repairs and alterations upon school buildings	252,500 00

Total department expenses . $2,848,413 68

(2.) Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be notified that the School Committee has appropriated, under Chapter 400 of the Acts of 1898, the sum of $2,848,413.68 for the support of the public schools for the present financial year. Of this amount, $2,777,427 should be included by their Board in the total amount to be raised by taxation, the balance, $70,986.68, to be obtained from the following-named sources: Estimated income to be received during the year ($40,000), excess of income in 1898-99 over the amount estimated ($698.48), and the unexpended balance at the close of the financial year 1898-99 ($30,288.20).

Laid over, under the rule.

It was ordered

(1.) That the Committee on Evening Schools be authorized to extend for two weeks the terms of such of the evening schools as in their judgment will be profitable, and that schools so extended close this year on Friday evening, March 24, 1899.

(2.) That the Superintendent be authorized to visit Columbus, Ohio, on February 22, for the purpose of making arrangements for the exhibit of the work of the public schools to be made at the Paris Exposition during the year 1900, and that an expenditure not exceeding $75 be allowed for his travelling expenses.

(3.) That a water-color painting, presented to the Horace Mann School by John B. Hudson, be accepted, and that the thanks of the Board be extended to Mr. Hudson for his gift.

(4.) That the Committee on School-houses be requested to report a schedule of salaries for janitors at the next meeting of the Board.

(5.) That the open vault in the basement of the Polk-street Primary School be replaced by some modern accommodations at once.

(6.) That the Committee on School-houses be instructed to take immediate action for improving the sanitary condition of the Weston-street School-house.

(7.) That after this date when the Superintendent names his appointments he also include the addresses of the same.

(8.) That the Board authorize the employment of a second sub-master in the Hugh O'Brien District.

(9.) That the Committee on School-houses be directed to take immediate steps to put the Harvard Grammar School in proper sanitary condition as recommended by the Board of Health in its three or more reports made to this Board during the past two years.

The President pro tempore appointed Mr. Courtney on the Truant Committee and Mr. Coolidge on the Committee on Legislature.

At 9.55 the Board went into executive session and adjourned at 11.30.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 7 P.M., on Thursday, February 16, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding. Absent — Alderman Berwin.

The Clerk read the call as follows:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 15, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

You are hereby requested to assemble in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, on Thursday, February 16, at 7 P.M., for the purpose of taking action upon the annual maintenance appropriation order, so that the same may be transmitted to the Common Council at its meeting on that evening.

This call is issued at the request of several members of your Board.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

The following message was received from His Honor the Mayor:

Salaries of Policemen and Firemen.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 16, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

While the Mayor has no executive or financial control over the administration of the Police Department, I thought it proper to send to the Board of Police, for its information and consideration, a copy of the executive circular issued by me just after the annual appropriation order had been approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, directing heads of departments to make a reduction in certain salaries and wages, in order that it might be made possible to conduct their operations under the reduced appropriations rendered necessary by the pressure upon the limited financial resources of the city. I have today received a communication from this Board in which it takes the position that as it "has no authority to reduce the wages, or change the pay of police officers or matrons, without a concurrent vote of the City Council, and as that body has usually taken the initiative in fixing the salaries of such officials, the Board prefers to await the decision and action of the City Government" before taking any action in relation to the reduction of the pay of police officers and matrons.

The Board further states that two of the Commissioners (the third not having been yet consulted on account of his absence) will voluntarily make a reduction of 7½ per cent. in their own salaries, and that the Clerk of the Board will do the same; and the Board also states that the salaries in the clerical department and the signal service, which it has the sole jurisdiction over, will be reduced substantially in accordance with the direction to other heads of departments.

In view of this attitude of the Board of Police, the question presents itself to me whether to recommend to the City Council to take the action necessary on its part to effect the reduction suggested. While firmly believing that such action would be proper under the financial conditions which confront the city, I cannot but feel that it would be an empty and useless form for me to make such a recommendation, in view of the past and present action of the City Council upon similar matters. It was only a few months ago that an increase in the pay of police officers was adopted by both branches of the City Council, and I can see no reason to believe that either its membership, or the motives which influenced its action, have in the meantime undergone any such changes as to warrant the slightest expectation that it would consent to any reduction in the pay of police officers. I, therefore, feel that it is practically necessary either to seek some other method of economizing in our expenditures, or to throw upon the Board of Police the responsibility either of living within its appropriation, or of creating a deficit in the City Treasury by using its legal power to draw in excess of it.

It has been strongly urged upon me that in view of the general similarity of the conditions of service in the Police and Fire Departments, it would not be fair to the members of the latter service, who are not upon the whole as well paid, and who are obliged to incur greater risks, to subject them to a reduction in pay from which the members of the Police Department were exempted. That the unanimous sentiment of the members of the City Council would be opposed to any reduction in the pay of firemen might indeed have been expected, and I do not attach any undue weight to it; but it also seems to be the belief of many citizens and taxpayers, who have no political interest in members of the Fire Department, that their services are of such a nature that some way should be found to relieve them from suffering any reduction in their pay. In view of these conditions, and believing that some way can be found to make up to the Fire Department the amount which would be saved by the contemplated reduction in salaries, I desire to inform the City Council that the Fire Commissioner has been directed by me to restore the old rate of pay to the men in his Department, and that there is, therefore, no occasion for reducing or striking out any appropriation in the order as it now stands as an indirect method of exerting a pressure for accomplishing this object.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., Monday, February 20, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding. Absent — Alderman Berwin.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

Veto — Clock on Post.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 17, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my approval the order authorizing erection of an iron post, surmounted by a clock, in the sidewalk in front of the estate No. 169 Tremont street, partly for the reason that there is already a similar clock upon this street not far from this point. It seems to me that permits of this character should be granted very sparingly, and only for locations where the convenience of the public will clearly be served and where the character of the street is not unsuitable for the purpose.

Tremont street in its present condition, should be preserved as one of the finest business streets in the city, and I do not believe that the city should permit it to be disfigured with clocks erected within the lines of the sidewalk — and chiefly for advertising purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The vote whereby leave was granted was reconsidered and the question came on granting permission, the Mayor's veto to the contrary notwithstanding. The Board refused to grant permission by a vote of yeas, 0; nays, 8.

BENJAMIN W. WELLS, Esq., Superintendent of Streets.

DEAR SIR: I am informed that the tracks spoken of in the within communications are held by the American Sugar Refining Company, as they claim, by virtue of an assignment from the Standard Sugar Refinery. If this is all the right they have to maintain and operate said tracks, I think they have no legal right to maintain and operate the same.

Respectfully,

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Bath Commission in reply to your order requesting a report as to the number, if any, of non-residents who have lockers in the East Boston Gymnasium, and also if proper steps are taken to give residents of Boston the preference in obtaining admission to the hand-ball court.

DEPARTMENT OF BATHS.

February 8, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We return herewith the enclosed order of Councilman Bagley of Ward 1, dated January 9, 1899, and I am requested by the Bath Commission to state that the matter mentioned in the order has been carefully investigated and that no non-residents of Boston have any permanent lockers in the East Boston Gymnasium, and that, as far as possible, no citizens of Boston are debarred from using the hand-ball courts in this gymnasium by reason of the use by non-residents. While it is true that at times non-residents, working in East Boston, make use of the gymnasium, so far as we can ascertain the privileges of citizens are in no way affected.

Very Respectfully,

DANIEL D. KEARNS, Secretary.

Heretofore when an officer had discovered a fire, he was first to ascertain if it could be extinguished without an alarm. This change has been made at the particular request of the Fire Commissioner.

Heretofore where the police signal was eleven strokes on the fire bells three times repeated in quick succession, upon the sounding of which it was the duty of every officer in the department to go to his station-house as soon as possible, now the following instruction is given:

"In case of a fifth alarm (equivalent to a general alarm heretofore) every officer not actually on street duty shall immediately repair to his station-house and await orders. Patrolmen on street duty shall report from the signal-boxes on their routes and notify all officers residing on their routes."

Section 2 provides for the removal from the streets within the fire lines all persons except members of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council wearing their badges exposed, and persons wearing exposed badges or permits issued by the Fire Department for the current year.

Section 8 provides for arrest of incendiaries and reports to Fire Marshal.

This chapter should be read carefully by every officer.

Page 96—Rule 46, Section 5. Attention is called to the fact that the last clause has been stricken out. The statement contained in the omitted clause that application for a certificate may be made to "any physician who may be called to examine the body" is incorrect, as only the attending physician (or if there is no attending physician, or his certificate cannot be obtained or is insufficient, then the Chairman of the Board of Health, if a physician, or any physician employed by the Board of Health for the purpose) is authorized to make the certificate, and in case of death by violence only the Medical Examiner. Furthermore, it is not the duty of the police officer to make application for any certificate, but the duty of the undertaker or other person who is to bury the body or remove it from the city. The responsibilities of the Police Department are at an end when the body has been delivered to the proper parties. See Acts of 1897, Chapter 437. (See also Acts of 1897, Chapter 444.)

Page 97—Rule 48. This rule has been revised to accord with the statutes lately passed on this subject, especially Chapter 282 of the Acts of 1898. The Board of Police has decided that any corporation applying for an appointment of a special police officer under this section shall pass a vote of its directors, authorizing some person in behalf of the corporation, to make application for the appointment of such special police officer.

Section 5 provides that special police officers must not wear the regulation uniform worn by police officers of the City of Boston.

Special police officers asking for information on this subject should be referred to Deputy Burrill at headquarters.

Page 100—Rule 49, Section 3, has been amended by substituting the words "Sewer Division" in place of "Health Department" in the last line.

Section 4 "permits for making connections with the public sewers, for street openings, and for occupying streets for building purposes, are issued by the Superintendent of Streets." Old manual reads: "Permits for making connections with the public sewers are issued by the Superintendent of Sewers; for street openings, by the Superintendent of Streets, and for occupying streets for building purposes, by the Inspector of Buildings."

Page 100—Attention is called to the fact that in Section 4 of Rule 49, Line 6, after the word "sewers" there should be a comma. The absence of the comma changes the sense of the paragraph.

Rules 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59 and 60 are altered to a great extent, and added to, and should be carefully read.

It will be seen that Chapter 47 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, and Chapter 6 of the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Aldermen of 1893, are bound with the manual. Attention is called to the fact that there are many changes in Chapter 6, and a few in Chapter 47.

The changes noted are among the most important. Other changes of minor importance have been made which are not here noted.

On Page 10 will be found a complete list of the legislative acts relating to the duties and authority of police officers of the City of Boston. These acts are also indexed.

STUDY OF PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

HOUSE BILL No. 817 was introduced on leave by Mr. Myers of Cambridge; it was referred to the Committee on Education. It is entitled

AN ACT RELATIVE TO STUDIES IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. Section 1 of Chapter 332 of the Acts of the year 1885 is hereby amended by striking out in the fifth line thereof the words "all schools," and inserting in place thereof the words "the highest grade of all grammar schools and in one grade at least of all high and latin schools," so as to read as follows:

Section 1. Physiology and hygiene, which, in both divisions of the subject, shall include special instruction as to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics on the human system, shall be taught as a regular branch of study to all pupils in the highest grade of all grammar schools and in one grade at least of all high and latin schools supported wholly or in part by public money, except special schools maintained solely for instruction in particular branches, such as drawing, mechanics, art and like studies. All acts or parts of acts relating to the qualifications of teachers in the public schools shall apply to the branch of study prescribed in this act.

SECT. 2. The following new section is hereby inserted after Section 1 of said chapter, as follows:

Section 2. No text-book on physiology or hygiene shall hereafter be purchased for use in any public school unless it has been approved by the Chairman and Secretary of the State Board of Health and by the Secretary of the State Board of Education.

SECT. 3. The last two sections of the said chapter are hereby renumbered.

SENATE BILL No. 41 accompanies the petition of Charles L. Morgan and Mary H. Hunt; it was referred to the Committee on Education. It is entitled

AN ACT TO AMEND THE LAW REQUIRING PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE TO BE TAUGHT IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. Section 1 of Chapter 332 of laws of A.D. 1885 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

That the nature of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics and their effects on the human system shall be taught in connection with the several divisions of physiology and hygiene, as thoroughly as are other branches, in all schools supported wholly or in part by public money, including all evening common schools, and in all schools connected with reformatory institutions.

All pupils in the above-mentioned schools below the second year of the high schools and above the third year of school work, computing from the beginning of the lowest primary year, or in corresponding classes of ungraded schools, shall be taught and shall study this subject every year from suitable text-books in the hands of all pupils, in not less than three lessons a week for fourteen or more weeks of each year, and must pass the same tests for promotion in this as in other studies.

In all such schools all pupils in the lowest three primary school years, or in corresponding classes in ungraded schools, shall each year be instructed in this subject orally in not less than three lessons a week for ten weeks in each year, by teachers using text-books adapted for such oral instruction as a guide and standard.

The text-book in the pupils' hands shall be graded to the capacities of the fourth year, intermediate, grammar and high school pupils, or to corresponding classes in ungraded schools.

For students below high school grade such text-books shall give at least one-fifth their space, and for students of high school grade, shall give not less than twenty pages to the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics. The pages on this subject, in a separate chapter at the end of the book, shall not be counted in determining the minimum. No text-book on physiology not conforming to this act shall be used in any public school except so long as may be necessary to fulfil the conditions of any legal adoption existing at the time of the passage of this act.

In all normal schools, teachers' training classes and teachers' institutes adequate time and attention shall be given to instruction in this branch and the best methods of teaching it. All acts or parts of acts relating to the qualifications of teachers in the public schools shall apply to the branch of study prescribed in this act.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to special schools maintained solely for instruction in particular branches, such as drawing, mechanics, art and like studies.

Sect. 2. The School Committees of all cities and towns, the principals of all normal schools and the supervising officers in all schools connected with reformatory institutions shall annually provide a definite time and place in the regular course of study for the given number of lessons in this branch and an adequate supply of text-books for the pupils' use as required by this act, and also for the teachers' use for oral instruction in primary classes and shall cause the requirements of this act to be complied with in all schools under their jurisdiction, and shall file with the Secretary of the State Board of Education an affidavit that all the provisions of this act have been complied with.

Any of the aforesaid officers who shall neglect or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall forfeit and pay for each offence the sum of not less than $5 and not more than $25. Failure to comply with all the provisions of this act on any school day to which it applies shall constitute an offence.

At the opening of each school year it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the State Board of Education to send to all School Committees, principals of normal schools and supervising officers of all schools connected with reformatory institutions, blanks containing the following questions:

First—Have you provided a definite time and place in the course of study in the schools under your jurisdiction for three lessons per week for fourteen weeks per year in physiology and hygiene, which include the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics upon the human system as specified in Section 1 of Act—, and has that study been pursued by all pupils in all schools under your jurisdiction as specified by that act, with the same tests for promotion as in other studies?

Second—Have you provided text-books on the foregoing topics that are adapted to the several grades, and that give the specified space to the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics which the law demands?

The school officers to whom these blanks are sent shall return them at the close of the school year to the Secretary of the State Board of Education with answers filled out and an affidavit that they have made thorough investigation as to the facts and that to the best of their knowledge, information and belief, these questions are truthfully answered and that all the provisions of this act have been complied with in the schools under their jurisdiction during the preceding year.

Any failure thus reported or otherwise satisfactorily proven shall be deemed by the Secretary of the State Board of Education to be sufficient cause to compel the payment by such delinquents of the forfeiture specified in this act.

All penalties which apply to the failure of a city or town to make other returns or reports to the Secretary of the State Board of Education shall apply to failures to report as specified by this act.

The Secretary of the State Board of Education shall cause all the provisions of this act to be enforced, and shall report annually to the Legislature any failure to comply with the same.

Trial justices, district, municipal and police courts shall have jurisdiction of offences under this act.

Sect. 3. This act shall take effect on the first day of August, in the year 1899.

According to a recent statement prepared by the Chief of the New Jersey Bureau of Statistics, the savings of the people of that State amounted to $87,434,000 in 1897. These figures include the deposits in New Jersey savings banks and building and loan associations. The contractor, who is paid $25 per week, furnishes 4 horses, 2 drivers, and 2 wagons of special design, etc., and assumes all risks and liabilities. ⁶ Other wagons were built by the department. ⁷ Average in 1894 was $225. ⁸ None are owned by the department; 4 vehicles with horses and drivers are employed regularly at $4 per day. Total cost of this service in 1898 was $3,679. ⁹ Part of feed raised, and not included in cost. ¹⁰ Not including certain incidental expenses.

HOUSE BILL No. 846 accompanies the petition, taken from the files of last year, of Samuel Eliot and others; it was referred to the Committee on Education. It is entitled

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, AND PROVIDING FOR A REORGANIZATION OF THE GOVERNMENT THEREOF.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The inhabitants of the City of Boston qualified to vote for its School Committee shall, at the annual municipal election occurring in the year 1898, elect nine persons, inhabitants of the city, to constitute, with three inhabitants of the city appointed by the Mayor thereof, the School Board of said city, the members of which shall serve without compensation; the three persons voted for who shall have received the largest number of votes shall hold their office for three years; the three persons who shall have received the next largest number of votes shall hold their office for two years; and the three persons who shall have received the next largest number of votes shall hold their office for one year. In case two or more persons voted for shall have received an equal number of votes, those who are the seniors by age shall for the division into classes hereby required be classified as if they had received the largest number of votes in the order of ages. The three members appointed by the Mayor shall be appointed by him within the week preceding the second Monday of January, 1899, for one, two and three years respectively. Thereafter, the voters qualified as aforesaid shall annually elect three persons, inhabitants of the city, to serve as members of the School Board for the term of three years, and the Mayor of the city shall appoint one person annually, within the week preceding the second Monday in January, to serve as a member of the School Board for three years.

Sect. 2. Certificates of election shall be issued by the Board of Election Commissioners to such and to so many of the members of said School Board as appear to have been chosen at such election, and certificates of appointment shall be issued by the Mayor to those whom he has appointed; but said School Board shall be the final judge of the qualifications and elections of its own members.

Sect. 3. The persons so elected and appointed as members of the School Board shall meet and organize on the second Monday in January, 1899, and annually thereafter. The unexpired term of office of all members and officers of the School Committee as hitherto organized and established shall terminate immediately upon the organization of the School Board elected and appointed under this act.

Sect. 4. The School Board shall have the supervision and direction of the public schools and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties in relation to the care and management of schools which are now exercised and performed by the School Committee of said city, except so far as they may be changed or modified by this act; shall succeed to the School Committee's corporate powers and rights, and shall have the powers and discharge the duties which may hereafter be imposed by law upon the school committees of cities and towns. They shall elect a Superintendent of Schools and a Business Agent; they shall organize a school faculty, and shall appoint visitors, as hereinafter set forth.

Sect. 5. A majority of all the members of the School Board shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. They shall choose a Secretary, not of their number, who shall also serve as Secretary to the Superintendent and inspectors as a board, an auditing clerk, and such other subordinate officers as they may deem expedient, and shall define their duties, fix their compensation, and may remove them at pleasure.

Sect. 6. The School Board, on or before the first day of February of the year 1899, shall estimate and determine the amount of money actually necessary to be levied for the current year for the support of the schools of the City of Boston, and shall certify the same to the City Council; and it shall annually, before the first day of January, certify to the City Council through its President and Secretary the amount of money it has estimated to be requisite for school purposes during the ensuing year; and the City Council thereupon shall cause the said amounts certified to be levied and collected as part of the annual tax levy, provided the amount of said estimation and tax shall not exceed one-third of one per centum of the total assessed valuation of the city for the current year; but with the consent of the City Council it may exceed such limitation.

Sect. 7. The School Board shall succeed to all the powers granted to the School Committee in relation to the purchase of land and its laying-out and maintenance for school purposes, and in relation to the erection of school buildings and the alteration and repair of the same; but certain of these powers shall be exercised for the School Board by the Business Agent under its direction, as herein set forth. And in case its powers are found insufficient to enable it to purchase the lands and erect the buildings it deems necessary for school purposes, the School Board shall certify its needs in this respect to the City Council, and with the consent of the City Council shall, through its Business Agent, erect such buildings and purchase such additional lands as it has certified as necessary.

Sect. 8. The School Board shall fix the compensation of Superintendent, Business Agent, inspectors, teachers, janitors, and of all other officers herein mentioned, except the expert accountants appointed by the Mayor. The School Board shall audit all expenses, but there shall be appointed by the Mayor for each year a Board of Audit consisting of three expert accountants of good reputation, who shall audit the accounts of the year and make a report thereon to the Mayor. The Board of Audit shall be paid by the city, and this payment shall not be part of the requisition referred to in Section 6.

Sect. 9. The votes of a majority of the whole number of the members of the School Board shall be necessary to elect the officers herein prescribed by it to be elected. Said officers shall hold office during good behavior and efficiency, but may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the members of the School Board. Visitors may be appointed and removed by the votes of a majority of a quorum.

Sect. 10. The appointment, promotion and dismissal of teachers shall be vested in the Superintendent. He shall report all proposed appointments, promotions and dismissals to the School Board, and these shall be final unless vetoed by a three-fourths vote of the Board. He shall, after consultation with the inspectors and school faculty, determine all courses of study and choose all text-books and other apparatus of teaching. He shall have direction of school attendance officers, who are to take the place of existing truant officers, and shall have the same power over their appointment and dismissal as that given him concerning teachers. Said body of school attendance officers shall include both men and women, who, under regulations provided by the School Board, shall investigate and report upon the cases of pupils absenting themselves from school, with a view to prevent rather than to punish such absence.

Sect. 11. The Business Agent, with such assistance as the School Board shall authorize and determine, shall, under direction of the School Board, have the care and maintenance of school-houses, the purchase of school supplies, the purchase of real estate, and the letting of contracts for the construction and repair of school-houses. He shall nominate and, by and with the consent of the School Board, shall appoint the architects of school-houses. He shall have a general oversight over all constructions and repairs. He shall have the appointment, control and dismissal of the janitors, engineers and other persons employed to work in or about the school-houses. Said Business Agent shall give bond, approved by the School Board, with sufficient surety or sureties in a sum to be determined by the School Board, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Boston, with a condition for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, before entering upon the same.

Sect. 12. The Superintendent shall nominate and, by and with the consent of the School Board, shall appoint not less than six nor more than twelve inspectors to serve for the term of three years, subject to removal by two-thirds vote of the School Board, or by the Superintendent with the approval of a majority of a quorum of the School Board. The inspectors shall act as assistants to the Superintendent in the performance of his duties. Examinations of teachers shall be in charge of the inspectors under the direction of the Superintendent, and certificates of qualification to teach may, after such examination, be issued by the Superintendent.

Sect. 13. A school faculty shall be organized by the School Board and shall consist of the Superintendent as President, ex-officio, of the inspectors, and of not less than thirty more members who shall be elected by the teachers of the schools (not including temporary teachers) from their own numbers; and so far as possible the School Board shall adopt rules of election to provide that every grade of instruction shall be represented, and that any school which does not fall within any particular grade shall also be represented. The faculty may consider all educational subjects, including such as are disciplinary and sanitary, and at its pleasure may report thereon to the School Board.

Sect. 14. There shall be two classes of visitors—visitors at large (not exceeding twenty in number) and local visitors (not exceeding three in number for each school district.) They shall serve without pay. This body of visitors shall include both men and women, and shall be invited by the School Board to visit the schools with a view to a larger public knowledge of school affairs and to personal and moral influence. Visitors at large shall be appointed from among the whole number of citizens. Local visitors shall be appointed from citizens who live in the district for which they are appointed. The body of visitors or the visitors of the same grade or school district may meet from time to time at the call of the Superintendent, or otherwise, and may report to the School Board on any subjects they wish to submit. Normal, High and Latin schools shall be considered each to constitute a district for the purpose of this section, and the metes and bounds of all school districts are left to the discretion of the School Board.

Sect. 15. The teachers, janitors, truant officers (hereafter to be designated school attendance officers) and employees of the schools of Boston, in office and employment at the time of the organization of this School Board, shall have the same tenure of office as if they had already been appointed under the provisions of this act.

Board Meetings.

Hospital Department.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital was held at the office of Mr. A. Shuman on February 6, at 2 o'clock.

There were present Messrs. Shuman, Sprague, Burnham, Keany and Rueter.

Mr. Burnham, as committee on laundry shafting and belting, reported that bids had been received, and recommended that the contract be given to the Blanchard Machine Company, the lowest bidder. It was voted that the report of Mr. Burnham be accepted, and that the bid of the Blanchard Machine Company of $1,810.98, for furnishing and installing shafting and belting, driving the laundry machinery in the new laundry building, be accepted, and that the President be authorized to sign the contract therefor. (For detail see page 123.)

An instrument was presented and read by Mr. Sprague, embodying the assent of the Trustees to the conveyance by A. F. Estabrook, et al., executors of the will of Thomas T. Wyman, of two parcels of land formerly belonging to the said Wyman, and situated on Washington street, in Boston, to the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Massachusetts Homœopathic Hospital, together with a release to them of all the interest of the Boston City Hospital, as one of the residuary legatees under the will in said estate, and it appearing that the two corporations assented to receive the estate in part payment of the amounts coming to them as residuary legatees under the will at the value set forth in the inventory of the estate, and that the executors had been unable to sell the estate for a larger sum than the appraisal, and, further, that the Boston City Hospital was to receive in cash the entire amount coming to it under the will, it was Voted, That the President be authorized and instructed in the name and behalf of the corporation, to execute and deliver to A. F. Estabrook, et al., executors of the will of Thomas T. Wyman, the instrument of assent and release presented.

It was voted that the Mayor and City Council be invited to the opening, on February 15, 1899, of the new surgical operating theatre, and that lunch be served; and voted, also, that on the Monday following, from 3 to 6 P.M., said surgical department and the Hospital generally be opened to the inspection of invited guests.

The resignation of Dr. George W. Gay as senior visiting surgeon, was received and referred to the Medical Committee.

It was voted that there be paid to the Boston Steel and Iron Company the sum of $290 on account of their contract of September 1, 1898, for iron frame work on covered passage between the administration building and the medical library, said amount to be charged to the appropriation for Hospital Department.

It was voted that there be paid to S. D. Hicks & Son the sum of $375, on account of their contract of September 1, 1898, for skylight work on covered passage between the administration building and the medical library, said amount to be charged to the appropriation for Hospital Department.

The following is a summary of the work performed by this Department for the week ending February 4, 1899:

OVERHEAD AND DEAD WIRE DIVISIONS.

Inspections made	381
Defects reported	60
Defects corrected	27
Notices of new work received	20
Dead wire removed (feet)	11,200
Fixtures removed	20
Poles inspected	19

Investigation has been made of electrical trouble reported on Harrison avenue, near Broadway extension. The same was found to be a trolley-wire which had been pulled down for a distance of several hundred feet by a broken guy-wire, which crossed the avenue and supported a derrick standing on the westerly side, and in use on the Boston and Albany Railroad improvements.

INTERIOR DIVISION.

Inspections made	75
Notices of new work received	259

Inspections have been made of the temporary wiring at the various theatres, and at one of them where the use of the wiring was forbidden, the owners preferred to discontinue its use rather than make the necessary corrections.

Investigation has been made of three fires reported as probably due to electricity at the following places: 196 Cambridge street, 175 Dartmouth street and at 19-25 Summer street. The fire at the former place was in no way due to electricity. At 175 Dartmouth street the fire was due to a cross between call-bell and electric-light wires. At the last place the fire was due to excessive heat from a bank of lamps used in an advertising sign, igniting combustible framework of same. This apparatus had never received an inspection or approval from this Department, having been installed without its knowledge.

UNDERGROUND DIVISION.

Electrical approvals have been granted as follows:

Building connections	8
Lamp connections	1
Repairs	4

Inspections have been made as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL COMMERCIAL COURSE.

In the Annual Report of the School Committee, recently published, the following statement regarding the newly-instituted course of commercial study is made:

The commercial course of study for high schools, which was formally adopted by the Board in 1897, was put into effect with the beginning of the term in September last under very favorable auspices. This course is for two years, and includes instruction in phonography, type-writing, elements of mercantile law, book-keeping, commercial geography and arithmetic, and is designed to afford full equipment for pupils who desire to fit themselves for active business life. Special teachers of recognized ability and long experience have been added to the corps of instructors in these schools where necessary, and the results to be obtained will be awaited with great interest. The following statement shows the number of pupils who are now taking this course in the several high schools:

Charlestown High School	45
Dorchester High School	60
East Boston High School	63

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to heads of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

Circular No. 58.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 23, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: You are hereby notified that the Repair Division of the Public Buildings Department, having its shops and headquarters at No 8 Plympton street, is now fully equipped for doing all kinds of ordinary cabinet work, whether in the nature of new work or repairs, as well as all branches of repair work upon buildings, as specified in Executive Circular No. 32 announcing the establishment of this Division. It has come to my attention that orders are still occasionally given by some heads of departments to outside contractors for the execution of work not directly in the nature of repairs upon buildings, but which should be performed by the Repair Division. Heads of departments are, therefore, directed to send in future all orders for miscellaneous cabinet work, such as the construction or repair of shelves, counters, tables, etc., including varnishing and polishing, to the Chief of this Division. While the Division does not undertake to make roll-top desks or chairs, all specially designed furniture or fittings required by any department should be procured from it.

The basis of the charges to be made by the Repair Division has been established at the actual cost of labor and materials, plus 10 per cent. to cover general expenses and contingencies; while it may be true in exceptional cases that purchases could be made directly by heads of departments as cheaply as by the Repair Division, I am satisfied that as to the great bulk of materials required the addition of 10 per cent. still leaves the price a low one, as the Division constantly carries considerable quantities of stock, and obtains in every case the benefit of the best discounts. All work done will be charged for upon this basis unless a fixed figure is given in writing by the Chief of the Division and accepted by the department having the work done, in which case the work must be paid for at such figure, without regard to the cost of executing it.

The following is the schedule of wages paid by the Repair Division to the mechanics in the different trades employed by it, approved by me, and labor performed will be charged for upon the basis of such rates — including in the case of jobbing work, taking less than a whole day, the time occupied by the workmen in going from the headquarters of the Division to the job and returning:

	Per day.
Carpenters	$2.70 and $3 00
Plumbers, with one helper	5 25
Painters	3 00
Glaziers	3 00
Furniture-polishers	3 00
Letterers	3 00
Decorators	3 00
Steam-fitters	3 75
Steam-fitter's helpers	2 50
Masons (foremen)	4 00

Mason's tenders	2 25
Bricklayers	3 60
Bricklayer's tenders	2 25
Roofers	3 00

Plasterer's tenders	2 50
Blacksmiths	3 00
Cabinet-makers	3 00
Granite-cutters	3 04
Laborers	2 00
Machine work in shop (per hour)	60

The Repair Division has been considerably inconvenienced in the past by the delay of some departments in paying bills for work done. While provision has now been made for a moderate working capital for the Division, it is still necessary that its bills should be promptly paid; heads of departments are, therefore, specially requested to see that all bills presented before the tenth of any month are passed for payment in the regular draft on the first day of the month succeeding.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

THE STORM AND THE STREETS.

Mr. Benjamin W. Wells, Superintendent of Streets, makes the following statement regarding the storm of February 12 and 13:

Succeeding a week of cold weather, during which some nine inches of snow had fallen, with the thermometer ranging from 4° below to 4° above zero, snow commenced falling on Sunday, the twelfth, at 6.45 in the morning, and continued all day with a light steady fall and not much wind, the snowfall for that day amounting to five and one-half inches, with the thermometer only a few degrees above the zero point. During Sunday plans were made for the handling of a moderate storm, and on Monday morning the Department had commenced work with the entire regular force of the Paving and Street-cleaning divisions. Monday the storm continued with increasing violence, snow falling until Tuesday morning, with a total snowfall of sixteen inches on the level, the weather still continuing very cold. The Weather Bureau reported snow unmelted on the ground at 8 P.M. on February 14, twenty-three inches.

Monday and Monday night the work of removing the snow was continued under most difficult conditions, with a high wind and very low temperature. Before night it was seen that the storm would rank as one of the big storms in the history of the Department, and arrangements were made to largely increase the force of men and teams. Many of the Sewer Division men and nearly the entire force of the Sanitary Division, with the Sanitary teams, were added to the force already at work. Careful arrangements were made for handling the storm, based on lines which had been indicated by the experience of three years, during which the Department had handled more snow than in any other years since the consolidation of the Street Department. Tuesday morning found the city well blocked with snow. Owing to the low temperature, the character of the fall was light and dry. The Elevated Road was thus able to keep its lines open, and in some respects the conditions were not so difficult as in the great storm of the preceding November. The streets, except those occupied by the Elevated tracks, were substantially impassable to any except light teams, every street having a level fall of at least sixteen inches, and added to this the snow from the sidewalks, and later, immense amounts of snow from the roofs and areas. Many of the streets, particularly the narrow ones, in the down-town section, were absolutely impassable to vehicles of any kind, the snow in many cases banking up from six to eight feet.

The matter of available dumping-points is one of the most important factors in the removal of a heavy snowfall, the cost and time of removal being very dependent on the number of the dumps and the length of haul to them. An extension of the dumping facilities at the Fort Hill dumping wharf had been planned, and Hecht's wharf, which has been leased by the city, was prepared for this purpose. To offset this advantage, however, the Charles river was frozen, and it was impossible to use one of the most convenient and valuable dumps, at the foot of Revere street. This dump it was necessary to abandon after very little use. In addition the dump on the Common was badly blocked with the great mass of snow which had been deposited there in the great November and succeeding storms, so that here again there was a very decided decrease in its value as a dumping-point. Arrangements were made to take every possible advantage of such dumping facilities as the Department did possess. Inspectors were assigned to each dump, every team working for the city received a number, and as each team came to the dump its number was checked, and it was seen to that there was as little delay as might be possible in the dumping of the loads and leaving the dump free for the teams following. This numbering and careful checking secured better work from the contractors, as the number of loads at the end of the day was checked up, and it was not possible for the teams to cut their work without the knowledge of the Department. Men were also stationed at certain points on the street to see that the teams were kept moving, and carried their loads as promptly as the conditions would permit.

The fire lines were soon opened, so that the apparatus could in all directions reach a car-track street. The main thoroughfares were opened with little delay, and the work proceeded until the down-town streets were in such condition as to permit of business.

The conditions of the storm were somewhat peculiar. There had been a fall of some nine inches the preceding week, and there was a sub-stratum of ice; and the cold dry fall of this storm made excellent sledding and the conditions of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were such that nearly all traffic was on runners. Under these conditions it was not desirable, with the thick fall of snow on the ground to cut the crossings to the pavement, as this would create so many bad and dangerous cradle-holes for teaming. It was not possible to open gutters until the immense accumulation of snow on the sides of the streets had been removed.

It is safe to say that in the down-town section a fall of sixteen inches means on a majority of the streets that at least three times that amount, or forty-eight inches, must be figured on, as the result of the great quantities thrown from the sidewalks, the roofs and the areas. Thus in certain streets it is necessary to clear them out two, three and even four times to make them passable.

There is another difficulty which perhaps is not appreciated by any except the few familiar with this kind of work, and the teamsters, and that is the fact that on every street where the travel is heavy the snow packs, forms ice, and must be removed from the pavements with picks. In this last storm, this ice formation was of unusual thickness and very hard. There is no other city in this country where the teaming is so heavy and the streets so narrow as in Boston. Thus the removal of this ice as promptly as possible is not only a matter of comfort, but one of absolute necessity. Team traffic would be well nigh paralyzed were it not for the constant work of the Department, day and night, since the storm ended. This portion of the work is not seen by the average citizen, as it is largely done at night on the busy streets; but it is the most important and necessary service that the Department can render,

There is one branch of the work which takes a very considerable amount of men and time to attend to, and which by itself makes very little showing in a general way, and that is the shoveling of certain public and plank sidewalks, the care of which rests on this Department. To illustrate the amount of this kind of work in the outlying districts, I need but mention one as a sample—Dorchester, where on this storm there have been shoveled twenty miles of sidewalks, and opened with plows or by shoveling 170 miles of gutter. The conditions in the other nine districts are similar to Dorchester.

The visit of President McKinley made one of the early duties of the Department in this storm the clearing of the streets over which the presidential party were to pass on their way from the South station to the hotel, the early clearing away of the immense mass about the State House and its approaches, and the prompt removal of a great quantity of snow from Huntington avenue, in front of Mechanics building, where the Home Market Club dinner was to be held. This work was promptly done, and Superintendent Wells is in receipt of a note of thanks from Governor Wolcott for the condition in which these streets were put.

The first three days after the storm continued very cold. Then came a sudden thaw with rain, which made the 500 miles of accepted streets running ponds of water and slush. There had not been sufficient time for the removal of the banks of snow on the sides of the streets except in a portion of the central down-town section of the city. This brought about a condition of things which made foot travel difficult and uncomfortable; and even assuming that the appropriation of the Department was sufficiently elastic to permit the putting on of larger numbers of men, the natural difficulties to be overcome would hardly have warranted the effort and expense. Saturday the force of crossing-men was increased by several hundred, and the work in the outlying districts taken up more fully.

This storm was in some respects a most difficult one to handle. It was necessary to promptly remove, first, the mass of snow which had fallen, and then, on substantially every down-town street, to pick away the ice. The hard traffic conditions in the streets used for business purposes, if allowed to continue, would have entailed an immense amount of loss to the merchants, the store-keepers and the teamsters. Superintendent Wells's belief is that the necessities of the situation should be faced first, and on this line the work of the Department has been developed.

Although the appropriation for snow purposes in the city is but a comparatively small one, when such storm conditions as have been experienced the last two years have to be met, and the amount available this year not being sufficient to even cover this one storm (the balance being taken from paving maintenance, thus reducing the amount available for next summer's work), money has not been spared where the conditions were such as to warrant its expenditure. At the same time a careful eye has been kept on the expenditures, and no money has been wasted in the attempt to accomplish the impossible in the outlying districts.

Following is a statement of the number of days labor, number of days teaming, and the number of loads of snow removed by the Street Department from Sunday, February 12, to Thursday, February 23, inclusive:

Number days labor, Paving Division
men	9,831
Number days labor, Sewer Division
men	4,785
Number days labor, Street-Cleaning Division
men	3,983
Number days labor, Sanitary Division
men	1,175
Total number days labor	19,774
Number of single teams employed (hired and city teams)	4,196
Number of double teams employed (hired and city teams)	3,340
Number of four-horse teams employed (hired and city teams)	71
Total number of teams employed	7,607

Total number of loads of snow removed: Single, 37,599; double, 18,235.

In addition to the above, a portion of the Paving and Street-cleaning forces will be engaged on snow work chargeable to this storm for another week. The city streets, however, are now in what may be called a normal winter condition, and it therefore seems proper to bring the statement of the storm to a close at this date.

The statement of the weather conditions prior to, during and after the storm shows that the high temperature continued, materially assisting in the clearing away of the snow in the outlying sections, but at the same time creating the cradled condition of the down-town streets, and after the first three or four days, forcing team travel back to wheels.

There is no more wearing or tiring work than that which devolves on those in charge of the removal of the snow after a heavy storm, requiring as it does constant planning and supervision with continuous exposure to the weather the entire day and the greater portion of the night, including Sundays and holidays, until certain sections are clear and free for travel. Those charged with the work, deputies and district foremen, I desire to thank for their constant and intelligent work, which made the successful clearing of the streets possible.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Chapters 494 and 496 of the Acts of 1898 embody certain important changes in regard to school attendance and truancy in the Commonwealth.

Under the new law, no child under fourteen years of age can be employed in a factory, workshop or mercantile establishment. It also forbids his employment for wages while school is in session, and all employment before 6 in the morning and after 7 in the evening.

The old law required thirty weeks' school attendance on the part of a child during the year after he had attained the age of thirteen, and allowed his employment during vacations by means of permits which were granted for a limited time under certain conditions.

Under the new law, attendance upon school is made compulsory for all children between the ages of seven (instead of eight, as heretofore) and fourteen years during the entire time (instead of thirty weeks, and without an allowance of two weeks of unexcused absence, as heretofore) the public schools are in session.

PROPER ORGANIZATION OF CITIES.

The following resolve, being House Bill No. 520, accompanies the petition taken from the files of last year of the Municipal League of Boston, for legislation providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate questions relating to the proper organization of cities:

RESOLVE TO PROVIDE FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE QUESTIONS RELATING TO THE PROPER ORGANIZATION OF CITIES.

Resolved, That the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, is authorized to appoint a Board of Commissioners, to consist of suitable persons, to consider and report upon the proper organization of cities in this Commonwealth, as to whether there should be one or two legislative chambers; as to whether the presiding officer or officers thereof should be elected by popular vote or otherwise; as to whether the tax limit of expenditures of the cities, or any of them, should be increased or diminished; as to whether the debt limit of the cities, or any of them, should be increased or diminished; and, as to whether any other changes, and, if so, what are desirable in the charters of said cities.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, February 27, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following message from His Honor the Mayor was received:

Loan Order.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 27, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith the general loan order passed this day by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, under the provisions of Section 3 of Chapter 434 of the Acts of 1898.

The total amount covered by the order is $709,000, out of a total borrowing capacity at the present date of $1,650,080.26, leaving an unused borrowing capacity of $941,080.26. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has, however, voted that it is prepared to appropriate the sum of $500,000 for new primary and grammar school buildings, whenever it is furnished by the School Committee with a statement of the proposed distribution of this amount, in the different districts of the city.

If this amount is added to the amount carried by the present order, there would only be left $441,080.26 of the borrowing capacity for the current year. The law provides that not exceeding four-fifths of the total estimated borrowing capacity can be exhausted by a general loan order, but the Board has thought it necessary to reserve a somewhat larger amount on account of the case now pending in the Supreme Court to test the sewerage assessment law.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

February 27, 1899.

Leave of Absence for Policemen.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 23, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Police in regard to your order requesting the Board to so amend its regulations as to permit two (2) days leave of absence a month, without loss of pay, to each member of the Police Department.

Respectfully yours,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

February 21, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: The Board of Police is in receipt of an order passed by the Honorable Common Council, requesting this Department to amend its regulations so as to permit two days leave of absence a month to each member of said Department without loss of pay.

In reply, would say: The Board has given this matter careful consideration and finds that it would be impossible to comply with this order without great detriment to the efficiency of the Department, or adding very largely to its annual expenditure.

There are now 1,129 officers of all grades in the Police Department, and if the provisions of this order were carried out, allowing twenty-four days leave of absence for each man and maintaining the same standard of efficiency by increasing the number of men in the Department, as we should necessarily be obliged to do, it would cost $91,440 per annum. This, in addition to the ordinary absentees on account of sickness and leave of absence, which would average about fifty men per day, would cripple the efficiency of the Department unless some provision were made to increase the number of men on duty.

Notwithstanding the increase in the number of patrolmen during the past few years, there is a constant demand for more police officers, not only for ordinary patrol duty, but for special work, such as protection for street crossing and other special details.

In view of these facts the Board does not see how it would be justified in complying with the request made in this order of the Common Council.

Very respectfully,

A. P. MARTIN, Chairman.

Elevator Accident.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 23, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

The unfortunate and alarming accident occasioned by the falling of one of the elevators in City Hall, on February 16, was at once made the subject of investigation by the City Engineer, at my direction, and also by the Building Department in the course of the regular performance of its duties. I now transmit herewith, for your information, communications from the City Engineer, from the Building Commissioner, and from the Whittier Machine Company, which had inspected the elevator.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

(The communications of the City Engineer and the Whittier Machine Company were printed on page 113 of THE CITY RECORD).

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, February 23, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I enclose herewith for your information, the report made to me by three of the building inspectors of this Department in respect to the elevator accident which occurred at City Hall on February 16.

Respectfully,

JOHN S. DAMRELL,

Building Commissioner.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, February 17, 1899.

JOHN S. DAMRELL, ESQ., Building Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your instruction, the undersigned have investigated the accidental fall of the westerly elevator in City Hall on Thursday afternoon last, and beg leave to submit the following report:

The hoisting machinery is located in the basement of the building, and is operated by hydraulic power, supplied from tank pressure. The apparatus consists of a horizontal cast-iron cylinder, nine feet in length and twenty-six inches internal diameter, within which a piston is actuated by a flow of water that is regulated by the movement of a rope inside the passenger car. The piston is attached by means of a hollow cast-iron tube, seven inches external, and six inches internal, diameter, to travelling sheaves carrying four metallic cables, five-eighths of an inch in diameter, to which the car is suspended.

The tube or piston-rod is connected with the sheaves by means of a yoke or cross-head that serves to maintain the sheaves in position and to communicate motion. This apparatus raises the car by a pulling force upon the cables that are set in motion by the application of water within the cylinder which forces the piston outward and causes a force to be exerted by means of the piston-rod against the sheaves, which are thus given a horizontal movement, each sheave at the same time revolving independently and thus drawing the cables over stationary pulleys located overhead in the elevator shaft, and raising the car to the height desired. The descent is accomplished by gravity when the valve is opened to allow the escape of water from the cylinder, the column of water in which cylinder supports the car and permits its stoppage whenever the valve is closed.

At the time the accident occurred the elevator was ascending and had nearly reached the second landing. It contained six passengers, besides the operator, all of whom were injured, and several quite severely.

The operator reports that he noticed no difference in the action of the car until it began to fall. It fell a distance of about thirty feet, and is apparently uninjured, except that the glass windows and chandelier are broken. The piston-rod is broken at a point near the cross-head, which also is broken and detached. The broken end of the piston-rod rests upon the concrete floor and the other end is partially torn from the piston-head. The movable sheaves were forced against the end of the cylinder, which they must have struck with some power, for the flanges are broken and they are thrown out of line. It is evident that the car began to fall when the ruptured piston-rod no longer held the sheaves in place. Their freedom from the supporting column of water in the cylinder left nothing to prevent the fall of the car, the weight of which caused the cables to unwind.

We find that the car is provided with a safety appliance that is not carried into action except by a slackening or breakage of the cables. In this instance, however, the weight of the falling car maintained the cables taut, and thus prevented the engagement of the safety device. That this apparatus is in good condition is manifest from the fact that the car is now held by the safety appliance, having rebounded when it reached the limit of descent and thus slackened the cables which no longer prevented the engagement of the said appliance.

It seems reasonable to infer that the speed of the falling car was somewhat checked before it completed the descent, the cables having become caught upon the broken and ragged end of the piston-rod, which was forced outward so as to bring a restraining force into operation by means of the entangled cables. This is conjectural, but in this singular case conclusions must be reached by inference and conjecture. The cause of the accident itself must forever remain in doubt, although it is quite apparent that it is attributable to a well defined flaw in the metal comprising the piston-rod, at the point of fracture. It can never be certainly determined that the initial rupture was where the flaw exists, but presuming that the derangement first occurred at this point of weakness, it is not difficult to account for what followed, while upon any other theory the conditions cannot so easily be explained, even if they admit of explanation.

The imperfection to which the accident may be attributable extends for several inches lengthwise of the piston-rod and inward to a depth of from one-eighth inch to one-fourth inch or half through the shell of the tube. Parts of the metal seem porous and structurally weak, without texture or cohesive strength, and from a superficial examination it can be determined that the quality of the iron is itself defective and unsuitable to be employed in the manufacture of vital parts of machinery upon the integrity of which human life depends. In this instance had the metal been of better quality and in greater quantity the accident might not have occurred.

In conclusion we place on record the conviction that the defect, so easily perceptible after the accident, could not have been detected by any provision within the grasp of human thought or by any power of human perception. Were it suspected or known to exist, its discovery would have been improbable by the ordinary methods of inspection, or by any method in vogue to discover impairment in metallic substances.

THOMAS J. LAVERY,

Building Inspectors.

Repair of Faneuil Hall.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 23, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith, for the information of your body, a communication addressed to me by the Consulting Architect, in reference to Faneuil Hall.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, ARCHITECTURAL DIVISION.

City Hall, February 3, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I have thought it best to lay before you the exact condition to date of all matters relating to the reconstruction of Faneuil Hall, for the purpose of enlightening the members of the Common Council, if you see fit.

No member of that body has visited this office for information on the subject, and the discussion in the Council last Thursday evening was based on utterly wrong premises.

In March, 1898, Messrs. Woodbury & Leighton gave this office an approximate estimate for the reconstruction of Faneuil Hall, provided that this reconstruction need only include from the ceiling of the market floor up. They felt that the old work below this line was strong enough even to carry safely the heavier iron and plaster work of the new construction. Under these conditions the estimate for the entire work was about $80,000, and on this estimate an appropriation was immediately asked for to allow this office to at once prepare for actual operations.

I personally explained to the Committee on Finance that this was only an estimate which I then considered too low, and asked for $100,000 which I felt would be necessary to properly complete the work.

The matter of preserving the old substructure was next referred to the Engineering Department and they strongly objected to let any of the old work stand unless every column was examined as well as its foundation. The result of this examination was that the Engineering Department decided that fifty of the old columns must be replaced. This, of course, greatly added to the cost of the undertaking, but on this new basis, specifications were written and estimates invited. It was found that one item, the examination of foundations below cellar floor, and the strengthening of the same, if necessary, had better be left to day work, for bids for such work would have to be made by guess work and the contractor would certainly estimate high enough to protect himself.

Seven estimates were received as follows:

Woodbury & Leighton	$78,500
James Fagan	84,337
J. S. Jacobs & Son	84,943
Gerry & Norcross	91,773
Norcross Brothers	97,000
E. Noyes Whitcomb	99,800
Connery & Wentworth	101,000

The estimate of Woodbury & Leighton was accepted. This included everything about the building, with the exception of heating and ventilation, plumbing and electric lighting, and the day work on the foundations, if the same was found necessary.

As the appropriation made by the City Council for the work was but $80,000, and as the contract estimate was $78,500, it was deemed advisable at the time to deduct from Woodbury & Leighton's contract such items of work as need not be done until the last thing. Therefore a reduction amounting to $7,000 was made for painting, plastering, etc., with the agreement with the contractors that the same amount should be added to the contract again when an additional appropriation was made.

This extra sum allowed us to make borings to determine the condition of the soil, to take care of the pictures and other works of art in the building, and to do any preliminary work on plumbing and heating which, if postponed later, would mean unnecessary cutting and jobbing of completed work.

The work was started in September, 1898, and to date there has not been a single unforeseen extra incurred, and only one payment to the contractor has been made, amounting to $5,312.50.

The additional appropriation of $23,000 asked for at this time is to entirely complete the building, and it is to take care of the following matters:

Heating and ventilation	$5,000
Plumbing	3,000
Painting and plastering (originally deducted)	7,000
Electric work	8,000

This last item of $8,000 for electric work is the estimate furnished by the Electrical Construction Division.

I should be very glad to have all our drawings, specifications and contract, as well as the conduct of this work, examined by any member or members of the Council. If any just criticism can be made I shall be very glad to hear it.

Respectfully yours,

F. W. CHANDLER,

Consulting Architect.

Exposition projects are multiplying. It is proposed to hold a colonial exposition in Omaha in 1899; an industrial exposition in Philadelphia in 1899; an exposition in Detroit in 1901 to celebrate the second centennial of the discovery of that place; a Pan-American exposition in Buffalo in 1901; a Pacific Ocean and international exposition in San Francisco in 1901; a centennial celebration at Toledo in 1902 of Ohio's admission to the Union, and St. Louis and New Orleans have planned expositions for 1903 in commemoration of the Louisiana purchase. The Paris international exposition is set for 1900, and the Glasgow world's fair for 1901.

The steamer Deutschland, now building for the Hamburg-American Line at the Vulcan Yard, near Stettin, will be the largest of passenger steamers. The vessel has a length of 663 feet, a breadth of sixty-seven feet and a depth of forty-four feet. The steamer will be launched in about six months, but it is not expected that she will be ready for service until 1900.

The following is an abstract of the records of a meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners held February 20, 1899:

On the orders of the Common Council, referred to him at the last meeting, the Superintendent reported against the playing of polo at Wood Island Park on account of the danger to skaters, and that the lateness of the season made it inadvisable to light Charlestown Playground or prepare additional grounds for skating.

Voted, That on the application of Henry W. Savage, Medfield street, as laid out from St. Mary's street to Audubon road, on a plan by William H. Whitney, dated February 17, 1899, be approved, so far as to its entrance into said Audubon road, provided that the making of said entrance, including the curbstones and surfacing of the street, at its junction with Audubon road, be in accordance with the directions, and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Parks.

A notice to owners of teams that the annual drawing for teams will be held on March 10, at 3.30 P.M., was approved and directed to be advertised.

GEORGE F. CLARKE, Secretary.

Statistics Department.

The thirty-eighth meeting of the Statistics Department was held in Room 73, City Hall, on January 9, 1899, at 3.35 P.M., Messrs. Dewey, Folsom, Jackson and Minot being present. Mr. Minot occupied the chair.

Mr. Minot explained the purport of a proposed communication to the School Board, asking their co-operation in compiling statistics as to the cost of constructing and maintaining school buildings.

It was voted to authorize the Chairman to proceed with the publication of Special Publication No. 3 if satisfactory terms could be secured from the Printing Department.

The question of instituting a statistical inquiry as to the cost of public improvements in certain suburban sections, and the relation of such cost to the assessed valuation and taxes collected in those sections, was discussed. It was agreed that the Brighton District, Ward 25, was the section which could most feasibly be studied.

Mr. Minot reported that a portion of the balance from the year's appropriation would be expended, under the direction of Mr. Jackson, in the preparation of maps for the use of the Department.

The thirty-ninth meeting of the Statistics Department was held at 3.40 P.M. in Room 73, City Hall, on February 13, 1899. Present: Messrs. Dewey, Jackson, Minot, Pearmain and Weld. Mr. Minot occupied the chair.

Circular No. 55, to the heads of departments, from His Honor the Mayor, was considered. It was voted that, in accordance with Circular No. 55, all salaries in the Statistics Department, amounting to \$1,000 and upward, be reduced $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.; and all salaries exceeding \$700 per year, and not exceeding \$1,000, be reduced 5 per cent.; said reductions to take effect on February 1, 1899, and to continue in effect until otherwise ordered.

EDWARD M. HARTWELL, Secretary.

The number of cities in the German Empire having electric railways numbered three at the close of the year 1891. They increased to nineteen in 1894, and on September 1, 1898, numbered sixty-eight in all.

The largest shaft ever made by the Bethlehem Iron Company will be used by the Boston Elevated Railway Company in its 8,000 horse-power engine. With its fittings the shaft will weigh 170,000 pounds.

The City of Paris has laid out an exercise ground for use in the training of automobile cabmen. Dummy figures are placed at various points within the training-ground, which includes two hills and sections of roadway laid with different kinds of pavement, e. g., wood, asphalt and stone. As a rule the cabmen require but ten lessons to enable them to secure certificates of fitness. Each cab is supplied with sufficient power to run it thirty miles at the rate of eight miles an hour.

DEATH OF EX-CONGRESSMAN RANNEY.

Hon. Ambrose A. Ranney died at his residence on Massachusetts avenue, on Sunday, the fifth instant, in his seventy-eighth year. Mr. Ranney, who was born in Townsend, Vermont, in April, 1821, was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1844. In the interval between his graduation from college and his admission to the bar of his native State, Mr. Ranney taught school and studied law. Soon after his admission to the bar, in 1848, he removed to Boston and established himself as a lawyer. Mr. Ranney became prominent in politics as well as in law.

In 1855 Mr. Ranney held the office of City Solicitor. In 1857 he was elected by the Whig party to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, to which he was returned in 1863 and again in 1864 by the Republicans.

Mr. Ranney represented his party for three consecutive terms in the United States House of Representatives, being first elected from the Third Congressional District in 1880. In Congress he was prominent as a member of the Committee on Elections and of the Committee on the Judiciary. Since his retirement from Congress he had devoted himself to the practice of his profession.

STREET WATERING.

Following is the full text of the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the case of Joshua M. Sears vs. the Board of Aldermen and the Superintendent of Streets of the City of Boston regarding assessments for street watering:

KNOWLTON J. This is a petition for a writ of certiorari to quash alleged illegal assessments laid to meet the cost of watering streets in the City of Boston, under the Statute of 1897, c. 419.

The first and most important question in the case is whether this statute is constitutional. The right of the Legislature to raise money by taxation is founded upon c. 1., § 1., Art. XIV. of the Constitution of the Commonwealth. Under this article there is authority "to impose and levy reasonable duties and excises upon any produce, goods, wares, merchandise and commodities," etc. This authority we need not consider in the present case. Secondly, there is authority "to impose and levy proportional and reasonable assessments, rates and taxes upon all the inhabitants of and persons resident of estates lying within the said Commonwealth." The watering of streets in thickly settled portions of cities is such a public benefit that it legitimately may be provided for at the public expense. So far as it promotes the comfort, convenience and prosperity of the people generally as distinguished from land owners it should be provided for by general taxation, which involves the assessment of proportional and reasonable taxes upon all persons and property within the city. The statute purports to authorize every city not only to "appropriate money for watering the public ways or portions thereof within its limits at the expense in whole or in part of the city," but also to "determine that certain other public ways or portions thereof shall be watered at the expense, in whole or in part, of the abutters thereon." St. 1897, c. 419, § 1. This last provision calls for another kind of taxation which is local and special. Such taxation, under the Constitution, can only exist when there is a special or peculiar benefit to certain real estate, different from that which is received by the inhabitants generally.

The owners of the land upon which such an assessment is made must pay the same share of the general taxes in proportion to the value of their property that other persons pay. As the Constitution requires that taxes shall be proportional and reasonable, this additional special tax can be justified only where there is a special benefit to property from the expenditure on account of which the assessment is made. Wright v. Boston, 9 Cush. 233-234. Mount Auburn Cemetery v. Cambridge, 150 Mass. 12-14. Dorgan v. Boston, 12 Allen, 223-237. Boston v. Boston & Albany Railroad Company, 170 Mass. 95. Norwood v. New York & New England Railroad Company, 161 Mass. 259-264. Village of Norwood v. Baker, 19 Sup. Ct. Rep. 187. Stuart v. Palmer, 74 N. Y. 189. Sharp v. Spear, 4 Hill, 82. Hammett v. Philadelphia, 65 Penn. St. 146-157. Tide Water Company v. Coster, 18 N. J. Eq. 527. City of Norfolk v. Chamberlain, 89 Va. 196-213. Nichols v. Bridgeport, 23 Conn. 189. Thomas v. Gain, 35 Mich. 162. Taylor v. Palmer, 31 Cal. 254. Sheehan v. Good Samaritan Hospital, 50 Mo. 155. In the last analysis the assessment is not laid as a part of the burden of public expenditure put upon the land, for the burdens which are strictly public are to be shared proportionately by all the people, according to the value of their taxable property. It is rather in the nature of a diminution of that which at first is a public burden, by subtracting from it the amount of the special enhancement of value of private property from the expenditure of public money in part for its benefit. It is taxation in the sense that it is a distribution of that which is originally a public burden, growing out of the expenditure primarily for a public purpose.

It is a grave question whether the benefit that comes to abutting property from the watering of the streets in front of it is such an improvement to the property that it can be made the subject of an assessment upon it. There must be a real substantial enhancement of value growing out of a public work to warrant an assessment upon it. The watering of streets produces only transitory effects, and makes no permanent change in the condition of the property. It greatly promotes the health and comfort of the people generally who use the streets from time to time, but its greatest benefit is to the abutting estates as places for residence or the transaction of business.

Indeed, so much more important to the occupants than to the general public have been the benefits from watering streets, that until lately the expense of the work in this Commonwealth has usually been borne by the abutters, who have procured the watering to be done by private contractors. If a special benefit, accruing from day to day, which very materially increases the rental value of real estate by reason of the proximity of the property to the place where the beneficial work is done, can be treated as an improvement within the reason of the rule which permits special assessments, then such assessments may be made to pay the expense of watering streets. With some hesitation we hold that there is an improvement of private property when this work is done by a city, which may warrant an assessment upon the abutters.

It was so held in State v. Reis, 38 Minn. 371, and in Reimkin v. Fuehring, 130 Ind. 382, although the cases generally which uphold such assessments relate to improvements of a permanent character. Many improvements, from which real estate receives an incidental advantage, are held to justify only general taxation. Hammett v. Philadelphia, 65 Penn. St. 146. Washington avenue, 69 Penn. St. 352. Erie v. Russell, 148 Penn. St. 384-386. Dyar v. Farmington, 70 Me. 527. McClosky v. Chamberlain, 37 N. J. L. 388. Dietz v. Neenah, 91 Wis. 422-427.

Treating the watering of a street in a city as a work which may cause a direct, special and peculiar benefit to abutting estates, and thus enhance their value so long as it continues, we come to the question whether the mode of assessment directed by this Statute is within the constitutional power of the Legislature. Section 2 of the Statute is as follows: "If a city shall determine that the streets, or certain streets, or portions of streets, within its limits shall be watered in whole or in part at the expense of the abutters, the expense of the watering of such streets, or portions of streets, for that municipal year, and the proportion of such expense to be borne by abutters, and the rate to be assessed upon each linear foot of frontage of estate upon such streets, or portions thereof, shall be estimated and determined by the Board of Aldermen, and the expense so determined of such watering to be borne by the abutters, shall be assessed in the manner hereinafter provided, upon the estates abutting on such streets, or portions of streets, in proportion to the number of linear feet of such estate upon the street, or portion thereof, so watered." Section 3 provides for a determination of the amount of the assessments either by the Board of Aldermen or by that one of several other specified boards of public officers, which the Aldermen may designate. Section 4 declares that each assessment shall be a lien upon the estate on which it is laid, and directs the collection of assessments in like manner as other taxes are collected, and provides for abatements.

It is now established by the highest judicial authority that such assessments cannot be so laid upon any estate as to be in substantial excess of the benefit received. The case of Village of Norwood v. Baker, 19 Sup. Ct. Rep. 187, contains an elaborate discussion of the subject with a citation of authorities from many of the states, and holds that a local assessment for an amount in substantial excess of the benefit received is in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, inasmuch as it would deprive one of his property without compensation, and so without due process of law. The authority of this court is controlling in all state courts, and if it were not, it is in accordance with sound principles and with the great weight of authority in other courts. The principles which have often been stated by this court lead to the same result. Boston v. Boston and Albany Railroad Company, 170 Mass. 95-101, and cases cited. The case of Kingman, Petitioner, 153 Mass. 566, dealt with a legislative distribution of public burdens among different political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth, and the language in it must be construed in reference to the facts to which it relates. The right to apportion public burdens among cities, towns and counties as it deems reasonable in reference to benefits and to other considerations, which are not capable of exact estimation in money, is within the power of the Legislature under the first part of c. 1, § 1 Art. IV. of the Constitution, and is not the same as the right to impose and levy taxes upon individuals.

It is of the same nature as the right to create, change or abolish cities, towns or other political sub-divisions of the Commonwealth.

While these assessments must be founded upon benefits, the courts have generally recognized the difficulty, and in many cases the impracticability of attempting to estimate benefits to estates one by one without some rule or principle of general application which will make the assessments reasonable and proportional, according to the benefits. Accordingly the determination of such a rule or principle by the Legislature itself, or by the tribunal appointed by the Legislature to make the assessments, has commonly been upheld by the courts. If, however, its effect plainly is to make an assessment upon any estate substantially in excess of the benefit received, it is set aside. Weed v. Boston, 171 Mass. 51 N. E. Rep. 204. Village of Norwood v. Baker, ubi supra. Assessments of special taxes by an estimate of the particular benefits to each lot, by measurement of the amount of frontage upon the street or sewer, by the measurement of the area of the lots, and by the valuation of the property, have all been sustained. Springfield v. Gay, 12 Allen, 612. Dorgan v. Boston, 12 Allen, 233. Downer v. Boston, 7 Cush. 277. Wright v. Boston, 9 Cush. 233. Workman v. Worcester, 118 Mass. 168. Keith v. Boston, 120 Mass. 108. Snow v. Fitchburg, 136 Mass. 183. Howe v. Cambridge, 114 Mass. 388. Chapin v. Worcester, 124 Mass. 464. Codman v. Johnson, 104 Mass. 491. Leominster v. Conant, 139 Mass. 384. But as we have already intimated, the only ground on which they can properly rest is that they are methods reasonably determined upon, by the tribunals charged with the duty of determining, in reference to the ascertainment of the benefits actually received by the different estates on which assessments are to be laid. It may be that, in the light of recent decisions, some of these cases would have been decided differently, but in general they rest on sound principles, on the grounds already stated. Most of our cases and our statutes assume under the Constitution that these assessments, like other taxes, are to be reasonable, and, in a general sense, proportional.

Under the present statute it is implied that the Board of Aldermen and the tribunal making assessments will proceed upon correct principles, and assess according to the benefits received, unless the requirement that the assessments are to be "in proportion to the number of linear feet of each estate upon the street or portion thereof so watered" is objectionable as founded upon a wrong principle. Such requirements in regard to ordinary estates fronting upon streets and sewers have often been upheld.

On the other hand, in reference to estates differently situated, they sometimes would call for assessments far beyond any benefit received, and would therefore be unconstitutional and void. Weed v. Boston, ubi supra. No facts appear in the present case to show that this rule is not proper in its application to the petitioner's estates, as the method of determining benefits with such approximation to accuracy as can reasonably be required. There may be unoccupied lands in the city which are so situated that they could receive no substantial benefit, either actually or potentially, from the watering of adjacent streets, so long as they remain in their present condition.

Assessments made upon such lands might be void; but as the case does not disclose such, we have no occasion to consider them. We see no reason why the Legislature may not authorize a city to water some of its streets at the public expense, and to assess benefits for the watering of others upon abutters, as it deems best. As a result, some land-owners get the benefit of watering streets adjacent to their estates without paying for the special benefit.

But perfect equality in the distribution of public burdens is not attainable. We are, therefore, of opinion that in its application to the facts of the present case the statute is constitutional.

If the Aldermen might cause some of the streets to be watered at the expense of the city, and others to be watered at the expense of the abutters, it is not shown that their determination in regard to it was improper.

Although the proceedings were in some respects informal, we see no fatal error in them. We are inclined to agree with the petitioner's counsel in his contention that the determination of the expense of watering streets to be watered in whole or in part at the expense of the abutters, and the proportion of such expense to be borne by the abutters, and the rate to be assessed upon each linear foot of frontage of estates upon which such streets, or portions thereof, is to be by the Board of Aldermen, and cannot be delegated to any other board or tribunal. But we are also of opinion that the action of the Superintendent of Streets in making these assessments and reporting them to the Board of Aldermen with the communication of the Mayor, and the subsequent order making an appropriation, taken in connection with the previous orders, are equivalent to an original determination of these matters by the Aldermen themselves. The petitioner shows no such error as to entitle him to a right of certiorari.

Petition dismissed.

HOUSES ORDERED VACATED AND DEMOLISHED DURING FEBRUARY.

During the month of February houses situated at 23 Bow street and at 71 Hanover street were ordered vacated, and house at second rear of 24 Norman street was ordered to be removed by the Board of Health.

FREE MUNICIPAL CONCERTS.

The Music Commission has voted to give another series of Municipal Chamber Concerts in various sections of the city. Fifteen of these concerts have already been given in different localities, and the audiences have been limited only by the size of the halls used. Nearly 20,000 tickets have been issued and distributed by clergymen, charitable societies and local stores. The next series as planned will be held as follows:

Tuesday, April 4 — Shurtleff School, South Boston.

The quartette engaged for these concerts consists of Carl Peirce, first violin; Bernard Fiedler, second violin; Samuel Goldstein, viola; Leon Van Vliet, 'cellist. The vocalists are Fred L. Benjamin, baritone; Annette Welsh McMunn, contralto; Zelda Rotali, soprano; Albert H. Houghton, baritone. Mr. James T. Whelan is the accompanist.

COMMERCE OF BOSTON.

The following, relating to the commerce of Boston, is taken from the General Trade Review of the Thirteenth Annual Report of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, compiled by Mr. Elwyn G. Preston, Secretary:

The foreign trade carried on through the Port of Boston during 1898 reflects in a general way the foreign trade conditions of the country as a whole. The exports were by far the largest on record, amounting to $124,864,787, an increase over the preceding year of $20,673,097, or 20 per cent. The significance of these figures is made clear by the statement that the exports for 1898 were greater than the combined exports and imports in 1888. The imports were $48,814,921, showing a falling off of $36,873,228.

It should be borne in mind, however, that the figures for 1898 were abnormally large, owing principally to the heavy imports of wool and other merchandise during the first six months of the year in anticipation of the Dingley tariff, which went into effect on July 1, 1897.

As compared with the showing of the other ports, also, it must be remembered that the increase in imports at Boston in 1897 over 1896 was very much larger relatively than the increase at any other port. Consequently a general decrease in the imports of the country, as a whole, would show itself with the greatest emphasis at Boston.

Notwithstanding this falling off in imports of nearly one-half, however, the port continues to hold by a substantial margin its position as the second port in the United States in the value of both its imports and exports, and, as regards the latter, shows a gain during 1898 greater proportionately than any other Atlantic port. The figures in detail for the principal ports of the United States, with percentages, are given in the following table:

Ports.	1897.		1898.		Per cent. of Total Trade of United States.
	Exports.	Imports.	Exports.	Imports.

Among exports, provisions occupy a commanding position, the shipments of that product being $58,431,065, or 47 per cent. of the total exports. The figures for 1897 were $53,395,012. Breadstuffs amounted to $26,540,856 against $19,216,562 the previous year. The wheat shipments were 13,000,000 bushels against 12,000,000 in 1897; corn 12,000,000 bushels against 9,500,000; oats 8,700,000 against 5,500,000.

Owing largely to the establishment of a direct line of steamers between Galveston and Boston, a substantial increase has occurred in receipts at this port of cotton, both that destined for export and that for consumption by New England mills. The exports amounted to 382,626 bales, an increase of 67 per cent., while the receipts for domestic consumption aggregated 508,000 bales, an increase of 51,000 bales.

The "In-transit and Trans-shipment" trade, passing through the port of Boston, amounted to $9,934,528, and was made up as follows:

Entered at Boston for trans-shipment to foreign countries, principally Canada, $4,937,333; entered at ports on the Canadian frontier and exported to foreign countries, via Boston, $4,997,195.

With these additions the total foreign trade of the Port of Boston during 1898 is found to be $183,613,721 as against $200,330,542 in 1897.

The following table shows the principal countries with which this trade was conducted, also the nationalities of the vessels in which it was carried:

Owing to the unsatisfactory state of the foreign market, the exports of cattle from the United States show a marked falling off from the previous year, a corresponding decrease appearing in the figures for Boston.

The number exported from this port was 134,838 as against 162,620 in 1897, being practically the same as the shipments from New York, which port shares with Boston the control of this trade.

The mortality on shipboard again strikingly illustrates the superior facilities possessed by our steamship lines for carrying this class of freight. While the figures for the United States as a whole are given by the United States Bureau of Animal Industry as 0.23 per cent., the losses on shipments via this port were only 0.10 per cent. or less than one half the average for all ports. The loss of the "Londonian," which was abandoned at sea with 655 cattle on board, is not of course included in either the figures for Boston or the United States.

The ocean tonnage entering and leaving the Port of Boston in the foreign trade during 1898 exceeded all previous records, aggregating 3,663,831 tons. The arrivals of vessels engaged in the coasting trade numbered 9,671, being, with the exception of 1896, which exceeded it by 13, the largest on record.

There were 204 sailings to the single port of Liverpool, and a total of 409 sailings to all European ports, as against 388 in 1897. Two new lines have been established during the past year, one to Manchester, England, and one to Copenhagen and other Baltic ports. Beside these two lines, the European service now includes lines to Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Hull, Bristol, Antwerp and Hamburg.

Two new southern lines have also been added to the service, one to Galveston and one to Charleston and Brunswick. These, with the lines to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Savannah and Charleston and Jacksonville, comprise the coastwise service to the South.

Lines are also established between this port and Port Antonio, Jamaica, Nicaragua and Progreso, Mexico.

The Internal Revenue collections for the District of Massachusetts for the year ending June 30, 1898, amounted to $3,013,885, divided as follows: Spirits, $773,537; fermented liquors, $1,902,410; tobacco, $337,938. The collections in 1897 were $4,614,462.

The receipts of the Boston Post Office for 1898 were $2,830,088 against $2,841,795 in 1897.

THE SPARROW NUISANCE.

The following petition bearing the signatures of a large number of representative and influential citizens has been received by His Honor the Mayor:

To HONORABLE JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The undersigned petitioners hereby respectfully represent that the presence in Boston of hosts of the imported finch, known as the English sparrow, has come to be a public nuisance, general expense and serious æsthetic injury, imperatively calling for prompt municipal abatement. Your petitioners would, therefore, most earnestly request that, as the chief executive officer of this city, you direct the immediate reduction of the pest, by wise and merciful methods, in such places (instancing the Common and conditionally the cemeteries of Boston), as may be made, or may, with this purpose in view, be brought under municipal control.

Accompanying the request is a list of "certain measures available in partially or completely suppressing the bird in Boston." These are in substance:

"First — The persistent destruction of the nests and their contents in the breeding season by thrusting them down with poles, or otherwise dislodging and destroying them.

"Second — It is possible that from some localities in Boston the English sparrow might be in the main expelled, by the prompt removal of all droppings from the entering or adjacent streets.

"Third — In enclosures, where danger to human beings or valued domestic animals need not be apprehended, suitable poison mixed with the food of the sparrow might be tried.

"Fourth — Large house-traps of a simple and not expensive sort may be devised to lure and enclose the sparrows where they may be quickly and mercifully destroyed. Nets are sometimes effective.

"Fifth — Other methods less obvious than these might be suggested if the necessity for them should arise."

The principal reasons for the petition are set forth as follows:

(1.) The English sparrow is notoriously unclean. Its defilement of buildings, statutory, cemeteries, and places of public resort is not only a source of much expense, but an æsthetic disgrace to Boston.

(2.) The unsightly heaps of refuse which English sparrows construct and use for nests form also favorite breeding resorts, highly injurious to foliage.

(3.) The English sparrow — repugnant to most persons by reason of its harsh, monotonous cry and uninviting ways — does little or nothing worthy of notice in the destruction of injurious insects. It is, however, a mobber and robber of hosts of native song birds of delightful ways, charming song, or radiant plumage. These native birds — expelled or kept out from Boston by the English sparrow — are one and all of the highest value as destroyers of injurious insects. A proper reduction of the English sparrow in Boston will, it is believed, bring back these native song birds to the city, where by suitable means they may be re-established and retained among us.

"For full confirmation of the statements herein made, as to the injurious of the English sparrow and the value of our native song and insect-eating birds, reference is here made not only to common knowledge but to the authoritative work.

"The English Sparrow," issued as Bulletin 1, from the United States Department of Agriculture, Division of Economic Ornithology and Mammalogy.

"Reference is also made to the published works of E. H. Forbush, Ornithologist to the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture, to the publications and verbal statements of trained ornithologic observers too numerous to mention, forming a substantial consensus of scientific opinion on the main points above outlined."

B. E. Fernow, Director State College of Forestry, Cornell University, endorses the petition in the following terms:

"I would unhesitatingly endorse your petition for measures against the sparrow nuisance were I a citizen of Boston, and thereby entitled to be heard in the matter. I believe the reasons which you adduce for such a warfare are well founded, and hope the attempt will be made to rid your city of the nuisance, which, if successful, would be followed by similar crusades elsewhere."

In response to the foregoing petition the Mayor has addressed the following communication to the Superintendent of Public Grounds:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 28, 1899.

WILLIAM DOOGUE, Esq., Superintendent of Public Grounds, 154 East Cottage street, Dorchester, Mass.

DEAR SIR: A number of petitions have been presented to me, signed by a large number of influential people, requesting that steps be taken to reduce the numbers of the English sparrow in Boston, on the ground that it is coming to be a public nuisance, and is particularly injurious in driving out other birds. The first measure of suppression recommended is that the nests and eggs be persistently destroyed during the breeding season by dislodging them from the trees, as fast as made, upon all public grounds. I have agreed to this measure, and you are hereby requested to take steps to have this thoroughly carried into effect. As the sparrows begin to breed in March, this work should begin at once.

The committee has requested me to have one man specially assigned to this work on the Common, and I will therefore ask you to send a second copy of this letter (herewith enclosed) to Mr. William J. Kennedy, instructing him to take special charge of this matter as far as the Common is concerned, and to follow the recommendations, as far as possible, of a committee of the petitioners, of which Mr. Fletcher Osgood, an employee of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture, Gypsy Moth Division, is a member. I have advised Mr. Osgood that Mr. Kennedy would be detailed for this work, and would communicate with him as to an appointment to talk over methods of carrying it on. Please ask him to do so.

I should be glad to receive any suggestions from you as to the effectual carrying out of this policy of reducing the numbers of the English sparrow in Boston.

Yours truly,
JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The following, laid over under the rule at the last meeting, were read and passed:

(1.) Primary school-house, Moulton street, additional land, $4,938.97.

(4.) Ordered, That the Committee on New Buildings be, and they hereby are, authorized to execute a contract with Francis C. Add the following to the section: "Assistants shall be dismissed at the close of any month in which the average attendance shall have fallen below the number authorizing their employment. No principal or female teacher of a public day school in Boston shall serve in the evening drawing schools," so that the section will read as follows:

"Section 157. The instructors of the evening drawing schools shall be masters, principals and assistants. The Chair read the following:

IN BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

February 27, 1899.

Voted, That the School Committee be notified that this Board is prepared to pass a loan order appropriating $500,000 for additional primary and grammar school accommodations, as soon as it receives sufficient information to enable it to make the appropriations by districts.

A true copy. Attest:

JOSIAH QUINCY, Chairman.

The Superintendent of Schools presented the resignations of Capt. Erasmus M. Weaver, instructor in military drill, to take effect March 1, 1899, and of one other teacher. The resignations were accepted.

The names of one special assistant and of three teachers for appointment on probation were laid over under the rule. The reappointments of three teachers were placed on file. The names of eight teachers presented for confirmation were laid over under the rule. Thirteen teachers were granted leave of absence.

The Superintendent presented recommendations in respect to appointments, accompanied by written statements of the reasons for requesting a suspension of the regulations pertaining thereto, as follows:

(1.) That seven temporary teachers be reappointed, and the employment of the teachers named was approved under a suspension of the rules.

(2.) The appointment of one teacher on probation, which was approved under a suspension of the rules.

(3.) Recommending leave of absence for one teacher, which was granted under a suspension of the rule.

The Superintendent presented the following report, which was referred to the Committee on the Normal School:

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

By the vote of the School Committee, passed November 22, 1898, the Superintendent was "instructed to ascertain the possibility of extending the City Normal School so as to include some of the surrounding cities and towns."

In obedience to this instruction the following communication was sent to the Superintendent of Schools in the cities of Cambridge, Chelsea, Malden, Medford, Newton, Quincy and Somerville, and in the towns of Brookline, Dedham, Hyde Park, Milton, Revere, Watertown and Winthrop:

"DEAR SIR: At a meeting of the School Committee of Boston on November 22, 1898, it was "Ordered, That the orders passed by this Board, May 24, that on and after the first day of September, 1899, the Boston Normal School be discontinued, and that the Secretary of the State Board of Education of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts be informed that it is the sense of this Board that a normal school in lieu of the normal school now maintained by the City of Boston should be established and maintained in this city by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, be, and the same hereby are, rescinded, and the Superintendent is hereby instructed to ascertain the possibility of extending the city normal school so as to include some of the surrounding cities and towns.

"Assuming:

"(1.) That the City of Boston maintains a normal school for the purpose of training teachers to serve in the primary and grammar schools of that city;

"(2.) That the school is provided with a large corps of highly accomplished teachers, a commodious new building, and all other material equipments necessary for a school of the very best kind;

"(3.) That the number of pupils from Boston to be in training for employment in the Boston schools is strictly limited to the number actually needed in those schools, that is to say, about sixty each year;

"(4.) That the number of pupils admitted from any other city, or town, is limited in the same way to the actual annual needs of its schools.

"I desire to ask what answer the School Committee of—would make to the proposition that a limited number of places in such school be taken by—on condition that—contributes its due proportion to the annual expense of the school, and that—be represented on the Board of Management by some chosen member of its School Committee, or by its Superintendent of Schools, as may afterwards be determined.

"For the purpose of obtaining an authoritative answer to this question, will you kindly take the trouble to consult with members of your School Committee and, if you deem it best, to bring the matter formally before your School Committee for consideration and decision by vote?

"Further, I should esteem it a personal favor if you would express quite fully and freely your own views as to the practicability, or desirability, of the school above outlined, and would make any further suggestion which you may deem important."

From all the above mentioned cities and towns replies have now been received, which are herewith submitted for the information of the Board. No desire is expressed on the part of any neighboring city or town to join with Boston in the support of a normal school; and so far as there is any distinct expression of opinion it is adverse to any such plan. The conclusion appears clearly to be that there is no "possibility of extending the city normal school so as to include some of the surrounding cities and towns."

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN P. SEAVER,

Superintendent of Public Schools.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Salaries it was ordered that Henry E. Loring, sub-master in the Tileston District, be placed upon the second year of service in his rank, to date from February 1, 1899.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Rules and Regulations it was ordered that the afternoon session of the schools in the Minot District shall begin at 1.45 o'clock and close at 3.45 o'clock, except that from the first Monday in November to and including the last Friday in January, the afternoon session may begin at 1.30 o'clock and close at 3.30 o'clock.

Mr. Anderson offered the following:

Resolved, That we, the School Committee of the City of Boston, hereby express our sincere sorrow at the death of John C. Ryder, late Head Master of the Brighton High School.

Resolved, That we desire to place upon our records an expression of our regard for Mr. Ryder as a man, and our appreciation of his faithful and devoted service in our public schools. By his scholarly attainments, his dignified bearing, his rare administrative ability, and more especially by the solid worth of his character, Mr. Ryder, as instructor in the evening high school, as Sub-master in the Dearborn and Hugh O'Brien Schools, as Principal of the Mt. Vernon School, as Master in the Roxbury High School, and as Head Master of the Brighton School, won the esteem of this Board, and the respect and love of the teachers, pupils and parents with whom he came in contact.

Resolved, That we extend to his family our profound sympathy for the loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered in full upon our records, and that a copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased.

Adopted unanimously by a raising vote.

Mr. Burrill offered the following:

Whereas, an attempt is being made so to amend the law requiring physiology and hygiene to be taught in the public schools so as to more fully define the schools in which it shall be taught, the methods of instruction, and the character of the text books; to provide penalties for non-compliance with the requirements of the law; to provide for the enforcement of the law; to provide for the supervision of the instruction, and to provide for the enforcement of the law.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the Board that such legislation is unnecessary and uncalled for.

Resolved, That the Legislative Committee of the Board is hereby instructed to appear before the proper committee of the Legislature and protest in the name of this Board against such legislation.

Adopted.

Mr. McDonald, for the Committee on the Second Division, to whom was referred, February 14, the proposed transfer of Henry C. Parker, Sub-master in the Dwight District, to the same position in the Warren District, reported that after due consideration of the matter, they are of the opinion that Mr. Parker should remain in his present position, and that the vacancy in the Warren District should be filled by a new appointment. Your committee, therefore, present the name of a candidate whom they consider well fitted to discharge the duties of the position, and recommend the appointment of James H. Leary as Sub-master in the Warren District.

Mr. Bateman offered a minority report approving the nomination of Henry C. Parker to fill by transfer the position of Sub-master in the Warren District, and recommending that the nomination of Henry C. Parker as Sub-master in the Warren District be confirmed.

Mr. Anderson's motion that both reports be laid on the table was refused by the following vote:

Yeas—Anderson, Burrill, Coolidge, Field, Nichols—5.

Nays—Aldrich, Bateman, Bennett, Berridge, Bowdlear, Brett, Campbell, Fleischer, Gallivan, Huggan, Keller, Kenney, McDonald, McDonough, Merritt, Strange—16

Mr. Anderson's motion to refer the question of Mr. Leary's fitness to the Board of Supervisors was defeated by a vote of 16 to 6.

A motion to substitute the minority report was defeated.

Yeas—Aldrich, Anderson, Bateman, Bowdlear, Burrill, Coolidge, Davison, Field, Fleischer, Keller, Nichols—11.

Nays—Bennett, Berridge, Brett, Campbell, Gallivan, Huggan, Kenney, McDonald, McDonough, Merritt, Strange—11.

The Chair ruled that the appointment could not be acted upon without a suspension of the rules. Appeal was taken, and, by a vote of 11 to 10, the Board refused to sustain the Chair.

On motion of Mr. Coolidge, the first half of the majority report was referred to the Committee on the Fifth Division.

On a yeas and nays vote the Board refused to accept the remainder of the report:

Yeas—Aldrich, Berridge, Brett, Campbell, Gallivan, Huggan, Kenney, McDonald, McDonough, Merritt, Strange—11.

Nays—Anderson, Bateman, Bennett, Bowdlear, Burrill, Coolidge, Davison, Field, Fleischer, Keller, Nichols—11.

On motion of Mr. Bateman, the whole matter was especially assigned to the next meeting at 8.30.

The Board adjourned at 10.25 P.M.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

February 6, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: The order of the Common Council, received through you, dated January 26, 1899, and ordering that the Music Department be requested to provide a concert by the Municipal Orchestra in the hall of the Phillips School, Ward 11, was considered by the Music Commissioners at their meeting on February 3. The Commissioners understand the request to be for a free chamber concert by the Municipal Quartette such as are being given in various sections of the city, the Municipal Orchestra having been disbanded on January 15 last.

On referring to a list of school halls furnished this Department by the Secretary of the School Committee, it appears that the hall of the Phillips School is not lighted. That being the case it would not be possible to take affirmative action upon the order, until at least means for illuminating the hall have been put in.

Yours respectfully,

M. J. DWYER, Secretary.

Placed on file.

Veto—Farragut Day Appropriation.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, February 24, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I herewith return without my approval the order providing for the expenditure of $1,200 out of the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses, for the celebration of June 28, for the reason that this appropriation is not sufficient to allow of such expenditure, and that it seems to me that a bad precedent would be set by allowing an expenditure for a public celebration, not provided for in the regular appropriation for such a purpose, to be subsequently met in this manner.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The order was reconsidered, and the question came on its passage, the objections of the Mayor to the contrary notwithstanding.

The order failed of passage (fifty votes being required)—Yeas, 31; nays, 15.

Confirmation of Appointments.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 2, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

In response to the order referred to me by your body on January 26, requesting information as to the reasons why, "in violation of plain law," the Mayor has not submitted for confirmation by the Board of Aldermen, the names of the officers coming under the provisions of Chapter 2, Sections 1 and 2, of the Revised Ordinances of 1898, I have to state that I know of no such officer, subject by law to such confirmation, who has not been confirmed by the Board of Aldermen, and if the introducer of the order can point out any such officers who have not been so confirmed, I will take immediate steps to see that they are no longer allowed to act.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CARRIAGE-HIRE BILLS.

In the case before the Supreme Court, Causten Browne et al. vs. Alfred T. Turner, Treasurer of the City of Boston, and the City of Boston, regarding the payment of bills contracted by Aldermen on account of carriage hire for 1898, Judge Morton on March 10, issued an injunction restraining payment. The opinion is as follows:

It does not seem to me that the method which has been pursued in regard to contracting and paying bills for carriage hire meets the requirements of the statute. I do not think that a blanket vote, passed at the beginning of the year by the Committee on Public Improvements, that they visit the different sections of the city in regard to the street and various other improvements named therein and authorizing the use of the necessary carriages, is the special authorization which the statute contemplates. I do not think that anything in the nature of the authorization contemplated by the statute has taken place. Neither do I think that the certificate required of each member issuing a bill has been furnished under the mode of transacting the business that has followed. I agree that substance rather than form is to be looked at, and I do not lose sight of the fact that we are dealing with the business of a great city. But it seems to me that the statute surrounds the contracting of bills for carriage hire or car fare by the Aldermen, and the paying of them with stringent provisions, and that in the methods, which it is admitted have been pursued, those provisions have not been followed.

The conclusion to which I have come, on this branch of the case, makes it unnecessary to consider the other.

Injunction to issue.

CITY RETIREMENT FUNDS.

The following statement of facts, compiled by the Secretary of the Statistics Department, has been presented to the Committee on Cities of the Massachusetts Legislature in connection with the hearing on House Bill No. 421, introduced by Mr. J. F. McCarthy, of Boston, being an "Act to Authorize Cities to Establish Death Benefit and Retirement Funds for Their Employees." (See THE CITY RECORD, page 153.)

According to information received from the authorities of nearly thirty European cities, it would appear that superannuation allowances to aged or incapacitated municipal civil servants, and pensions or gratuities for the benefit of the widows and children of such servants, are provided to a greater or less extent by several of the larger cities of Great Britain, and by most of the cities on the continent. But usage is not uniform either in Great Britain or on the continent, either as to (1) the classes of officials and employees entitled to pensions and gratuities, or (2) the sources of the funds from which such gratuities and pensions are paid.

In English, Scotch and Irish cities, the provision of pensions for members of the police force is general, being required by the Police Acts for England and Wales, Scotland, and Ireland respectively. The pensions of the police are paid out of funds derived from contributions made by both the state and the city, and combined with rateable deductions made from the pay of prospective pensioners. Similar funds are not uncommonly, though less generally, provided for the benefit of firemen and their surviving families.

The number of British schemes for the superannuation of teachers and various other classes of municipal employees, and even workmen on reduced pay, has increased within the last ten years and is still increasing. In most British superannuation and pension schemes, prospective beneficiaries are required to contribute from 2 to 3 per cent. of their annual pay for a term of years, to which contributions the municipality generally adds an equal amount and guarantees from 2½ to 4 per cent. interest on the combined sum.

On the continent, consolidated schemes providing for the retirement on reduced pay of aged or incapacitated officials and employees of every description, and for pensioning their widows and orphans, are fairly common. In some cases, the entire cost of carrying the scheme into effect is borne by the city treasury. In other cases, the city bears the whole cost of pensions to officials on the retired list, while the maintenance of the fund for widows and orphans is met by contributions from the city treasury and obligatory contributions (proportionate to their annual salaries) made by officials, etc., during the term of their active service.

In continental cities, pensions appear very generally to be considered as deferred pay. At the same time, the regulation of the number of posts, the initial salary, and the term of service requisite for securing an increase of pay,—is more completely systematized and ordained than in Great Britain.

The cities of Dublin, Glasgow and Edinburgh all have police superannuation schemes. None of them has a general superannuation scheme, although each of them grants retirement allowances and gratuities to various classes of civil servants and workmen as need arises. The City of London, the London County Council and the Corporation of Birmingham, on the other hand, have all adopted comprehensive schemes.

Following are brief descriptions of some of the most typical municipal civil-service pension schemes in force in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe in 1898; and also a table showing the number of special acts passed by the Massachusetts Legislature in the period of 1888–98, authorizing the City of Boston to pay gratuities to the families of deceased employees, and the sum paid in accordance with such acts.

ANTWERP.

Antwerp, Belgium, has a retiring fund scheme (dating from 1839, last amended in 1891), to which all functionaries and employees, including school teachers and police, are obliged to contribute:

(1.) A deduction of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of salary, if less than 3,000 francs.

(2.) A deduction of 5 per cent. of salary, if it equals 3,000 francs.

Five per cent. deduction in either case for first year of service.

(3.) A deduction of first two months' pay when salary is increased. The fund originally received a donation from the city of 55,640 francs. Deficiency is made good by the city.

Superannuation allowance equals one-half of salary:

(1.) In sedentary service, after thirty years contributing to fund.

(2.) In active service, after twenty-five years contributing to fund.

(3.) For those who are incapacitated in service, the allowance is (1) one-sixth or (2) one-fifth of pay after ten years contribution to those who are incapacitated, or where posts are abolished.

An increase of (1) one-sixtieth or (2) one-fiftieth per year is allowed for years in excess of (1) thirty and (2) twenty-five, up to four-fifths of total salaries.

Widow's pension equals (a) two-thirds of husband's allowance if there be more than one child, or if married life equals eight years; (b) one-half of husband's allowance if there be but one child, or married life equals but three years.

One or two surviving children of a pensioned widower are entitled to one-half of pension; three or more to two-thirds of that the father was entitled to. (Fractions of francs and of years are counted as wholes.) Childhood ceases at eighteen years.

BIRMINGHAM.

Birmingham, England, with a population of 501,241 in June, 1896, has four schemes of superannuation, viz.:

(1.) Police Superannuation Fund. (Police Act, 1890.)—It is compulsory on members of the force to contribute $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of pay annually. Stoppages and fines of police, also a considerable number of different kinds of fines and fees are devoted to the fund; also Exchequer contribution, equal to contributions from the force.

Superannuation allowance may be claimed by one who has served twenty-five years, or who is incapacitated after fifteen years. Pension may be granted to his widow should pensioner die within twelve months after grant of pension.

If incapacitated by injury received on duty, a constable is entitled to a life pension.

Scale of pensions: (a.) If service is fifteen years, but less than twenty-one years, annual allowance is one-fiftieth of pay for every completed year of service.

(b.) If service amounts to twenty-one years, but less than twenty-five years, allowance is twenty-fiftieths with two-fiftieths additional for every additional full year.

(c.) If service amounts to twenty-five years or more, thirty-one-fiftieths of pay, with three-fiftieths additional for every year above twenty-five years of service, provided total allowance shall not exceed two-thirds of pay.

Special allowances are paid in special cases where injury is incurred of more or less severity.

Gratuities to officers or survivors of officers not entitled to a pension, may be granted, not to exceed one month's pay for every completed year of service.

If a police officer, not dismissed, leaves the force, he may receive a part or all of his contributions to the fund.

If a constable lose his life by injury incurred while on duty his widow shall receive £15 annually, and each child £2 10s. annually up to fifteen years of age.

(2.) Fire Brigade Superannuation Fund. (Acts 1883, and 1896.)—Contributions of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of pay are compulsory on members of brigade. Sums equal to 15 per cent. of pay of brigade are added. Interest is to equal 3 per cent.

Corporation makes up deficiency in fifteen per cent. or in interest, if need be.

Pensions are tenable by contributing members after thirty years of service, or on attaining fifty-five years of age; or after fifteen years, if incapacitated by accident, injury or infirmity,—as set out in the Police Act in the minimum scale, i. e., one-sixtieth of pay for every year of service under twenty-one and above fifteen years; (twenty-one to twenty-five years, twenty-sixtieths and not twenty-fiftieths, etc.)

Contributing members who leave the service voluntarily, or the legal representatives of such as die before superannuation allowance is tenable, may receive the sums contributed without interest.

(3.) Gas Committee's scheme for its employees. (Approved by Council, 1891.)

Compulsory contributions equal $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 per cent. of salary. Committee adds an equal amount and allows 4 per cent. interest on the combined sum. Officers may contribute $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. additional, which will not be covered by an equal amount by the Gas Committee, but will draw interest.

Members are entitled to superannuation at sixty years of age after service of twenty years.

Officers who leave voluntarily receive one-half of their contributions without interest. Officers who leave because of reduction of staff or ill-health, receive all of their contributions without interest.

If a member die before he is superannuated, his legal representatives receive the whole of his contributions without interest.

(4.) Birmingham Superannuation scheme, 1897, confirmed by Local Government Board's Provisional Order No. 16. Passed Parliament and received Royal assent August 6, 1897. Took effect April 1, 1898.

The scheme applies to all officers and servants entering service of Corporation after December 7, 1897, who are twenty-one years of age, not a member of the Police Force or Fire Brigade, or in the employ of the Gas Committee or the Birmingham Lunatic Asylum.

It is a compulsory scheme, requiring 3 per cent. contributions of salary or wages,—provided, that contributions on the part of persons having a salary, etc., in excess of £500 shall cease after thirty annual payments, and in other cases after forty annual payments. The corporation manages the fund and pays allowances (and pensions under Part II.) but does not contribute any stated amount or guarantee a specified interest.

Part I. provides for the superannuation, after twenty years' service, of any officer or servant who becomes incapacitated or reaches the age of sixty-five years, or completes an aggregate service of forty years.

Scale of superannuation allowance—for twenty years, but less than twenty-one years, annual allowance of twenty-sixtieths of average pay for five years preceding, with an additional allowance of one-sixtieth for every additional year of completed service up to thirty years, when a maximum allowance of thirty-sixtieths for persons drawing a salary of over £500, and up to forty years where salary is below £500, when a maximum allowance of forty-sixtieths shall be granted.

For special reasons, e. g., fitness, fidelity, the Corporation may add as many as ten years to period of service.

A contributor who has not become entitled to superannuation, but leaves the service because of reduction of staff, bodily injury, or any other cause except misconduct, shall be entitled to receive a sum equal to all his contributions; or his legal representatives shall be so entitled if such a contributor die before becoming entitled to a superannuation allowance.

Gratuities to contributors or their widows or orphans are not provided for.

Part II. provides for the payment of pensions to workmen and servants of the Corporation who, after twenty years' continuous service, being not less than fifty-five years old, are incapacitated, according to the following scale, viz.:

	Per week. s. d.
After 20 years' service	7 0
After 30 years' service	8 6
After 40 years' service	10 0

Adopted December 7, 1897.

A. In 1897–98 the police force numbered 700; 144 constables were in receipt of a pension; one widow was in receipt of a pension; two constables received gratuities; three widows received gratuities.

B. In 1897-98 the Fire Brigade numbered sixty.

LIVERPOOL.

Liverpool Superannuation Act, 1893; (previous Act, 1882, Liverpool Improvement Act), applies equally to officers receiving salary or servants receiving weekly wages.

Contributions of officials, 3 per cent. of salary or wages, which the corporation shall invest and add interest accrued to the fund. Accounts shall be kept crediting each contributor with his contributions, and interest realized. (No contribution from Council; no minimum rate of interest guaranteed.)

Superannuation — (1.) Twenty-five years' service. Minimum age of retirement, sixty; allowance, twenty-five-fiftieths (one-half) of his salary; for each additional year of service, one-twenty-fifth additional.

Council may grant higher allowance up to two-thirds.

(2.) After fifteen years' service, an official is entitled at the age of sixty, or earlier if incapacitated, to fifteen-fiftieths of his salary, with an additional one-fiftieth for each year over fifteen years of service. If he serves twenty-five years, his allowance is the same as under No. 1.

Council may grant higher allowance up to two-thirds.

Members retiring at the request of the corporation or retiring voluntarily after ten years' service, are entitled to their own contributions and interest.

When superannuated members die before they have received 75 per cent. of their own contributions, with accrued interest, the Council shall pay the difference to their representatives.

Under clause 53 an officer is entitled to full scale if he retires with the consent of the Council after twenty-five years' service.

Under clause 54 an officer may contribute, but shall not be entitled to superannuation on the scale allowed since the passing of the 1882 Act, unless he has contributed at least ten years to the fund.

Clause 57 provides that any officer appointed after the passing of the 1882 Act, and who has not yet contributed, may contribute, and be entitled to the full benefits of the act; but his contributions for the first ten years shall be at the rate of 5 per cent.

The scheme contemplates a charge on the Corporation funds, to be met from time to time as deficiencies arise.

MANCHESTER.

Thrift Fund (not a superannuation fund), Manchester Corporation Act, 1891, approved August 3, 1892.

Five per cent. on salaries, of which $3\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. is paid by officials and $1\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. by the Corporation, is accumulated at 4 per cent. compound interest (half-yearly); the Corporation paying this rate of interest, or making good the deficiency between 4 per cent. and the actual rate obtained from trustees' investments.

At death, or at sixty-five, or at an earlier age, if incapacity is proved to the satisfaction the Corporation, a contributor or his representative is entitled to receive the whole of his and of the Corporation's contributions, with accumulated interest thereon.

Members retiring bona fide before sixty-five years of age, or leaving on reduction of staff, receive back their own contributions, with accumulated interest; if dismissed for dishonesty, they lose part or all at discretion of the Corporation.

In cases of long illness, an advance may be made up to one-quarter of a member's own contributions and interest; no second advance to be made unless first has been repaid with compound interest.

Expenses of management are borne by the Corporation.

On dismissal of a member, he forfeits his claim on contribution.

Profits on resignations may be applied to payment of expenses.

Members cannot alienate their interest in the fund. If they deprive themselves of personal enjoyment or benefit, the Corporation may devote that interest to the benefit of persons dependent on such members for support.

There is a Consultative Committee of five, elected by members of fund, appointed annually to advise with Finance Committee as to the management of the fund, etc.

LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL.

The London County Council scheme went into operation April 1, 1895:

All persons employed by the Council shall contribute, unless entitled under other acts to superannuation allowances or pensions, or unless they prove annually that they make provision which will give them no less benefits than they would receive under this scheme.

Contribution.—Three pence for every complete 10s., or 3d. for every additional fraction of 10s.

Council contribute amount equal to the aggregate amount of the contributions of members, and interest at 3 per cent., paid quarterly.

Council also pay management expenses, and make good deficiencies.

Allowances. — Members retiring (at any age) on superannuation, or from incapacity, are entitled to their own contributions, to that of the Corporation and the accumulated interest.

Representatives of persons dying are entitled to the same payment.

Members leaving on reduction of staff, or of their own accord, before superannuation, are entitled to their own contributions, and interest accumulated thereon.

Council, at the request of members retiring, may purchase annuities with the amount to which they are entitled from the fund.

Members dismissed forfeit; no member can alienate; members have no claim on profits from the fund.

HAMBURG.

Hamburg, with a population in 1895 of 619,217, provides for the retirement of its permanent officials who, having completed thirty-five years of age and at least ten years of service, are permanently incapacitated; also, if incapacity arises from illness or injury incurred directly in line of duty, the right of retirement arises before the age of thirty-five years is reached or ten years' service have been absolved by an official.

After ten years' service, the pension equals forty one-hundredths of pay, and is increased by an additional 2 per cent. yearly for officials drawing 2,000 marks, and $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. yearly for officials drawing more than 2,000 marks, until the amount of the pension equals one hundred one-hundredths of pay.

Pay on which the pension is reckoned includes certain allowances, e. g., residence, fuel, etc., (an unusual provision).

The retirement scheme dates from 1884, and is purely a city treasury scheme, towards which no contributions are made by prospective pensioners.

In 1896, 630 pensioned officials drew 1,029,01 marks in pensions.

A pension fund for widows and orphans of officials was originally established in 1833. Every widow of an official, without regard to the length of his service, has a claim on a life pension of 20 per cent. of the pay of her husband; and each child (if mother lives) until eighteen years of age, has a claim to 4 per cent. of the father's pay; if the widow is dead the child's claim equals 8 per cent. of the official's income.

The fund is supported by:—

(1.) Entrance payments, obligatory on the part of every official, whether he is married or not, equal to one-twelfth of his salary.

(2.) One-twelfth of every increase of annual salary.

(3.) Regular payments equal to 3 per cent. of the salary of every contributing official. Since 1890, this 3 per cent. has been paid by the city. Formerly, the officials paid it; now they do not have to make annual payments.

The sum of contributions and interest is also payable to the heirs of members who die before they are entitled to superannuation.

Members entitled to superannuation may receive a capital sum representing their contributions, plus interest, instead of an allowance.

(4.) Payments on account of husband's excess of age in respect to the wife. If the man is fifteen to twenty years older than his wife, he makes a single extraordinary payment equal to twice the amount of yearly payment, i. e., 4 or 6 per cent.; if difference is twenty to twenty-five years, four times the amount; if difference is twenty-five to thirty years, ten times the amount; if difference is over thirty years, twenty times the amount.

The Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund amounted to 14,455,813.42 marks at the end of 1897.

Participating members, with rateable official incomes, i. e., salaries, of 20,748,203.60 marks, numbered 8,708 persons at the close of 1897.

Special contributors, i. e., retired or withdrawn officials, numbered 781 with a rateable capital of 1,804,600 marks in addition, thus making the total:

AMSTERDAM.

In Holland, population January 1, 1898, 503,319.

The pension scheme provides pensions for all municipal officials and employees, including workmen and teachers, on retirement; and, in case of death, for their widows and orphans. (Pensions to retired teachers are paid by the state, but pensions to their widows and orphans are paid by the city.) The city fund is derived from contributions by the city, and from obligatory 6 per cent. deductions from salaries and wages of employees, etc.

January 1, 1898, there were 6,000 persons in the civil service eligible to pensions on retirement, or if incapacitated in the line of duty.

On the same date, 545 persons had pensions; also 200 widows and orphans.

The city's annual contribution toward pensions for relatives of deceased members of the service equals 9,500 florins ($4,750). The total amount distributed to all classes of pensioners in 1897 was 277,756 florins ($138,878).

BREMEN.

Population in 1895, 141,937.

Bremen has a consolidated scheme for the retirement on account of age or incapacity of practically all classes of civil servants, and for the aid of their widows and orphans. The cost of pensions and gratuities is borne wholly by the city, no contributions being exacted from prospective beneficiaries.

In 1898, there were 1,821 officials, etc., drawing salaries to the amount of 4,482,057 M, or $1,120,514; and the total amount paid by the city in pensions and gratuities amounted to 401,649 M or $100,412, of which 140,000 M or $35,000 were paid to widows and orphans.

DRESDEN.

Population in 1895, 335,070.

Dresden has a consolidated scheme whose cost is borne entirely by the city treasury. (Teachers are provided for by the state.)

Officials eligible to pensions in 1896 numbered 1,377, with salaries amounting to 2,593,675 M or $648,419. The amount paid out in pensions, etc., in 1896 was 249,891 M or $62,478.

In 1896, there were eighteen officials placed on the retired list at an annual charge of 34,096 M, and sixteen widows and seventeen orphans were granted pensions amounting to 6,912 M annually.

THE SPARROW NUISANCE.

His Honor Mayor Quincy makes the following statement, for the information of numerous correspondents, who have written him on the subject, in relation to his position in regard to the reduction in the number of English sparrows in Boston:

When this matter was first called to my attention, several months ago, I stated that I would take no action unless a petition were presented to me, signed by such a large number of representative citizens as to prove the existence of a strong and general demand for the inauguration of a movement against the English sparrow, accompanied by sufficient evidence that the best authorities upon ornithology regarded the bird as a nuisance which should be mitigated, if not abated.

When the committee, two of whose members were ladies, presented me with the petition, I found that it contained a large number of the best known names in Boston, including many representative clergymen and physicians, and that it was accompanied by ample evidence from scientific authorities as to the undesirable character and habits of the sparrow. I do not profess to have any personal opinion on the matter, and I have no time to enter into ornithological arguments with my correspondents.

In order to remove some misapprehensions, based upon a misunderstanding of what has thus far been ordered, I desire to state that no order to use poison against the sparrow has been given, and, therefore, there is no ground for the fear that domestic animals are in any danger from eating poisoned sparrows. All that has been done thus far has been to arrange for the destruction of nests in certain public grounds, if this is found possible, and even the question of using traps has not yet been acted upon. I do not wish it understood, either by the friends or enemies of this bird, that I have taken any contract to banish it from the city limits, or even to materially reduce its numbers, for the additional information which has come to me since this matter was brought up indicates that the warfare between the City of Boston and the English sparrow will be a very unequal one, with the disadvantages all on the side of the municipal authorities. The first estimate of the employee of the Public Grounds Department, who has been put in charge of the destruction of nests upon the Common and neighboring public grounds, is that the services of at least five men will be required continuously to prevent the building of nests and the hatching out of the young, as the sparrow exhibits an exemplary industry, whatever its other faults may be, and will for some time keep on building a new nest as fast as the old one is destroyed. There is a limit to the number of men whom the Public Grounds Department can draw off from their regular work to conduct a warfare against the multiplication of sparrows. I am, therefore, anxious that it should be understood that, while I am willing to have the experiment of destroying the nests tried, as requested by the committee, I do not guarantee results.

No general order has been or will be given for the indiscriminate slaughter of these birds; and in view of the objections which seem to be entertained by many people to the trapping and poisoning of sparrows, I desire to give notice that, before these methods are resorted to, a hearing will be given, at which the friends of the sparrow will be given a chance to present their views. In the meantime, the municipal warfare on the sparrow will be confined to the destruction of nests.

NOTE.—In the ten years prior to 1888, there was no legislation regarding any gratuities to employees of the City of Boston. As a rule the families of deceased employees of the School Committee receive the amount of pay due such employees on the day of their death and no more; an exception to this rule was made in favor of the widow of J. T. Paget.

Messages from the Mayor.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, at 3 P.M., on Monday, March 13, 1899, Chairman Barry presiding, and all the members present.

The following messages were received from His Honor the Mayor:

Veto — Edgestone Assessment.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 4, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I return herewith without my signature an order passed by your Board rescinding the edgestone assessment levied by an order passed on December 26, 1898, against St. Philip's church on East Lenox street.

My reason for taking this action is that the Corporation Counsel informs me that the Board of Aldermen has no authority to make this abatement, and that the order is illegal.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID F. BARRY, Acting-Mayor.

The vote whereby the order was passed was reconsidered, and the question came on passing it, the objections of His Honor the Acting-Mayor to the contrary notwithstanding. The Board refused to pass it over the veto, the vote being yeas, 0; nays, 9.

Location of Fire-box.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 13, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Fire Commissioner in reference to your order requesting that a fire-alarm box, with a red signal-light, be located at the corner of Columbus avenue and Massachusetts avenue.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

FIRE COMMISSIONER.

Bristol Street, March 3, 1899.

HIS HONOR JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: Referring to the request of the Honorable Board of Aldermen that the fire-alarm box No. 98, corner Columbus and Massachusetts avenues, be placed on a lamp-post with a red signal light, I beg leave to respectfully report that such action would be of no avail for the purpose of giving an alarm, inasmuch as said location is several hundred feet from the underground wires which are necessary to connect such post and light with the fire-alarm branch of this Department, and no money is available for the necessary work.

Your obedient servant,

H. S. RUSSELL, Commissioner.

Referred to the Committee of Public Improvements.

Appointments by the Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 13, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

Subject to your approval and confirmation, I hereby appoint Fred Cutter, Armine W. Montgomery and Maurice D. Kingsbury weighers of boilers and heavy machinery for the term ending April 30, 1899.

Respectfully yours,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

Sale of City Property, East Boston.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets, and, in accordance with his request, I recommend the the passage of the accompanying order. This matter was fully considered by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and the conclusion arrived at by the Board was that, in view of the general financial condition of the city, it would be better to provide for meeting this undoubted need of the Street Department out of the proceeds of the proposed sale, rather than by direct appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, March 11, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: This Department has urgently recommended that there be established in East Boston a Street Cleaning and Sanitary District. At the present time, the street-cleaning work is performed by sending over on certain days the Charlestown force, and the sanitary work is by contract. This arrangement is unsatisfactory, and becomes more so each year. The citizens of East Boston ask better service, and the Department desires to furnish it. To do this, however, it is necessary that the stable and yard accommodations in that district be rearranged.

At the present time, the Paving and Sewer Divisions have their quarters on city property on Marion street, between Chelsea and Paris streets. The buildings on this property are of but little value and badly out of repair, and are not adapted to the work of the district. The city owns a piece of property well adapted for the purposes of a Street Department yard and headquarters, for the reason that it is accessible by water, so that material can be landed directly from vessels. This property is not now in use, and if an appropriation of $25,000 could be secured, it would be possible to place thereon a building so arranged as to properly accommodate the local forces of the Paving, Sewer, Street Cleaning and Sanitary Divisions.

To cover the expenditure of $25,000. I would respectfully suggest that the property now occupied by and assigned to this Department be sold, and the proceeds of the sale applied to making good the appropriation of $25,000 required for the new building and plant.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

March 13, 1899.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Streets be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor, to sell the land and buildings owned by the city, now used by the Paving and Sewer Divisions of the Street Department, and situated between Chelsea and Paris streets, East Boston, and that the Mayor be authorized to execute a deed of the same in the name of the city; the proceeds received from such sale to be turned into the treasury, subject to subsequent appropriation by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the City Council.

Referred to the Committee on Public Improvements.

Construction of Sewerage Works.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 13, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a letter from the Superintendent of Streets, with statements appended, which explains the situation of the city with respect to the construction of additional sewerage works. On account of the importance of the subject, I recommend that this communication be printed as a city document.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, March 4, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I desire to call your attention to the situation as regards sewerage works, even assuming that the present law is declared constitutional, and the attempt to repeal the same at the Legislature fails. This act provides $1,000,000 annually for construction of sewerage works. In a statement already made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, I submitted figures showing that the cost of work already commenced, under contract, or arranged for, amounted to $607,000, and of the work ordered by the Street Commissioners, but not yet commenced, to $233,000, making a total of $840,000—exclusive of land damages.

This sum, I would say, further, does not include Commonwealth avenue, on which the estimated cost of the necessary sewer work to be completed before 1900 is about $100,000. The act providing the money for the surface work on Commonwealth avenue, requires that this avenue be completed before January 1, 1900; after that time the money is no longer available. In addition, on the section of Blue Hill avenue, from Walk Hill street to Neponset river—which certainly should be undertaken this year—the sewerage work is estimated to cost $78,000. There is also a very considerable portion of Columbia road ready for sewerage works, which is not included in the above estimates. Nor are the following very important sewerage works provided for:

East Boston low level sewer, which will have to be built if the order is passed for the construction of the Bennington street boulevard; further construction on new surface drain systems, such as Lauriat avenue Canterbury branch of Stony brook, Roslindale branch of Stony brook, Mattapan brook, Goldsmith brook, Dorchester brook separation, and Davenport brook. There is no money provided for work on Stony brook, either at the head-waters or at the outlet end, or for Muddy river, or for Shepard street brook in Brighton, or for what is known as the West Roxbury low-level sewer.

All this work is needed, and if it is not carried on it will be a hardship upon the abutting estates. From the above statement it will be seen that more than the $1,000,000 which is available is already ordered; and the Street Commissioners should be notified that no more sewer work can be ordered for the coming year unless further money is provided for the construction thereof.

Unless some action is taken by the Legislature making provision for such further sum as may be needed for the construction of sewers, the development of property in many sections of the city will be stopped; and as this construction of sewers is assessed upon the estate benefited, and not upon the general taxpayer, it is but reasonable and fair that parties desiring sewers for which they are willing to pay, should be accommodated by the city.

Ordinarily $1,000,000 would be sufficient for the needs of sewer construction for any one year; but, under the conditions which existed last year, it was necessary that large sewerage works which had been neglected for many years should be undertaken, and for this reason much of the work of the year is costly, and thus the appropriation is too limited to allow for the demands which will surely come after the opening up of the season's work.

I think it the duty of the Department, or the administration, to present this situation to the consideration of the Legislature for such action as that body may deem proper. The suggestion of this Department would be that, for this year, at least, an additional sum of $1,000,000 be allowed, making a total of $2,000,000. I cannot, for my own part, see any particular reason for limiting the amount to be spent for sewerage works, if the authority passing the orders for the construction of the same be properly safeguarded. In anticipation of the very urgent and reasonable demands which will be made upon this Department during the coming season, I desire that the cause of, and the responsibility for, a condition which must lead to the refusal to furnish relief, should be placed upon the only body which has it in its power to supply such relief.

I append herewith tabulation showing the expenditures under the Sewerage Act from July 23, 1897, to February 1, 1898; also tables showing in detail the exact expenditures between February 1, 1898, and February 1, 1899; also the expenditures during the fiscal year 1899-1900, thus covering the $2,000,000 authorized for last year.

Then follows a summarization, itemized by districts and jobs, of the cost of proposed work for the present fiscal year, as given without detail in the letter to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment dated January 12. This shows that work amounting to more than the entire $1,000,000 authorized for this year is ordered, planned for and substantially under way.

I then submit table showing sewers petitioned for, ordered by the Board of Street Commissioners, but not yet started, amounting to $1,349,860, for which there is no appropriation.

Then follows a statement of work petitioned for, but not yet ordered, given by districts and itemized, amounting to $321,725.

I would suggest that it might be advisable to print these tables in THE CITY RECORD, or as a document, so that the public could fully understand the situation as regards sewerage works.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

(Accompanying the above were the detailed statements referred to.)

Ordered printed and sent down.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Thursday, March 9, 1899, at 7.45 P.M., President Kiley being in the chair.

The following messages from His Honor the Mayor were received:

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Park Commissioners in reference to your order requesting that a speedway be constructed on the south boundary of Franklin Field.

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Jamaica Plain, March 2, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: The Board duly received the vote of the Common Council of February 9, requesting that a speedway be constructed on the south boundary of Franklin Field, and referred it to our Superintendent, a copy of whose report we herewith send you.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

February 27, 1899.

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Esq., Chairman.

DEAR SIR: Regarding the order of the City Council of February 9, asking that a speedway be constructed on the south boundary of Franklin Field, referred by the Mayor to the Park Department for suitable action, I beg to say that there is no space large enough which can be set apart for this purpose. The total length of the proposed line from Blue Hill avenue to the barn is only 1,100 feet. A considerable space would be needed at either end for starting and slowing up, shortening the track down to not more than 750 feet. On this score alone the plan is not feasible, without entering into considerations of danger to users of the playground, and the cost of construction and maintenance, which would be heavy.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. PETTIGREW, Superintendent.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, March 9, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reply to inquiry contained in enclosed order of the Common Council, I beg to inform you that there has been no delay in the construction of Belvidere street. This street was originally laid out by the Board of Street Commissioners, September 1, 1897. Owing to the refusal of the Boston and Albany Railroad Company to allow the taking to be made across their location, it was necessary for the Legislature to pass a special act authorizing the Street Commissioners to make this taking; and on August 1, 1898, the street was again laid out, and the order of construction passed. Since then the sewer has been built and the street filled, and the further construction will be carried on as soon as it is the proper season for such work.

The old portion of the street was put in condition last year as far as the railroad line, and such work as was possible has been done.

Respectfully submitted,

BENJ. W. WELLS,

Superintendent of Streets.

advise or see the necessity of further outlay in this neighborhood.

Ice for Municipal Purposes.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 9, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith for your information a communication addressed to me by the Water Commissioner, at my request, stating briefly the results thus far of the new policy which has been adopted of having the Water Department cut ice for municipal use from its own reservoirs. This ice was harvested primarily for the purpose of enabling the Department to install and conduct a considerable number of summer drinking fountains, in which the water is cooled by passing through a coil of pipe contained in an insulated ice-box placed underground. A few ice-water fountains of this type were installed last summer, and the small cost at which they were maintained, with the very large use which was made of them, afforded every encouragement to make a large increase this year in the number of such fountains. While the ice has been harvested primarily for this particular use, under the control of the Water Department, it also affords an interesting opportunity of testing the ability of the city to produce and deliver ice for some other municipal uses at a lower price than it has been paying.

This experiment constitutes another step in the general policy, which I have favored where every opportunity seemed to offer, of having the city provide for the needs of the municipal service, as far as possible, through the direct employment of labor, instead of through the contract system.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER.

City Hall, March 9, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: The Water Department has finished the harvesting of ice from its reservoirs. The amount of ice cut and stored is over 1,600 tons. All the work in connection with the erection of the ice-houses (except some masonry work) and the cutting and storing of the ice, etc., has been done by labor furnished by the Department. From a commercial standpoint, if we charge against the ice the cutting and packing and the repairs on the ice-houses as well as their original cost, so that after some years the ice-houses will have paid for themselves, the cost per ton would be about 96 cents. This estimate is based upon the theory that there will not be much shrinkage in the amount of ice as now stored, and for the purposes for which the Department is going to use the ice the shrinkage should be nominal.

The Department was at a disadvantage in cutting the ice, inasmuch as the men had no practical experience in ice-cutting operations. The work was all done without the use of machinery, and we were compelled to do considerable work in the way of removing snow from the ice. I am of the opinion that next year, by using machinery, and through the experience obtained this year, under ordinary weather conditions, the ice can be harvested at a figure far below that given above.

Last year, owing to the fact that the ice was used in our cold-water fountains, scattered over the city, in a chopped condition, we found it necessary to do our own teaming. The charge to us for ice was $2.50 a ton in cakes, and fifteen cents per basket, nominally of fifty pounds, or $6 per ton when chopped. As we must do our own teaming we consider the ice as now stored worth approximately $2.50 per ton.

On the question of the Water Department furnishing ice to the other city departments, which you requested me to report upon, I would say that while we have over 1,600 tons stored, and probably will use only 1,200 tons, leaving a surplus, yet I believe it would be wise for us to hold that surplus in view of any possible shrinkage, or any extraordinary demand upon our water-fountains, which would increase the consumption of ice. I am of the opinion, however, that we could deliver ice to the City Hospital, at cost, for a less sum than they are now paying. It is questionable whether we could deliver it in competition with ice companies to the various isolated departments and buildings belonging to the city. We could experimentally deliver a supply for a few days to the Hospital this year, and from this delivery estimate what the cost would be of the ice next year to that institution. The ice which we have in store has been analyzed and found to be of the best quality.

We can cut 30,000 tons from our reservoirs in a favorable season.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

Water Commissioner.

THE MALDEN BRIDGE.

The following communication has been addressed by His Honor the Mayor to the Boston members of the Massachusetts Legislature. House Bill No. 936, printed below, was originally introduced as House Bill No. 20 (see THE CITY RECORD, Vol. II., page 30), and the changes in the bill over the original draft are indicated in Italic:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 15, 1899.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE FROM BOSTON:

I think it my duty to call your attention to the provisions of House Bill No. 936, entitled "An Act relative to Malden Bridge, so-called, in the City of Boston," which has been favorably reported by a majority of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. I believe this bill to be most unjust to this city, in that it compels an expenditure of $110,000 in excess of the sum which is needed, in the opinion of the city authorities, to remedy the present admitted deficiencies of the Malden bridge, this large extra cost of a sixty-foot bridge over a fifty-foot one being due to the far more expensive character of the draw required for the greater width. Last year a similar persistent effort was made to impose this large expense upon this city, but it finally failed of success, chiefly through the opposition of Boston members.

Fully recognizing the need of taking some action, and being unwilling to further resist mandatory legislation unless the city itself provided for the proper accommodation of traffic on this bridge, I recommended an appropriation for this purpose to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment early this year, and on February 7 an order was passed, by the unanimous vote of all the members of this Board, appropriating the sum of $50,000 "for rebuilding the draw and reconstructing the present Malden bridge, at a width of not less than fifty feet, such work to be completed during the year 1899."

This appropriation was passed in concurrence by the Common Council on February 17, and by the Board of Aldermen on February 20; it has gone into effect, and the City Engineer is pushing forward the preparatory work as rapidly as possible, having already advertised for bids for the new draw required. I append hereto a copy of a letter addressed to me by the City Engineer, Mr. William Jackson, whose experience and professional rank certainly make his views entitled to respect, stating his opinion that provision has now been made for doing all that is desirable at the present time.

Whatever may have been the case before, I cannot see that any sufficient ground remains, in view of the action which the city has now voluntarily taken, for mandatory legislation to compel the entire rebuilding of this bridge. The large extra expenditure required for such rebuilding,—as proposed by the pending bill, represents, in my opinion and that of the City Engineer, an unnecessary and wasteful use of the funds of the City of Boston; moreover, this amount cannot be spared out of the very limited borrowing capacity now remaining unused, without seriously trenching upon the resources of the city still available to meet the pressing needs of the different districts for the balance of this year. I cannot believe that the Legislature, upon a full understanding of the facts of the case, will pass this bill; but, in any case, I should not consider that I had performed my duty unless I called the situation to the attention of the representatives of Boston in both branches of the Legislature, and appealed to them to resist this uncalled-for imposition upon the city.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

For a communication from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to the Legislature, see the records of the meeting of that Board, page 211.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, March 13, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: In reply to your inquiry concerning the Malden bridge, I would say that when I was asked to give my opinion to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment as to the proper action to be taken by the city and the amount of the appropriation needed, I advised the rebuilding of the draw and the partial reconstruction of the present bridge, so as to give a width of not less than fifty feet, rather than the complete rebuilding of the bridge at the present time at any greater width. I believe that a bridge fifty feet in width is sufficient to provide for the needs of traffic for the next ten years, and that the entire rebuilding of the bridge at any greater width should be postponed until that time.

My estimate of the cost of building a new bridge sixty feet in width is about $160,000, and I am of the opinion that, in view of the uncertainty as to what may be the requirements of traffic at this point in the not distant future, it is not advisable to attempt at the present time to build a permanent and expensive structure.

Several large interests below this bridge have already made it necessary to provide for a considerable widening of the draw of the North Chelsea bridge, the next below this one; and it is expected that in a few years it will be necessary to replace the North Chelsea bridge by a steel bridge on masonry piers, with a draw having 100-foot openings. If the development of this part of the harbor should be carried above the Malden bridge, a similar construction would be necessary here, but as the expense would be large, it does not seem to me to be wise at this time to enter into it, especially as the traffic over the bridge for the present, and for at least ten years to come, can be accommodated by using in the proposed reconstruction a part of the old structure, making the new bridge fifty feet in width in the clear, with a ten-foot sidewalk and a forty-foot roadway.

A bridge constructed as above would last for at least ten years, at which time some idea can be had of the probable development of this section of the harbor, and of the kind of a permanent bridge which will be needed.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM JACKSON, City Engineer.

The bill referred to is as follows:

AN ACT RELATIVE TO MALDEN BRIDGE, SO CALLED, IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The City Engineer of the City of Boston, in its name and behalf, is hereby authorized and required forthwith after the passage of this act to construct and complete a bridge across Mystic river, at, upon, or near the present site of the so-called Malden bridge, and the Board of Street Commissioners of said city shall take in fee any lands which the Board may deem necessary to enable the city to carry out the provisions of this act.

Sect. 2. Said bridge shall be not less than sixty feet in width, shall be suitable for ordinary travel, and shall be built in such places and on such plans, and with a draw of such opening not less than forty feet in width, as the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners shall approve, and shall be constructed and maintained subject to the provisions of Chapter 19 of the Public Statutes and of all other laws which now are or hereafter may be in force relating to bridges over tide water, except that no compensation for displacement of tide water, or for occupying any lands or flats of the Commonwealth, shall be required from said city.

Sect. 3. The cost of constructing said bridge shall be paid by the City of Boston, and for the purpose of paying said cost the Treasurer of said city shall, from time to time, issue notes, bonds or scrip of the City of Boston inside of the debt limit of said city, to an amount not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, and use the proceeds to meet the expenses incurred under this act. Such scrip, notes or bonds, shall bear such interest, payable semi-annually, not exceeding four per centum per annum, and be payable at such times, not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, as shall be determined by said Treasurer.

Sect. 4. The City of Boston shall maintain and keep said bridge in repair and shall maintain and operate the draw thereon and shall be liable under the limitations of law for all damages for which towns are liable, resulting from or recovered by reason of any defect or want of repair of the same.

Sect. 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

REPORT OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

In Document 13, 1899, which constitutes the annual report of the Fire Department for the year 1898-99, the Fire Commissioner notes the completion of the salt-water service for Atlantic avenue, through Congress street, Post Office square and Central street to Central Wharf, to be used by the two fire-boats in case of conflagration, but not for ordinary service; the completion of a new house for Engine 30, on Centre street, West Roxbury, and its occupancy on June 1; the establishment on November 8 of Combination Company No. 6 in new quarters at Grove Hall, Dorchester; the placing in service of a second fire-boat, Engine 31, after many trials; the completion of the work of placing the wires of the fire-alarm underground in the district prescribed originally by the Legislature in 1894; the efficiency and excellence of the whole fire-alarm system; the provision of increased protection in out-lying districts; and the zeal and vigilance shown by officers and men throughout the Department in the performance of their duties.

Commissioner Russell states that "much extra work was caused by the two heavy storms of the year; that of January 31 was especially disastrous to the overhead service, as the wires, poles and fixtures erected for their support were broken, torn down and otherwise demoralized to a greater extent than ever occurred on any previous occasion since the fire-alarm system was established.

"The damage resulting from the November storm was much less in extent, but a great amount of emergency work was made necessary by it before the circuits were restored to their normal condition.

"The whole fire-alarm system has continued to show its excellence through alarm-boxes and transmitters, the former never failing to properly send in the alarms, while the latter, in sending them out, has struck 7,300,000 blows without serious mistakes in directing the engines and other apparatus."

The principal recommendations made by the Fire Commissioner are: (1), that, if it should seem advisable to extend the salt-water service, which is capable of throwing 30,000 gallons of water per minute to the top of a ten-story building—a sixteen-inch pipe be laid from Central Wharf through Atlantic avenue, India and Franklin to Congress street, from Congress street through Atlantic avenue, Summer, Bedford, Chauncy, Summer, Hawley and Milk streets to Congress street to cover a thickly-congested territory, in which, at any time, it may be necessary to fight a conflagration; (2), that the wires of the fire-alarm branch be placed under ground from Dover-street bridge to Tremont street, up Tremont to Roxbury, from Roxbury to Washington, down Washington to Eustis, from Eustis to Harrison avenue, down Harrison avenue to Northampton, through Northampton to Albany, down Albany to the point of starting. And also in Charlestown from Warren bridge through City square to Park street, through Park to Henley, through Henley to Chelsea, through Chelsea street to Chelsea bridge, inasmuch as the storms of the past year have clearly demonstrated the advantage of such action; (3), that an additional ladder company be placed in the territory adjacent to Engines 38-39, on Congress street, to provide necessary ladder service for the many large buildings in that neighborhood.

Appended to the report are the usual tables showing the organization and pay-roll of the Department, which includes 833 officers and men; the boundaries of fire districts; the location of engine-houses, fire apparatus, etc.; the causes of fires and alarms during the year 1898-99; and a list of the alarm bells and public clocks under the charge of the Department.

During the year ending January 31, 1899, 1,980 alarms were received, of which 1,515 were from citizens; 1,689 fires occurred within the city, of which 425 were extinguished by extinguishers, 253 by buckets of water, 282 by chemical engines, 141 by hydrant streams, 294 by steam fire-engines, and the remainder by miscellaneous and private means; 797 buildings were slightly damaged, 103 were considerably damaged and 24 were totally destroyed.

The total fire losses amounted to $1,441,261, or $440,044 on buildings, and $1,001,217 on their contents. The buildings involved were insured for $10,680,856, and their contents for $4,558,805, or $15,239,611 in all.

EXPENDITURES FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

The report of the Committee on Supplies constitutes School Document No. 1—1899.

This report covers the entire running expenses of the schools, excepting the amount paid for salaries and the expense incurred under the head of repairs on and alterations of school buildings.

Gross expenditures amounted to $241,268.79, or $15,431.29 less than the estimates.

The net expenditures for the fiscal year 1898-99 amounted to $238,389.

The net amount expended shows an increase of $6,896 in supplies and incidentals, and an increase of $6,919 in fuel, gas and water,—a total increase, as compared with the cost for the previous year, of $13,815.

The average number of pupils belonging to the different grades of schools was 83,008. The average cost of this Department per pupil for books, supplies and incidentals was $1.63, and for fuel, gas and water was $1.24—a total cost per pupil of $2.87.

The value of the stock on hand at the close of the year amounted to $24,776, an increase of $2,282 as compared with the value of the stock on hand January 1, 1898, which shows that the schools were supplied with this amount less than the expenses of the year would indicate.

The total amount expended for books, drawing materials and stationery during the year was $77,736; deducting $259, the income received, it leaves $77,476 as the net amount expended for these items, an increase over the previous year of $5,383.

The cost of supplying pupils under the free text-book law, charging for this purpose the entire net cost of all the books, stationery and drawing materials purchased during the year amounted to ninety-three cents per pupil, which varies but slightly from the cost for the two years previous.

The cost of supplementary reading the past year was $7,717.19, an amount nearly double the average cost for ten years previous. This was partly due to changing the books in the primary schools of three divisions from circulating to permanent reading.

The expense for printing, including the stock used, amounted to $9,110.79, as compared with $7,350.37 for the year preceding. This advance in cost was due principally to the large edition of the "Outline of Lessons in Drawing," prepared by the Director of Drawing, and the extra amount of printing necessitated by the changes in the Rules and Regulations during the year.

The cost for furnishing new flags and for repairing old ones, to meet the unusual demands of the schools, amounted to $746.86. The increase in patriotic feeling occasioned by the war with Spain was responsible for a large part of this outlay.

The expenditures for manual training supplies during the year just closed amounted to $6,320.

Kindergarten materials, including the services of maids, cost $3,536.32. The combined expenses for these two special grades of schools present a decrease as compared with the previous year of $1,396.15, which is due to the fact that since September no new kindergartens or manual training classes have been started.

The amount of coal purchased during the year for the several schools was 16,253 tons, an increase of 926 tons as compared with 1897-98.

The total expense on account of coal, including weighing, amounted to $75,946.75, an increase as compared with the year preceding of $1,640.

Two hundred and fifty-three cords of wood were purchased during the year from the Overseers of the Poor, at an expense of $2,792.57, including sawing, splitting and hauling.

The cost for water is increasing at a faster rate than any other item of school expenses. The bills sent in by the Water Department, and paid during the past year, amounted to $13,439.20, as compared with $10,275.58 in 1897-98, and $7,861.72 in 1896-97, an increase of over 70 per cent. in two years.

Gas and electric lighting cost $10,757.34 in 1898-99, as compared with $8,694.51 in 1897-98, and $6,834 in 1896-97, an increase of 57 per cent. in two years.

This committee has little or no control over these last-mentioned expenditures, and can but record them as they occur; and if the present rapid rate of increase be continued it will doubtless lead to some plan of more direct responsibility than exists at present.

The total cost for fuel, gas and water the past year amounted to $102,935.86, an increase over the year previous of $6,919.57.

The following shows the net expenditures properly chargeable to the different grades of schools for all items under control of this committee:

CLASS OF SCHOOL.	Net cost of supplies.	Average number pupils belonging.	Average cost per pupil.

*Nine months.

The committee emphasize the fact that in 1876-77, without free books and supplies, the cost under the head of supplies and incidentals was $2.44 per pupil, as compared with $1.63 per pupil for the past year, not only with free books and supplies, but with various new sources of expenditure, such as manual training, cooking, etc., as indicating the efforts of this committee toward a careful and economical administration of their department.

The Council at Louisville, Ky., has adopted an ordinance requiring all street railways in that city, beginning with January, 1900, to provide protecting vestibules for motormen between November 1 and April 1 of each year.

The Chair read the following:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 11, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I return herewith, without my approval, order passed by your Committee on February 28, providing for the payment of $12.90 to Patrick M. Connolly for extra services as janitor of the Eliot School; of $13.20 to Joseph P. Fleming for extra services as janitor of the Hancock School; of $20 to Jeremiah W. Murphy for extra services as janitor of the Phillips School, and $12.75 to Humphrey C. Mahoney for extra services as janitor of the Cushman School. I understand that such extra services consisted in washing the windows of school buildings, and it seems to me that such service properly comes under the regular duties of a janitor, and should be allowed for in his regular salary, instead of as an extra.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

February 14, 1899.

The Chair read the following:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 11, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

I return herewith the annual appropriation order, as passed by your Committee, having approved of all the items therein except the six items under the heading of "Salaries for Janitors," amounting in the aggregate to $156,000, which I hereby disapprove, for the reason that I believe that the salaries of janitors should be itemized in the same manner as salaries of instructors are itemized, so as to show at least the number of janitors who are paid each grade of salary. As the items stand, there is nothing to show the distribution of the aggregate amount of each item between the number of janitors who are to be paid out of such item. It seems to me proper that the Mayor should have the same opportunity to pass upon the salaries paid to janitors which he has to pass upon salaries paid to instructors.

The item "Additional for washing floors, etc., $2,800," under the heading of "Salaries for Janitors," is disapproved for the reason that it seems to me that the washing of floors should be considered as coming within the regular janitor service.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The communication was referred to the Committee on Accounts.

The Superintendent of Schools presented appointments and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him as made in accordance with the Rules and Regulations as follows:

The appointments of two special assistants, laid over, under the rule; the appointment of one temporary teacher, which was placed on file; the reappointments of five temporary teachers, placed on file; the appointments of five teachers on probation, which were laid over, under the rule; confirmations of the appointments of seven teachers, which were laid over, under the rule.

The Committee on School-houses, to whom was referred, February 14, a communication from His Honor the Mayor, enclosing a communication from the Common Council, asking that the sanitary condition of the Ticknor School, South Boston, be investigated, and that such changes and repairs as are necessary be made so as to put the same in proper condition, reported that they have again investigated the condition of this building and are fully acquainted with its necessities with regard to alterations and repairs.

These are so extensive, however, as to involve the closing of the school, should the work be undertaken at the present time. Your committee therefore recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through His Honor the Mayor, that it is the intention of this committee to furnish new sanitary accommodations for this school, and to make other alterations and repairs during the coming summer vacation.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

less number of lectures than were given last year the compensation shall be reduced correspondingly.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Salaries it was ordered:

(1.) That there be paid to Clarence P. Coburn the sum of $80 for extra services as acting-principal of the Franklin Evening School during the vacancy in the principalship of said school, and that there be also paid to Annie Dooley the sum of $2, and to Adah F. Whitney the sum of $8, for services rendered as assistants in that school during the same time.

(2.) That there be paid to H. Caroline Wort the sum of $212, for services rendered in primary school, Everett District, from September 6, 1898, to February 9, 1899, inclusive.

Parker as sub-master in the Dwight District, and filling the vacancy in the sub-mastership of the Warren District by a new appointment, report that they have given the matter careful consideration, and are willing that Mr. Parker should be transferred to the Warren District.

A communication was received from the Mayor transmitting a communication from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the Approval of the Board, he had transferred the sum of $2,900, from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Mayor, the intention being to use the said sum for meeting the expenses of the following committees:

Committee to examine the accounts and operations of the Repair Division of the Public Buildings Department	300 00

Commission to examine the Building Department	2,000 00
Amount required	$2,900 00

The communication was placed on file.

On motion of Mr. Barry, it was voted to approve the transfer by the City Auditor of two thousand nine hundred (2,900) dollars from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Mayor.

The vote was signed by Mayor Quincy, and Messrs. Barry, Sullivan and Minot.

A communication (on file) was received from the Board of Street Commissioners requesting an appropriation of $42,000 for meeting the expenses of the Sewer Assessment Division of the Street Laying-out Department.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan, it was voted that Mayor Quincy be requested to arrange for the provision of the amount needed for meeting the expenses of the Sewer Assessment Division out of the appropriation of $353,000 already made for the maintenance and operation of the sewerage works, under the Street Department, Sewer Division.

Mr. Minot called attention to the provisions of House Bill 936, entitled "An Act relative to Malden Bridge, so-called, in the City of Boston," providing for an expenditure of $200,000 by the city during the current year, inside of the debt limit, for the rebuilding of Malden Bridge; and, on motion of Mr. Minot, it was voted that, in the opinion of this Board, it would interfere very seriously with the proper performance of its duty if appropriations inside the debt limit are made by the Legislature, and that the following memorial, to be signed by all the members of the Board present at this meeting, be presented to the Legislature:

TO THE HONORABLE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, IN GENERAL COURT ASSEMBLED:

Respectfully represents the undersigned, members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of Boston, that in the performance of the duty and authority vested in them by the Legislature, they have authorized loans within the borrowing capacity of the city for the current year amounting to the sum of $854,000, and have further voted to set aside the sum of $500,000 to be appropriated for providing additional school accommodations, leaving an available borrowing capacity, for meeting all the needs of the city for the balance of the current year, of $441,000; that they believe that the full amount of said sum will be urgently required to meet the wants of the city within the current year, and they therefore respectfully, but earnestly, protest against the passage of House Bill 936, appropriating the sum of $200,000 within the debt limit, upon the ground that said bill, if passed, will entirely upset the financial calculations of the Board and deprive it of an available resource which it has counted upon having. We therefore respectfully ask that, inasmuch as the last Legislature saw fit to intrust the members of this Board with the duty of making appropriations within the debt limit, the present Legislature will not hamper us in the execution of the plans which we have made in the performance of that duty.

The memorial was signed by Mayor Quincy, and Messrs. Barry, Sullivan and Minot, being all the members of the Board present.

On motion of Mr. Minot, it was voted that the Chairman be authorized to approve any bills that become due from time to time for stenographic services, or for attendance of elective members at meetings of the Board.

Adjourned at 6.35 P.M., subject to the call of the Chairman.

JOHN H. SULLIVAN, Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 20, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Board of Park Commissioners, recommending the passage of an order authorizing the said Board to so modify the restrictions contained in the deed of a certain lot of land bordering upon the Back Bay Fens, as to make them conform to the restrictions placed upon similar parcels of land at the present time, and I concur in their recommendation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

Jamaica Plain, March 18, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: We have received a petition from Henry M. White and A. P. Loring for a modification of the restriction as to the height of buildings which may be erected upon land bordering upon the Fens, to make it conform to that more recently adopted and to statute law.

In order to do this it is requisite that the City Council pass an order giving us authority to change the restrictions in such cases, and we enclose for your consideration a copy of an order approved by the Law Department, together with a copy of said petition.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. STRATTON, Chairman.

TO THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON:

Boston, March 13, 1899.

GENTLEMEN: In deed of Henry M. White to the City of Boston, dated December 29, 1891, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 2061, Page 569, conveying land for the widening of the Tremont entrance to the Back Bay Park, said White covenanted with the City of Boston that he would hold his remaining land abutting upon said Park and said entrance to a distance of one hundred feet therefrom, subject to the following restrictions, to wit:

1. No building erected or placed upon said premises shall be used as a livery or public stable, or for any mechanical or manufacturing purposes, nor exceed five stories in height above the basement or cellar, nor exceed sixty feet in height from the mean grade of the edgestone of sidewalk in front to the ceiling of the extreme upper story (excepting churches or chapels), and no roof shall be used for laundry or clothes-drying purposes.

On January 31, 1899, Mr. White conveyed to Mr. A. P. Loring a portion of his land on the corner of the Fenway and Worthington street, subject to the restrictions mentioned in said deed.

We now desire and ask that the restrictions placed on said land by said deed of White to the City of Boston be so far modified or amended as to conform to the restrictions at the present time placed upon Back Bay lands, and especially that they be so changed as to allow the erection on said land of buildings seventy feet in height.

This matter is very urgent, as Mr. Loring wishes to build on his land immediately.

Yours respectfully,

HENRY M. WHITE,

By JOHN H. COLBY, his Attorney,

A. P. LORING,

By A. F. CLARKE, Attorney.

Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners, with the approval of the Mayor, and by an instrument or instruments satisfactory to the Law Department, may, in the name and behalf of the city, alter and amend the restrictions contained in deeds heretofore given to the city by the owners of lands abutting upon the public parks, by substituting the word "seventy" for the word "sixty" in the clause relating to the maximum height of buildings allowed on the restricted premises, and may also insert after the word "chapels" in said clause the words, — or above the grade of the ground at the principal front of the building, in case the grade of said ground is above the grade of said park.

In Board of Aldermen, March 20, 1899.

Passed. Sent down for concurrence.

CHARLES RIVER EMBANKMENT.

Following is the correspondence between His Honor the Mayor and the Secretary of War with regard to the proposed Charles river Embankment:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, January 10, 1899.

HON. RUSSELL A. ALGER, Secretary of War, Washington, D.C.

SIR: The undersigned, Mayor of the City of Boston, most respectfully petitions that authority may be granted to said city to construct a sea-wall and embankment, extending from the West Boston bridge, connecting the cities of Boston and Cambridge, substantially parallel with Charles street in said City of Boston, and thence substantially parallel with Beacon street in said city, to a point near the Back Bay Fens, so-called, in said city; certain authority for such purpose having been already granted by the Massachusetts Legislature by Chapter 344 of the Acts of 1891, as amended by Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1893, and it being the intention of said city to secure at the present session of the Legislature additional legislative authority for such purpose.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, March 21, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor, Boston, Mass.

MY DEAR SIR: Referring to your letter of January 10 last, requesting permission to construct a sea-wall and embankment in Charles river beyond the established harbor lines, as shown on maps which accompany your letter, I beg to invite attention to the accompanying copies of reports on the subject from Colonel Suter, the local Engineer Officer and the Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army, from which it will be observed that the conditions render it impracticable to comply with your request.

Very respectfully,

R. A. ALGER, Secretary of War.

OFFICE CHIEF OF ENGINEERS, U. S. ARMY.

March 15, 1899.

Respectfully returned to the Secretary of War.

Application is made by the City of Boston for permission to construct a sea-wall and embankment in Charles river, beyond the established harbor lines, as shown on the accompanying maps.

Attention is invited to the report of Colonel Suter, in third endorsement hereon, in which he expresses the opinion that the encroachment desired by the city would be injurious to the harbor, and recommends that the permission be not granted.

I concur in this recommendation.

JOHN M. WILSON,

Brigadier-General, Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army.

UNITED STATES ENGINEER OFFICE.

Boston, Mass., March 11, 1899.

Respectfully returned to the Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army.

This is a request to construct a sea-wall and embankment in the Charles river beyond the present bulkhead line, with the object of gaining ground for streets or park purposes outside of the present water front of the City of Boston. The accompanying maps show the proposed location and its relation to the present approved bulkhead lines. As will be seen, a very material encroachment on the Charles river tidal basin is contemplated, and no compensation therefor is suggested, or, indeed, seems to be possible. In view of the great importance which has always been attached to this basin as a factor in the preservation of the harbor of Boston, and the uniform recommendations of all reports which have been made on the subject, it does not seem proper that any further encroachment on its area should be allowed, and I would therefore respectfully recommend that the permission herein requested be not granted.

CHARLES R. SUTER,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers.

This would seem to put an end to any prospect of being able to carry out any projected improvement of the banks of the Charles river, in the rear of Beacon street, unless kept inside of the line of the present sea-wall. His Honor the Mayor and the City Engineer will now confer with representatives of the property owners on Beacon street, and others interested, as to the desirability of undertaking some improvement of the embankment inside of the present sea-wall.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

The Annual Report of the Election Department, for the year 1898, constitutes Document 11, 1899.

The work of the Department has been carried on during the past year, not only within the appropriation, but with a substantial balance to its credit, due principally to the fact that there was less than the usual activity prior to both State and city elections, and to the act of the Legislature of 1898, which provided that there should be no supplementary assessment after October 1. The laws governing the conduct of caucuses and elections are now in a very satisfactory condition, since the passage of the so-called "Election Act of 1898."

During the year, in addition to the seven caucuses and two regular elections, there have been two special caucuses and elections. Both caucuses and elections have been conducted in an orderly manner, there being but one instance during the year where the election returns proved to be so inaccurate as to require an investigation.

The report states that the appointment of deputy election officers, as now required by law, is unnecessary. It is believed that the polling-places could be properly managed by a warden, clerk and two inspectors in each precinct, instead of four inspectors as at present. A reduction in the force of election officers would save a large sum of money, which could be applied to increasing the number of polling-places in the city.

Much improvement has been noticed the past year in the preparation of nomination papers.

Attention is again directed to the great abuse of the right to petition for recounts. This abuse exists specially with regard to caucuses; election recounts are, as a rule, justifiable. The recount after the city election of 1898 was conducted in a large hall, hired for the purpose, which enabled the Department to finish the work of recounting in four days instead of six as heretofore.

During the past two years there has been a growing tendency in some localities, to make use of pasters or ballots at caucuses, and when this was done within the statute, and in the absence of objections, the names so pasted were counted at all recounts. This evil assumed greater proportions during the past year in these localities, and at the recounts following the fall caucuses objections were raised to counting blanket pasters which contained the names of all persons on the official ballot, and only those names, and which were so prepared that they could be marked by interested parties outside the polling-place, taken into the voting compartment by the voter, and pasted on or over the official ballot, given to him by the caucus officer. These blanket pasters in size of type and other respects were very similar to the official ballots. After a careful consideration of the objections it was decided to refuse to count such blanket pasters.

A loan of $30,000 was authorized by the City Council for the purchase of one hundred voting-booths, to take the place of rooms in school-houses which had been previously used as polling-places. The booths are made of thin corrugated steel, and proved unsuitable for the severe weather of the December city election. It has been demonstrated, however, that with a lining of wood they can be made serviceable. The old wooden booths were turned over to various regiments for use as barracks for the troops, and later were loaned to the City Hospital for the care of sick soldiers returning from duty. Thirteen booths were also loaned to the Baths Department.

It became necessary, therefore, to have twenty new wooden booths constructed, at considerable expense, and unless funds are provided for sheathing the iron booths, still more wooden booths will need to be built. The Board is of the opinion that the School Committee should now allow the use on election days of some of their buildings for polling-places.

The present system of preparing the jury-list by this Board seems, on the whole, to meet with the approval of the public.

As a rule, the supplementary registration is not consulted in selecting names for jurors, as it is so largely made up from the floating population of the city, which class is not desirable to draw upon for jurors. There has been some surprise manifested that names drawn by the Board of Aldermen from the jury-list prepared by the Election Board prove in some cases to be those of non-residents. When these persons appear in Court in response to the summons this fact is disclosed, and they are for this reason excused, as they are exempt from such service in this city. These persons were residents of the city on May 1, according to the returns of the assessors, and, having been on the voting-list the previous year, their names were continued on the list. They acquired a residence elsewhere by moving out of the city between May 1 and the time when they were drawn as jurors, which may have been more than a year later, as the jury-list, prepared in January and February, is the list for the twelve months following. The only remedy for this is to amend the law so that the Board of Election Commissioners shall be required to select the names at an earlier date, say in July or August. In this event six months would be gained in the preparation of the list.

The exemptions from jury service allowed by law include so large a body of citizens that such exemptions should be reduced. No good and sufficient reason is seen why members of the volunteer militia and of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company should be relieved from serving as jurors, and it is believed that an advantage would be gained if the limit of age were increased from sixty-five to seventy years. As the term of service of jurors is now so short, the Board believes it would be wise and expedient to further change the law, so that a person shall be liable to be drawn and serve as a juror once in two years, instead of three years as at present.

As the Ballot Law Commission of the City of Boston, the Board was called upon during the past year to hear and determine but a single case.

During the past year two complaints only for illegal registration were filed in the Department.

There has actually been expended by the Department during the year 1898, chargeable to the regular appropriation, the sum of $130,190.67; and on account of the special loan for new voting-booths the sum of $29,595.73. There remained to the credit of the Department on the first account the sum of $6,809.33, and on the second account the sum of $404.27.

Following the report are tabular statements of assessed polls, registered voters and votes cast at State and municipal elections for 1898.

NEXT MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held in the Aldermanic Chamber on Monday, April 3, at 3 o'clock.

The cost of lighting the streets of Baltimore, Md., in 1898, was $339,550.19. There are now in service 1,369 electric arc lamps, 6,235 gas lamps, and 1,072 gasoline lamps.

CLERK OF COMMITTEES DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the Clerk of Committees Department for the year ending January 31, 1899, has been submitted to His Honor the Mayor.

The whole number of committees appointed for the period was eighty-one, classified as follows:

	Standing.	Special.
Aldermanic.	16	5
Common Council.	2	8
Joint	40	10
Total	58	23

These committees have had referred to them nearly three thousand petitions, orders, remonstrances and communications of various kinds, and a very large percentage have been acted upon and reported to the City Council.

The Aldermanic Committee on Public Improvements and the Joint Committee on Claims have transacted the largest amount of business. The number of claims considered and acted upon by the latter committee was 256, requiring for settlement the sum of $44,678.63.

Among the more important matters acted upon by committees were the revision of the ordinances, which was conducted by the Committee on Ordinances, being the twelfth revision since 1827; the assessment plan for street watering reported by the Committee on Street Department, and the extension of the building limits, which was given careful and extended consideration by the Committee on Building Department.

The subject of licensing minors to sell newspapers and black boots has also received considerable attention. A new system is about to be put in operation, which will place boys engaged in this business under effective control.

The total expenditures of the department for the year were $13,211.18, leaving a balance of $150.55.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

The annual report of the City Treasurer, which constitutes Document 37, 1899, has recently been presented to His Honor the Mayor.

The leading features of the report are statements of the receipts and payments of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk for the financial year terminating January 31, 1899; a statement of the debt of the city and the sinking-funds for the redemption of the same; an exhibit of the yearly receipts and payments of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk; the aggregate of the receipts and payments of the sinking-funds, for the period of seventeen years six and a half months, the length of time of the occupation of the office of City Treasurer of Boston by Mr. Turner; and an appendix showing the Trust Funds in the custody of the City Treasurer.

REPORT OF ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

The following statements and tabular presentations are taken from the annual report for 1898-99 of the Assessing Department, which constitutes Document 2, 1899:

The aggregate of warrants committed to the Board of Assessors for the year beginning February 1, 1898, amounted to $13,956,958. The rate of taxation for the year was based upon 157,590 polls recorded for assessment prior to August 17, 1898. Through the supplementary assessment of 3,339 polls, the total number for the year was increased to 160,929.

The total valuation of the city when the rate of taxation was fixed, i. e., August 17, as of the first of May, amounted to $1,036,099,418, including real estate valued at $830,233,900, and personal property valued at $205,865,518. Through supplementary assessments (including $562,200 in personal property), the total valuation when all assessments by the city were made, was increased to $1,036,690,518. The value of shipping engaged in foreign trade and owned by citizens of Boston amounted to only $17,785; but the valuation of Massachusetts corporation stock assessed by the State was $51,670,500, and the valuation of Massachusetts national bank shares, similarly assessed, was $1,351,100. If the three sums just named be added to the total valuation made by the Board of Assessors, the total taxable valuation of the city may be set at $1,089,729,903, which being increased by $172,926,678, the total exempt valuation, gives $1,262,656,581 as the total valuation of all sorts as of May 1, 1898.

The total amount of taxes and assessments for the year amounted to $15,126,932, of which $14,420,849 were taxes, and the residue special assessments. The two largest items included under special assessments were $510,951 for sewer charges and $139,232 levied for street-watering.

Of the tax assessments for the financial year, 30.25 per cent. were on property and 69.75 per cent. were for poll-taxes. The total number of persons assessed on property amounted to 58,004, of which 41,321 were resident individuals, 4,421 non-resident individuals and 12,262 firms, corporations, trustees, etc.

The valuation of 1898, as compared with that of the preceding year, shows a gain on real estate of $26,373,350, equal to an advance of 3.28 per cent., and a loss of $2,856,141 on personal property, equal to 1.36 per cent. The total valuation of 1898 is more than that of 1888 by $271,646,870, showing a gain in ten years of 35.53 per cent.

The following table, shows the total valuation of the City of Boston, the amount of taxes as shown in the warrant to the Collector, the rate of taxation of each $1,000, and the number of polls as determined by the Board of Assessors, when the rate of taxation was fixed for 1891 to 1898 (both years inclusive):

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: Replying to the order of Councilman Logan of Ward 14, dated March 2, 1899, I beg leave to say that I am requested by the Trustees of the Baths Department to state that before opening the L-street Bath-house for the summer bathing, the different rooms for children, men and women will have been placed in as good condition as possible consistent with the character of the accommodations offered to the public at that place.

The Committee of the Bath Trustees on the South Boston district are giving considerable attention to the L-street Bath-house, and before the opening of the season, will have placed the accommodations on the beach in a good sanitary condition.

Respectfully yours,

IN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

March 14, 1899.

The Committee on School-houses, to whom was referred, February 14, a communication from His Honor the Mayor, enclosing a communication from the Common Council, asking that the sanitary condition of the Ticknor School, South Boston, be investigated, and that such changes and repairs as are necessary be made, so as to put the same in proper condition, report that they have again investigated the condition of this building, and are fully acquainted with its necessities with regard to alterations and repairs. These are so extensive, however, as to involve the closing of the school, should the work be undertaken at the present time. Your committee, therefore, recommend that the Common Council be respectfully informed, through his Honor the Mayor, that it is the intention of this committee to furnish new sanitary accommodations for this school, and to make other alterations and repairs, during the coming summer vacation.

For the committee,

THOMAS F. STRANGE, Chairman.

Accepted, and ordered to be sent to His Honor the Mayor.

List of Employment Agencies.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 23, 1899.

TO THE COMMON COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Pauper Institutions Trustees, in reply to your order requesting a report giving "the names of employment agencies with which they deal in securing help for their departments."

Respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

PAUPER INSTITUTIONS TRUSTEES.

28 Court Square, March 22, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: In reference to the order of the Common Council, dated March 9, 1899, "that the Board of Trustees of Pauper Institutions be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to report to the Common Council the names of employment agencies with which they deal in securing help for their departments," I would respectfully report as follows:

It is the custom of the Pauper Institutions Trustees to leave largely in the hands of the Superintendents of the Boston Almshouse and Hospital on Long Island and the Charlestown Almshouse, respectively, the privilege of securing such help as does not fall within the classified lists of the Civil Service. We find on inquiry that such help has been secured during the year February 1, 1898, to January 31, 1899, from several employment agencies, to some of which fees have, while to others fees have not, been paid, as follows:

Name of Agency.	Fees paid.
Ray's Employment Bureau	$11 50
Sisters of Charity	4 50
Gray Nuns	3 00
Women's Education and Industrial Union	1 50
Boston Young Men's Christian Association	1 00
Joseph Breck & Sons	—
Mercantile Reference and Bond Association	—
Miss Dunning's Agency	—

As no formal records have been kept, directly bearing upon the question raised, it is possible that this list may not be complete, but it is believed to be correct, so far, at least, as payments are concerned.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM T. SEDGWICK, Chairman.

The communication was placed on file.

Veto — Building Permit.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 21, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my signature an order authorizing the Building Commissioner to issue a permit to William H. J. Stone for a wooden addition to a building on Poplar street, Ward 23, for the reason that the owner of the building now desires to build the addition of brick, and has withdrawn his application for a permit to build a wooden addition.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Further consideration of the matter was indefinitely postponed.

Veto — Non-Resident Employees.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, March 17, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I return herewith without my approval an ordinance amending the language of Section 12 of Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances, so as to provide that none but legal voters of Boston shall be employed in any capacity as male subordinates in any department.

Section 12 of Chapter 266 of the Acts of 1885 expressly provides that the City Council shall not "directly or indirectly take part in the employment of labor . . . or in the conduct of any of the executive or administrative business of the city," nor in the appointment of officers or subordinates, except the officers elected by the City Council or subject to confirmation by the Board of Aldermen. The Corporation Counsel has repeatedly given his opinion that, under this provision of law, it is entirely outside of the powers of the City Council to undertake to define by ordinance the qualifications of officials or employees, or to impose limitations upon their selection by the executive departments. It is true that the section of the ordinances which is amended by the ordinance before me provides that heads of departments shall employ "none but citizens of the United States in any capacity, and shall give preference in all cases to citizens of Boston"; this provision, however, for the reason above stated, has no legal effect, and I did not make objection to its insertion in the last revision of the ordinances partly because of this fact, and partly because there seemed to be no objection to the observance of such a provision.

In respect to the merits of the amendment now proposed, while I have considerable sympathy with the purpose in view, it seems to me it would be going altogether too far to lay down an absolute rule that in no case should any person not a legal voter of the city be employed as a male subordinate in any department. In the first place, this would absolutely prevent the employment of minors under twenty-one years of age, a considerable number of whom are almost necessarily employed by certain departments; in the second place, if such a provision were enforced, it would compel the summary dismissal of quite a number of officials and employees who have been for many years in the employ of the city and are rendering useful service, as it might be impossible for them, in many instances, to qualify at once as legal voters of the city; and, in the third place, while I believe in giving preference in all cases to citizens of Boston, as provided by the present ordinance, I am not prepared to accept the position that, whatever the technical requirements of any office may be, or however important it may be to secure the best expert service attainable or the benefit of special experience, the departments shall be in all cases confined to persons whose names can be found on the voting lists of the city.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

The ordinance was assigned to the next meeting.

He was connected with the Long Island Institution for two or three months in the spring of 1898.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

The following circular to heads of departments has been issued by His Honor the Mayor:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

Circular No. 60.

April 1, 1899.

TO THE HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

GENTLEMEN: I desire to call the attention of all heads of departments who have not yet placed the copy of their annual reports for the last financial year in the hands of the Superintendent of Printing to the importance of doing so at the earliest possible date. Annual department reports lose a large part of their value by being too long delayed in their issue, and I desire to urge upon all departments the desirability of promptness in this matter.

Yours respectfully,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS CONFERENCE.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Public Institutions Conference was held in the Aldermanic Chamber, City Hall, on Wednesday, March 29, at 3 P.M.

The following were present:

Mrs. Lincoln and Mr. Sedgwick, of the Pauper Institutions Trustees; Mrs. Thorndike and Mr. Fowler, of the Overseers of the Poor; Miss Cheever and Mr. Dasey, of the Trustees for Children, and Mr. Marshall, of the Penal Institutions Department and Institutions Registration Department.

The meeting was called to order at 3.30 P.M. and Mr. Fowler was made temporary Chairman in the absence of His Honor the Mayor.

Mr. Sedgwick, for the Pauper Institutions, reported that during the last quarter, the population had risen to its maximum height, but had suddenly fallen on Monday last, when 170 people left Long Island. The same movement occurred last year and is characteristic of other years in connection with the government of that Institution. Since the last meeting, Dr. Wentworth had been relieved of the charge of the Institution. Mr. Condon, the Deputy Superintendent, is in temporary charge. Mr. Sedgwick asked for information from Mr. Fowler and Mr. Marshall as to whether the people that left Long Island went to them, and if they had noticed any accession in numbers in their departments. Mr. Fowler reported that there had been an increase at the Wayfarers' Lodge. Mr. Marshall, in answer, replied that the numbers at Deer Island were less than before. Mr. Sedgwick reported that the population at Long Island was largely composed of people from thirty to fifty years of age, and the question was discussed as to what was the proper treatment for persons of those ages, who were able to work and applied for aid, the opinion being expressed by some of the members of the Conference that it would be a desirable thing if those people were denied admission to the almshouse. The particular case under discussion was that of a tin-worker, a very competent man, who, Mr. Sedgwick said, would be able to make perhaps $3 or $4 a day if outside of the Institution. It was the general opinion that such a man as that should be discouraged in his longer continuance as an inmate of an eleemosynary institution.

Mr. Fowler suggested that the names of those going out from Long Island be sent to the office of the Overseers of the Poor, and the suggestion was taken under advisement by Mr. Sedgwick.

Miss Cheever, for the Trustees for Children, reported a marked change at Rainsford Island, and said it was becoming more of a military school instead of a prison. This change has been very marked since her last visit there. The boys have a more soldierly bearing, the work is more established as a part of the discipline of the Institution, the boys are clean, take more care of themselves, and in every respect the discipline is much improved. On the last visit no boys were found complaining of the officers, but all seemed better satisfied. The feeling existing between the officers and the boys seems to be of a more helpful and cordial kind than previously. The officers have recently gotten up entertainments for the boys, which have been enjoyed very much by those belonging to the classes that were entitled to the privileges of the entertainment. She reported, regarding the Parental School, that there were 180 boys now there, a number very greatly in excess of the number that should be there with the present arrangements. The hospital building is also thoroughly occupied. The Board is considering the question of notifying the School Board that they cannot accept responsibility for any more boys there. The Trustees have returns weekly from over 900 children boarded out in the Home for Feeble Minded and other charitable institutions. Miss Cheever also reported that the closing of the Marcella-street Home had not produced any inconvenience with regard to the disposition of the children; that when it was closed first they feared there might be some inconvenience regarding it, but none has appeared. They have been able to dispose of the children promptly on their coming into the Department.

Mr. Dasey reported in regard to the Summer Hospital, that the Board had decided to use the building, formerly occupied by the Summer Hospital, for the younger boys of the institution on Rainsford Island, that that institution was very much crowded and the taking of this institution brought about a better classification than could be had formerly. Some boys there that are quite young, between nine and twelve years old, would be separated from the boys of sixteen, seventeen, and eighteen, who more properly belonged in the Concord Reformatory. Regarding the Superintendent, Mr. Anthony, Mr. Dasey reported that he was decidedly satisfactory and cannot be too highly spoken of, and also expressed a very favorable opinion of the Superintendent's wife, who assists in the work.

A general and interesting discussion was had on the sentences of boys at the Parental School, and also on the troublesome question of girl truants was entered into quite fully, with explanations from Mr. Dasey and Miss Cheever.

Mr. Fowler reported that at the Wayfarers' Lodge, the Board of Overseers of the Poor were making many changes and improvements, and that a larger number had applied than formerly. He said that no reciprocity existed between the Overseers of the Poor and the Institutions Registration Department, regarding the payment of those housed temporarily and suggested that it was a proper charge against either the Pauper Institutions Trustees or the Institutions Registration Department. While they would be very glad to continue to do the work, yet they would be pleased to receive compensation for it.

Mrs. Lincoln said that a distinct improvement in the treatment of babies at Long Island had been made, at the suggestion of Miss Morris, Superintendent of Nurses; that during the occupancy of the hospital by the soldiers returning from the war one ward had been given over to them, and that when the soldiers left the institution the ward that they had occupied was taken for babies alone; that the mothers are now separated from their babies and are only allowed to see them at certain times; and that this was resulting very well for both.

Mr. Marshall, for the Penal Institutions Department, said that there was nothing of general interest to report at this time; and for the Institutions Registration Department reported that things were moving smoothly, and called the attention of the members of the boards to the population and thermal charts which were placed on the walls of the Department, and regretted that the Overseers of the Poor had declined to put their work also upon the walls of that office. Mr. Fowler expressed the opinion of the Overseers of the Poor in regard to the matter, but, at Mr. Sedgwick's suggestion, he said that he would bring before his Board the consideration of the question as to furnishing the figures from the Temporary Home and the Wayfarers' Lodge.

The meeting adjourned at 4.25 P.M.

E. C. MARSHALL, Secretary.

(7.) HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, March 23, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

DEAR SIRS: The Board of Health would respectfully call your attention to the poor sanitary condition of the Dudley Street Grammar School-house, and say that repeated complaints, examinations and reports to the School Committee and the Superintendent of Public Buildings have been made without avail, and covering a period of several years. Another examination has been made within a few days which shows the continued bad condition of the ventilation, the plumbing and draining of the building.

There is a lack of traps, a defect in the drain, putty joints, insufficient flushing to water-closets, offensive odors from the basement and a want of repairs otherwise in the building and inefficient means of ventilation.

The Board of Health would respectfully, but earnestly recommend that the sanitary condition of this building be improved as soon as practicable.

Very respectfully,

The Board of Health,

SAMUEL H. DURGIN, Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on School-houses.

(8.) HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, March 24, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, CITY OF BOSTON.

GENTLEMEN: On complaint the Board of Health has examined the sanitary condition of the following school buildings and report as follows:

Winship School-house, Brighton — This is an old wooden building in fair state of repair, but the rooms are very much overcrowded. Ventilation is poor. The drainage is defective and the waste-pipes from the sinks appear to discharge into a cesspool in the yard. The drainage from the flush-vaults is connected with the sewer. The flush-vaults are too near the school-rooms, are offensive, and in cold weather are unfit for comfortable use by the children. Rain conductors, without traps, discharge into the flush-vaults and open at the roof in a direct line with the windows of the upper school-rooms.

Bennett School — The vault for this school is located in the yard, and the contents of the vault in the annex are discharged into it. This vault is constantly in a filthy and offensive condition, as the only means of flushing is by attaching a hose. The building is not heated and in cold weather is unfit for use by the children.

Annex to the Bennett School — Flush-vaults in basement defective and offensive. There are no means of ventilation from the basement where these vaults are located, and doors to basement are close to doors leading to the school-rooms from the lower floor, so that the odors from the basement permeate the school-rooms on this floor.

Very respectfully,

The Board of Health,

SAMUEL H. DURGIN, Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on School-houses.

(9.) HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Old Court House, March 20, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

GENTLEMEN: We beg to enclose statement of the last examination of the Weston-street Primary School-house, and suggest that measures should be taken without further delay for the improvement of the sanitary condition of the building.

Yours very truly,

The Board of Health,

SAMUEL H. DURGIN, Chairman.

Boston, February 2, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH:

GENTLEMEN: I have this day inspected premises, Weston-street Primary School, owned by City of Boston, and make the following report thereof:

Drainage — Defective in the cellar, also open iron drain in the yard.

Traps — No tray to set bowl in toilet-room on first floor; all other fixtures supplied.

Air-box — Metallic; inlet from yard.

Cellar — Fair.

Yard — Fair.

Water-closet — Fair.

Vault — Flush-vaults, in cellar, defective and offensive.

Soil-pipes — Ventilated.

Odors — Bad odors from vaults in the class-rooms on first floor.

Rain conductors — Connected with vaults and drains.

Radiators for heating southerly side of building, are located over the vaults, the air boxes are not tight, and odors from vaults are perceptible in the rooms on the first floor.

THOMAS A. CRAWFORD, Inspector.

Referred to the Committee on School-houses.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

March 9, 1899.

Ordered, That the School Committee, through His Honor the Mayor, be requested to give a public hearing to the citizens of East Boston in regard to the necessity of repairs and alterations in the Chapman School-house.

Passed. Sent up for concurrence.

In Board of Aldermen, March 13, concurred.

The resignation of one teacher, presented by the Superintendent of Schools, was accepted.

The Superintendent of Schools presented appointments and confirmations for the approval of the Board, certified by him to be in accordance with the Rules and Regulations as follows: The appointment of one special assistant, laid over under the rule; the appointment of one temporary teacher, placed on file; the appointment of one teacher on probation, laid over under the rule; and the confirmations of six teachers, laid over under the rule. Leave of absence was granted to thirteen teachers.

The Superintendent's appointment of Frederick A. Tupper, of Quincy, Mass., as Head Master of the Brighton High School, to date from April 10, 1899, was laid over under the rule. Under suspension of the rules Julia E. Dickson was appointed an assistant in the Dillaway School.

Mr. Aldrich, for the Committee on New Buildings, to whom was referred, January 24, an order requesting them to provide additional primary school accommodations in the Gaston District, reported that they have considered the matter, and recommend that no further action be taken for the present.

Accepted, and the recommendation of the committee adopted.

Mr. Aldrich, for the same committee, to whom was referred, February 28, a communication from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, notifying the School Committee that said Board is prepared to pass a loan appropriation order of approximately $500,000 for additional primary and grammar school accommodations, as soon as it receives sufficient information to enable it to make the appropriation by districts, reported that after careful consideration of the matter, your committee recommend the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be informed that it is the intention of the School Committee, if the sum of $500,000 shall be made available during the current year for additional primary and grammar school accommodations, to reserve the sum of $55,000 for completing and furnishing those buildings which are now in course of construction, exclusive of high schools, and to expend the remaining $445,000 for the new school accommodations as follows:

EAST BOSTON (WARDS 1 AND 2).
Fourteen-room grammar building	$95,000
CHARLESTOWN (WARDS 3, 4 AND 5).
Excess in cost of primary school site in Warren District over available appropriation. An appropriation of $50,000 for the building has already been made	10,000

Fourteen-room grammar building	100,000
Primary school site, Ward 20	5,000
SITES.
New sites were required in addition to those named	25,000
	$445,000

Accepted and the order passed.

Mr. Anderson, for the Committee on Rules and Regulations, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Regulations be amended as follows:

Section 183. Insert after the word "Board" in the fifth line of the third paragraph, the words "the Director of Drawing," so that the paragraph shall read as follows:

"Diplomas of graduation from all the schools shall be signed by the President of the Board and the Principal of the school, except that diplomas awarded to pupils in the evening drawing schools shall be signed by the President of the Board, the Director of Drawing and the Master of evening drawing schools. The diplomas shall be presented at the graduation exercises, by any member of the committee in charge, and, in their absence, by any other member of the Board, the Superintendent, a Supervisor, or the Principal."

Section 332. Strike out the words "and diplomas awarded to those pupils who, in the judgment of the Master, have completed the course creditably," so that the section shall read as follows:

"Section 332. A general exhibition shall be held at the close of the term. The date of the exhibition shall be determined by the Master, and announced in the schools not later than ten days prior to the close of the term."

Add the following to the chapter :

"Section 332. The Master shall award certificates of proficiency to those pupils at the close of the term, who in his judgment have completed the course creditably. The certificates shall be signed by the Chairman of the Committee on Evening Schools, and by the Master.

"A pupil satisfactorily completing the course of study shall be entitled to a diploma of graduation."

Passed to a second reading.

Mr. Anderson presented a report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations, in which he said:

"There have been advertised on leaflets for 'Thursday, April 20, 1899 at 4.30 and 7.45 auspices of Lyman Grammar School, for Lantern Slides, by permission of the Committee on School-houses, at the Lyman School Hall,' illustrated lectures by one C. H. French, on 'Cuba and the Maine,' and 'Klondike.' The facts relative to these proposed lectures are: Mr. French made an arrangement with the master of the Lyman School by which lectures were to be given in the school hall, advertised on leaflets as under the auspices of the Lyman School, tickets for admission to be put into the hands of the sub-master of the school, who should parcel them out to the pupils for sale among their parents and others, the pupils to receive, in free tickets 10 per cent. of the amount they sold, and the proceeds to be turned in by them to the sub-master. Of the proceeds, the lecturer was to have 40 per cent. and the master of the school 60 per cent. with which to purchase lantern slides for the use of the school. The master of the school advertised this lecture by publicly announcing it in the school hall when the whole school was assembled there, the pupils were told, in effect, that they were expected to do their best in disposing of the tickets, as a matter of patriotic service to the school, which was to share in the profits of the venture.

"Although this lecture is advertised to be 'By Permission of the Committee on School-houses,' the records of that committee do not disclose that the matter ever came before them.

"But, assuming that the lecture is a proper one to be given in the school hall, and that, if proper application had been made to the proper authority, permission would have been granted for such use, the most weighty objections to this scheme remain to be considered. Section 224 of the regulations provides: 'No contribution for any purpose shall be permitted in any public school.' Section 225 provides: 'No advertisement shall be read to the pupils of any school on the premises thereof, or be posted on the walls or fences of any school building; and no agent or other person shall be permitted to enter any school premises for the purpose of exhibiting, either to teachers or pupils, any book or article offered for sale. No lists of pupils shall be given by teachers to any person not an officer of the Board.'

"Seventy-five thousand children, gathered from many thousand homes, with names and addresses in the hands of teachers, offer an attractive field to the energetic and entertaining advertising agent. The number of school children is so large that small contributions from them, and from their parents, through them, aggregate a large sum. Consequently frequent attempts are made to exploit the public schools in behalf of various advertising schemes; and, under the guise of patriotism or charity, to levy what is practically taxation upon the children. So soon as any enterprise is advertised as being under the 'auspices of the school,' and the children are asked to contribute or to get contributions for that purpose, the school ceases to be a free school.

"Your committee have deemed it their duty to call this matter fully to the attention of the Board, not only because of the importance of the principles involved, but because masters of other schools, ambitious for further equipment, have desired to avail themselves of similar opportunities for money-raising; and, with justice, say that they see no reason why there should be discrimination between the schools.

"Your committee are of opinion that no variation should be allowed from the provisions of Sections 224 and 225, prohibiting contributions and advertisements in our schools. They would call to the attention of the members of the Board and of the masters of the schools the fact that these provisions have been deemed so important that no sub-committee of the Board has any authority to permit any variation therefrom. If for any reason it is ever desirable that contributions for any purpose shall be received, or that any scheme shall be advertised in our public schools, it ought to be done only after the fullest and most public consideration by this Board.

"Your committee therefore recommend that this report be adopted, as embodying the sense of the full Board relative to the importance of full compliance with the provisions of our regulations."

The report was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Mr. Coolidge for the Committee on Accounts presented the following:

March 28, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

The Committee on Accounts, to whom was referred, March 14, 1899, a communication from His Honor the Mayor, wherein he states the reasons for withholding his approval from the items in the appropriation order under the head of "Salaries of Janitors," on the ground that they did not show the distribution of the aggregate amount of said items, beg leave to report that they have considered the matter and have endeavored to meet as far as possible the views of His Honor.

They therefore recommend that that part of the appropriation relating to janitors be reconsidered, and the following order substituted therefor.

For the Committee on Accounts,

FRANCIS L. COOLIDGE, Chairman.

By a yea and nay vote, none of the members voting yea, the veto of the Mayor concerning the appropriation for janitors was sustained, and an order passed, which meets the approval of His Honor, setting forth the salary paid the janitor of each school building.

On motion of Mr. Strange, the question of nomination to the position of Instructor in Military Drill was taken from the table. Mr. Strange submitted the following candidates and moved that the board proceed to ballot: Lieut. Frank S. Wilson, Brighton; Lieut. Charles H. Brigham, Ernest R. Springer, Lieut. Oliver D. Greene, P. Frank Packard, William L. Fox, Maj. G. H. Benyon, Capt. Richard Robins.

Mr. McDonald put in nomination the name of Col. William H. Oakes, of Charlestown.

Eleven ballots were held without a choice — and the matter was laid over till the next meeting by a vote of yeas, 11; nays, 10.

The Chair read the following:

BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

March 28, 1899.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

At its meeting in February, 1899, the Boston Masters' Association considered the question: "Ought the annual school festival to continue?" and after an hour's discussion the following vote was passed:

Voted, To recommend that the school festival be omitted this year. In communicating this action to the School Committee, as I was requested to do by the Masters' Association, I would respectfully suggest that this matter be referred to the Committee on the Annual Festival when that committee is appointed.

EDWIN P. SEAVER,

Superintendent of Public Schools.

Referred to the Committee on Annual Festival, when appointed.

The Chair read the following:

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:

The Board of Supervisors respectfully submit their report on the following order, which was adopted by the School Committee on February 14, 1899:

"Ordered, That the Board of Supervisors be requested to report the number of male teachers in the day schools who are also employed in the evening schools, other than drawing schools, stating the length of time such instructors have severally served in the evening schools; and that they also consider and report upon the following propositions:

"(1.) To what, if any, extent it is advisable to employ male teachers in the day schools, as instructors in the evening schools?

"(2.) Whether or not it is advisable to limit the number of years during which a day school teacher may serve in the evening schools?

"(3.) Whether or not it is advisable in reducing the number of instructors in the evening schools as the attendance of pupils decreases during the term to give preference in continuance of employment to instructors not serving in the day schools."

They find that the number of teachers employed in the day schools of this city, who are also employed in the evening schools, other than drawing schools, of this city, is 21. They also find that such instructors have severally served in the evening schools as follows: One, one year; one, two years; three, three years; one, four years; three, five years; one, six years; two, seven years; two, eight years; one, nine years; two, ten years; one, eleven years; one, fourteen years; one, fifteen years; one nineteen years.

Having carefully considered the three propositions stated in the order, the Board of Supervisors have reached the following conclusions:

(1.) That it is advisable to employ sub-masters in the day schools as principals, and only as principals, of the evening elementary schools for a term not exceeding four years.

(2.) That it is advisable to employ, without restriction, in the evening schools male teachers in the day grammar schools who hold a rank below that of sub-master.

(3.) That it is advisable to employ day school male teachers of any rank except that of master in the evening high school to an extent not exceeding three evenings, a week, and without limit as to number of years.

(4.) That it is not advisable to give preference in continuance of employment to instructors not serving in day schools, but that this matter should be left to the discretion of the principal of the school, subject to the approval of the Committee on Evening Schools, to be determined as the best interests of the school require.

EDWIN P. SEAVER,

Chairman Board of Supervisors.

Referred to the Committee on Evening Schools.

Ordered, That the Committee on School-houses be requested to investigate the sanitary condition of the Dudley Grammar School and make such repairs and alterations as may be necessary to improve the same.

The Board adjourned at 10.25 P.M. to April 11, at 7.30 P.M.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

The following are the records of a meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment:

A meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment was held on March 31, 1899, at 4 P.M., in the Mayor's Office, City Hall.

Present: All the members.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Kiley moved that it be placed upon the record that, if he had been present at the last meeting, he would have voted against the approval of the transfer of $2,900, from the Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Mayor; carried.

The five following papers were received:

A petition of Annie B. Crocker et al., and other petitions, in favor of an appropriation for asphaltting Carver street.

An order requesting an appropriation of $10,000 for the construction of a tunnel under the tracks of the Boston Elevated Railway Company at Travers street.

An order requesting an appropriation of $100,000, for street improvements in Wards 16, 20 and 24.

An order requesting an appropriation of $750, for clock in head-house of South Ferry, Boston side; $750 for dredging a channel for small boats at Jeffries' Point, East Boston, and $1,500, for the construction of a flight of steps from Leyden street to Gladstone street.

A communication from the Superintendent of Streets endorsing the petition of the Boston Associated Board of Trade, that certain streets in the business section of Boston be paved, etc.

The above were severally placed on file.

A communication was received from the Mayor transmitting a letter from the Trustees for Children calling attention to an accident which had occurred at the House of Reformation through the falling of a large hanging lamp, and urging the necessity of an appropriation for an electric lighting plant, in order to eliminate the danger from oil lamps; also a communication from the Mayor requesting the passage of an order making an appropriation for said purpose.

The communications were placed on file, and Mr. Kiley moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of four thousand (4,000) dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Trustees for Children in establishing an electric lighting plant at Rainsford Island; and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The order was passed; yeas, 5:

Yeas—Messrs. Sullivan, Minot, Barry, Kiley, and Mayor Quincy—5.

The order was signed by all the members of the Board, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

A communication was received from Mr. Henry M. Whitney, inviting the members of the Board to visit the works of the New England Gas & Coke Company at Everett, in connection with the question of an appropriation for widening the draw of Chelsea bridge.

A communication was also received from Mayor Quincy requesting the passage of an order making an appropriation for widening the said bridge.

The communications were placed on file.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan, the Board voted that a hearing be given in regard on the matter, and that City Engineer William Jackson be requested to appear before the Board, to give information on the subject.

After the said hearing, the Board went into executive session, and Mr. Barry moved the adoption of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of thirty thousand (30,000) dollars be appropriated to be expended by the Engineering Department in widening Chelsea bridge draw opening, at the north draw, from its present width of 45 feet to 60 feet, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds of the City of Boston to said amount for said purpose.

The order was passed—Yeas, 4; nay, 1.

Yeas—Messrs. Sullivan, Barry, Kiley, and Mayor Quincy—4.

Nay—Mr. Minot 1.

The order was signed by all the members of the Board, they certifying upon the original order that the said appropriation is not to meet a current expense.

(The total cost of widening the Chelsea Bridge draw to 60 feet will be $45,000. Mr. Henry M. Whitney, President of the New England Gas and Coke Company has already offered to contribute $10,000 towards this expense if the city would appropriate the balance needed, and the appropriation was passed at this figure in the hope that his contribution might be increased to meet the whole expenditure above $30,000.)

A communication was received from Mayor Quincy transmitting a communication from the City Auditor stating that, subject to the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, he had transferred the sum of $14,000 from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to the appropriation for Printing Department.

On motion of Mr. Minot, the Board voted to give a hearing in regard to the matter, and Mr. Thomas A. Whalen, Superintendent of Printing, and Mr. James H. Dodge, City Auditor, were heard.

The Board then went into executive session, and, on motion of Mr. Barry, it was

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The following order has been promulgated by the Board of Police:

April, 1, 1899.

General Order No. 587.

I. Whereas, It appears that Patrolman George H. Hobson, of Headquarters, has performed faithful service in the Police Department for twenty-four years; that he is an honorably discharged soldier of the War of the Rebellion; and that he has requested to be retired from active service under the provisions of Chapter 172 of the Acts of 1898, it is, therefore, hereby Ordered, That the said Patrolman Hobson be retired from active service in the Police Department, and placed upon the pension roll, and allowed the sum of $600 per annum, to be paid monthly; said sum being one-half of the amount of compensation received by him at the time of his retirement.

II. This order will take effect at 7.45 A.M., Monday, third instant.

EXPENDITURES OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The thirty-first Annual Report of the Committee on Accounts constitutes School Document No. 2, 1899, from which the following statements are taken:

The sum estimated by the committee as requisite for carrying on the schools during the year ending January 31, 1899, was $2,690,000, including $250,000 for repairs and alterations; but the sum granted by the City Council was $2,470,000.

Chapter 400 of the Acts of 1898, which took effect May 7, 1898, provides that appropriations for the support of public schools of Boston, including repairs and alterations on school buildings, shall be included within the tax limit, and "shall not exceed in the aggregate upon each $1,000 of the average valuation of the taxable property in said city, as ascertained under the provisions of law limiting the rate of taxation in said city, the following sums for the periods specified, to wit: For the financial year ending on January 31, in the year 1899, $2.80; for the financial year ending on January 31, in the year 1900, $2.85, and for the financial year ending on January 31, in the year 1901, and for each financial year thereafter, $2.90."

Under the act cited the amount allowed the School Committee for the year 1898-99, including an estimated income of $36,000, was $2,700,589. This amount was larger by $230,589 than that granted by the City Council, and $10,589 in excess of the amount requested in the estimates for the year.

The ordinary expenses for the past year were as follows:

Salaries of instructors	$1,963,255 18
Salaries of officers	70,645 28
Salaries of janitors	147,777 48
Fuel, gas and water	102,935 86

Supplies and incidentals:

Books	$54,325 53
Printing	9,110 79
Stationery and drawing materials	23,410 70
Miscellaneous items	51,485 91

School-house repairs, etc.	138,332 93
	249,973 69

Expended from the appropriation	$2,672,920 42
From income of Gibson and other funds	3,050 69

Total expenditure	$2,675,971 11
Total income	42,210 35

Net expenditure, School Committee	$2,633,760 76
---	----------------

The net expenses of the School Committee, compared with those for 1897-98, show an increase of $191,601.15.

The average number of pupils belonging to the different grades the past year was 83,008. The average cost per pupil amounted to $31.73; an increase, as compared with that of the previous year, of $1.82 per pupil.

The net amount expended for high schools, including a pro rata share of the general expenses and of the income, was $478,988.93; average number of pupils belonging, 5,609 (exclusive of 105 non-resident pupils); average cost per pupil, $85.40. The net amount expended for grammar schools was $1,250,093.72; number of pupils, 38,059; cost per pupil, $32.85. The net amount expended for primary schools was $691,451.38; number of pupils, 29,666; cost per pupil, $23.31. The net amount expended for evening schools was $68,436.96; number of pupils, 5,064; cost per pupil, $13.51. The net amount expended for evening drawing schools was $19,397.45; number of pupils, 566; cost per pupil, $34.27. The net amount expended for the Horace Mann School was $9,940.15; number of pupils, 116; cost per pupil, $85.69. The net amount expended for kindergartens was $110,119.23; number of pupils, 3,807; cost per pupil, $28.93.

The gross expenses for the past year, compared with those for 1897-98, show a variation in the different items of the appropriation as follows:

Salaries of instructors, increased,	$146,037 18
Salaries of officers, increased . .	1,260 28
Salaries of janitors, increased . .	8,557 19
Fuel, gas and water, increased . .	6,919 57
Supplies and incidentals, increased . .	7,571 31
School-house repairs, etc., increased . .	20,032 42
Gibson and other funds, increased,	1,146 39

Total increase, gross . . . $191,524 34

The total expenditure for the public schools, including new school-houses, for the past year was as follows:

School Committee, salaries and incidentals	$2,422,946 73
School Committee, Gibson and other funds	3,050 69
School Committee, repairs, etc.	249,973 69
School Committee, permanent improvements in school-houses (special)	42,063 80
School Committee, new school-houses (special)	584,452 13

Total gross expenditure . . .	$3,302,487 04
Less income for the year . . .	42,210 35

Total net expenditure . . . $3,260,276 69

The city has expended during the past thirty years the sum of $9,711,382 for new school-houses, a yearly average of $323,712.

During the past five years the average cost has been $545,975.74. Notwithstanding this large increase in the expenditure for new buildings, it has hardly kept pace with the demand, as shown by the fact that a greater sum, viz., $33,736, has been spent the past year for rent and taxes of hired accommodations than in any preceding year.

Another fact bearing upon this subject should not be overlooked, namely, that it requires nearly double the amount of money to house a given number of pupils than was needed thirty years ago. This is due to a variety of causes, principally stricter building laws and the demand for modern conveniences which did not then exist.

The following shows the variation in the number of pupils and in salaries in the different grades for the past year, compared with those for 1897-98:

High schools, pupils increased 397; salaries increased	$28,410 43
Grammar schools, pupils increased 830; salaries increased	64,445 57

Primary schools, pupils increased 981; salaries increased	$37,149 32
Horace Mann School, pupils increased 7; salaries increased	1,238 72
Kindergartens, pupils decreased 57; salaries increased	8,440 59
Evening schools, pupils decreased 831; salaries decreased	461 50
Evening drawing schools, pupils increased 50; salaries increased	1,265 00
Manual training schools, salaries increased	5,903 16
Special teachers, salaries decreased,	354 11
Spectacle Island, pupils decreased 7.
Total increase in pupils, 1,370; in salaries, $146,037.18.

The number of regular instructors on the pay-rolls January 1, 1899, was 1,760, divided among the several grades of schools as follows: High schools, 185; grammar schools, 816; primary schools, 565; Horace Mann School, 13; kindergartens, 135; manual training, including cookery, 46, an increase of 76 regular instructors since January 1, 1898.

In addition there have been 108 temporary teachers and 75 special assistants employed in the day schools, an average of 211 instructors in the evening and evening drawing schools, and 73 special instructors, including 39 teachers of sewing, making a total of 2,227 instructors on the pay-rolls during the year.

The amount paid for salaries of instructors the past year was $1,963,255.18, which shows an increase over that of the previous year of $146,037.18, about one-third of which is due to the natural growth of the schools, and the balance to the additional compensation paid teachers under the revised salary schedule in operation since September 1, 1896.

Ten years ago the cost for this item was $1,274,349.17, showing that an increase of about 54 per cent. has taken place during the time, although the number of pupils has increased only about 29 per cent.

The male instructors in the high schools, including the principals, receive an average salary just about double that paid to the female instructors; and in the grammar schools the average salary of a male instructor is three times that of a female instructor.

During the year $73,236.97 were paid for instruction by special teachers.

The cost for the salaries of 175 janitors the past year, including that paid for washing school-house floors during the summer vacation, was $147,777.48, an increase, as compared with the previous year, of $8,557.19. The average salary paid to janitors was $844.44, which, in the opinion of the committee, is only a fair sum for the amount and quality of the work required.

The following table shows the expenditures made for carrying on the schools, exclusive of furniture, repairs and new school-houses, during the past five years:

YEAR.	Expenditures. (Dollars.)	Income. (Dollars.)	Net Expenditures. (Dollars.)	No. of Pupils.	Rate per Pupil. (Dollars.)
1894-95	1,885,537 38	38,604 35	1,846,933 03	73,603	25 09
1895-96	1,964,760 76	39,181 66	1,925,579 10	74,666	25 79
1896-97	2,077,377 56	39,500 83	2,037,876 73	78,167	26 07
1897-98	2,254,505 50	42,287 16	2,212,218 34	81,638	27 10
1898-99	2,425,907 42	42,210 35	2,383,787 07	83,008	28 72

From the foregoing table it will be seen that the running expenses, exclusive of repairs, were $1.62 more per pupil than for the previous year.

In the following table the total expenditure incurred by the School Committee, exclusive of repairs, in the past five years is divided into the five items which go to make up the appropriation:

YEAR.	Salaries Instructors. (Dollars.)	Salaries Officers. (Dollars.)	Salaries Janitors. (Dollars.)	Fuel, Gas and Water. (Dollars.)	Supplies and Incidentals. (Dollars.)
1894-95	1,495,799 61	58,970 00	118,336 49	77,291 91	96,535 02
1895-96	1,548,910 75	62,454 50	123,871 31	75,900 29	114,442 25
1896-97	1,628,510 68	66,290 84	131,560 50	82,804 09	128,710 62
1897-98	1,779,039 35	69,385 00	139,220 29	96,016 29	128,557 41
1898-99	1,926,974 94	70,645 28	147,777 48	102,935 86	135,453 51

The following table shows the cost of repairs made and furniture provided during the five years ending 1898-99. It also includes payment for hired accommodations:

YEAR.	Expenditures. (Dollars.)	Income. (Dollars.)	Net Expenditures. (Dollars.)	No. of Pupils.	Rate per Pupil. (Dollars.)
1894-95	214,252 47	25 00	214,227 47	73,603	2 91
1895-96	250,107 13	—	250,107 13	74,666	3 35
1896-97	225,973 76	937 68	225,036 08	78,167	2 88
1897-98	229,941 27	—	229,941 27	81,638	2 81
1898-99	249,973 69	—	249,973 69	83,008	3 01

The foregoing tables include all the running expenses of the schools, and form the basis for computing the rate per pupil. The total running expenses, compared with those for 1898-99, show an increase in the rate of $1.82 per pupil.

Overcrowding of Theatres.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 3, 1899.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN:

I transmit herewith for your information a communication from the Board of Police, with enclosure, on the subject of overcrowding theatres.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

March 28, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I send you herewith copy of correspondence between J. C. S. Taber and the counsel for the Board of Police, on the subject of overcrowding theatres, and especially with reference to crowding passageways leading to exits.

As the Board of Aldermen have the licensing power and the theatres are under their charge, we thought it proper that you should be informed on this subject so that the Board of Aldermen could make such rules and regulations as they deem necessary.

Yours very truly,

A. P. MARTIN, Chairman.

Allston, March 26, 1899.

BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS:

GENTLEMEN: I wish to call your attention to the dangerous crowding of the upper gallery of the Boston Theatre, not only allowed, but encouraged by the management of that house, on the night of February 9, 1899, during the performance of "Carmen" by the Ellis Opera Company. The seating capacity of this portion of the house was oversold by 200 at least, and these people and others who took unsatisfactory seats near the stage, stood in the passageways, as shown in the accompanying rough plan. The writer occupied a seat near "X," and was in a position to see all the facts he states. A friend of undoubted integrity was unable to get inside the auditorium at all, and made the statement given hereafter in regard to the police officer.

There is but one entrance to the upper gallery of the Boston Theatre. It is wide enough in itself and gives reasonable means of exit to the occupants of about one-third of the seats, those on the left. Four rows back of the gallery railing there is a passageway leading across the whole width of the house and wide enough most of the way for two people to walk abreast. On one side of this passage are the backs of the seats and on the other side a raised platform for other seats. The feet of those occupying these seats come to the front edge of this platform in front of which there is no railing. There is a large post at the entrance to this passageway, leading to the right so that the exit to about two-thirds of the seats is reduced to room for only one person, at a point about fifteen feet from the gallery door. The other gallery floors of this house have passageways back of the seats of such width and position that they are not liable to be used as standing room to a dangerous degree. In the upper gallery all the passageways are within the auditorium. What happened on the evening of February 9, 1899, is as follows: Tickets far in excess of the seating capacity of this part of the house were sold. In fact the crowd was so large in the ticket lobby that the doors were opened fifteen minutes or more before the usual time to allow would-be purchasers to get to the box-office windows. Women were not only jammed on the stairs, as is unavoidable in such a mass of crowding people, but were subjected to the "battering-ram tactics" of the football flying wedge indulged in by a party of twenty-year-old hoodlums in respectable apparel. There was no one at hand to stop this outrageous action, and it was continued to the top of the stairs. Once in, the crowd took possession of the good seats and the aisles down to the railing.

They did not sit down. They stood in the cross passage and jammed the entrance until an usher came in and filled up the seats in the "chute" at the extreme rear. He made no attempt to clear the passageways, and at the time he left the gallery the condition was about as shown. When the performance began, those occupying seats at the right of the entrance stood up, and the crowd in the entrance-way crowded in with them, so that there was a solid jam of people from the wall to the post "A," which completely cut off all means of exit in this direction. No attempt was made by the officer to clear this away, nor was he inside the auditorium.

During the performance a woman standing in the northerly part of the gallery, near "B," became faint, and an attempt was made to get her out. As the aisle was blocked, some men who were with her pounded on the exit door on that side of the house, but to no purpose, and, finally, attempted to cross to the other side of the house. By walking on the platform over the feet of those sitting they reached the crowd of people at the post, where it was necessary to use argument before those standing there would make the slightest effort to allow them to pass. I would like to know what the additional exits are for, and where the keys are kept. Why those farthest from the street are subjected to a threefold risk in case of a stampede, and why the management are allowed to sell tickets to people who not only fill all the seats, but overflow out on to the stairs where they can neither see nor hear. To-morrow night another opera season opens by the company who last year filled the Mechanics' Building. That building will accommodate from 30 to 50 per cent. more people than the Boston Theatre. It is safe to say that the crowds attending this week and next will be greater than those to witness the performance by the Ellis Company.

That means that the condition I have described will be repeated several times unless prevented by law. I would like to attend these performances, but I consider the risk in doing so greater than I ought to undergo. Should any alarm be aroused with the crowd, as I saw it, there would have been a terrible stampede, in which broken limbs and bruised bodies, or worse, would reach an appalling figure. I have attended the opera for several years and sit very near the entrance where I can see every movement of the officer. His duties are performed in a very perfunctory manner, and the crowd is seldom made to clear the passageways. They are sometimes made to make an opening, but if it is closed up again the officer seems to feel that he has performed his duty and does nothing about it.

Respectfully,

J. C. S. TABER.

Electric Plant. — Rainsford Island.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 3, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith copy of a communication received by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment from the Trustees for Children, urging the necessity of making provision for electric lighting in the House of Reformation on Rainsford Island, together with an order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, appropriating four thousand (4,000) dollars for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

CHILDREN'S INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

32 Tremont Street, March 24, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

DEAR SIR: I enclose herewith a letter received by the Board of Trustees in relation to a matter which might have resulted very seriously.

The Board feel that they cannot assume the responsibility for the recurrence of such an accident, and therefore would respectfully ask that the present lamps be replaced by electric lights.

The Board has voted that iron fire-escapes be placed upon the building, and that the needed apparatus for forcing water be established; and also that the small boys should be removed into the building formerly occupied by the summer hospital.

In this connection, I would say in reply to your favor of the twentieth instant, that the majority of the Board is unwilling to grant the use of the buildings formerly occupied by the summer hospital to that Institution, feeling that the buildings are needed for the younger boys of the House of Reformation.

Believe me,

Very respectfully yours,

H. A. LAMB, Chairman.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION.

March 21, 1899.

TO THE TRUSTEES FOR CHILDREN:

In connection with my report to you regarding the accident of March 1, 1899, I wish to make the following recommendations:

(1.) A safe system of electric lighting should be put in for the whole island, thus eliminating the danger from oil lamps.

(2.) A pump should be placed in the boiler-room, of sufficient power to force a good stream of water to the upper floors.

(3.) The small boys, now in the attic, should be removed to the building at the other end of the island, formerly used for a summer hospital, thus placing them out of danger, relieving the overcrowding, and at the same time separating them from the older boys, which latter is much to be desired.

Under these conditions no boys would be more than two flights (22 feet) from the ground, with ample means of exit at each end of the building, one of them a wide iron stairway, with broad landings, built in a brick well. There would be modern and available means of extinguishing a fire, with but little possibility of any occurring.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. ANTHONY,

Superintendent.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION.

TO THE TRUSTEES FOR CHILDREN OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

It is my duty to report to you an event which in its outcome was unimportant, but the possibilities of which were appalling.

On the evening of March 1, 1899, just after the boys had retired, one of the lady teachers started to put out the light of the large hanging lamp in her school-room. This lamp had been in position all day, and had been lighted all the evening, and was apparently perfectly secure, but the usual means of extinguishing the light brought the large fountain to the floor, barely missing the teacher and one of the matrons who was present. The oil spread rapidly and at once ignited. No outcry was made, but the officers were quietly summoned and two streams of water from the hose, and three fire extinguishers were playing on the flames within three minutes, with hardly a word being spoken. The fire was subdued after scorching the floor and two desks, and burning the books in these desks. The flames and smoke at once attracted the attention of the boys in the dormitories, and but for the energetic work of the watchmen and instructor of athletics, aided by some of the larger boys who kept their heads, a panic certainly would have taken place.

I cannot speak too highly of the prompt and efficient manner in which the whole affair was handled by my officers, or of the quiet bravery shown by the two ladies present, but I feel that after such a warning the conditions here should be fully known and realized by all in any way responsible for this Institution.

This accident occurred by the hand of a careful officer, and was, I believe, practically unavoidable. It happened under most favorable conditions, when the officers were at hand, when the boys were not present, on the second floor where the water pressure is fairly good, and where the hose could be brought close to the flames. However, under a hundred other probable conditions, the results would be most disastrous.

I need not here set forth the dangers attendant upon the use of kerosene oil for lighting purposes, as they are acknowledged. The water pressure on all the floors is practically useless, as no stream could be thrown to any distance. On the upper floors it is especially low. Precautions such as water buckets, which are always full, and hand grenades and extinguishers, which are always at hand, would be useless in any extended conflagration. The position of the younger boys, who are obliged, by our crowded condition, to sleep in the attic on the fourth floor, is especially dangerous.

For these reasons I deem it imperative upon the honor and consciences of those who have it in their power to eliminate, as far as possible, the imminent dangers from fire which threaten the inmates of this Institution, and with this report I feel justified in saying that, while I shall do all in my power to guard against them, I can no longer, under present conditions, take the responsibility for any future accidents of this nature.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. ANTHONY, Superintendent.

Chelsea Bridge,—Widening of Draw.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 3, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith an order passed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at its meeting on March 31, appropriating thirty thousand (30,000) dollars, for widening the north draw of the Chelsea bridge.

The estimated cost of widening this draw to 60 feet amounts to $45,000. Mr. Henry M. Whitney, on behalf of the New England Gas and Coke Company, has already offered to contribute the sum of $10,000 towards this widening, and the appropriation was passed at the figure above named in the hope that this contribution might be increased to cover the whole difference of $15,000.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

Watering of Streets.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

City Hall, April 3, 1899.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

I transmit herewith a communication from the Superintendent of Streets, which explains itself. I desire to emphasize the urgency of this matter, and to express the hope that immediate action will be taken on it. Until the necessary action is taken by the City Council, the responsibility for neglect to water the streets will rest with the City Council, and not with the Street Department, as that Department cannot proceed without authority.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

STREET DEPARTMENT.

City Hall, April 3, 1899.

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Mayor.

SIR: I beg to call your attention to the fact that no authority has been granted to this Department by the City Council to water the streets during the current year, as required by Chapter 419 of the Acts of 1897. Until such authority is granted, it is not possible for this Department to make the proper arrangements, and I would say that we are now greatly handicapped by the delay. The street-watering season has already begun, and unless immediate action is taken by the City Council there will be very general and proper complaint from the citizens, who must suffer from the dust nuisance until this Department is authorized to furnish relief.

Yours very respectfully,

BENJ. W. WELLS,
Superintendent of Streets.
